

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

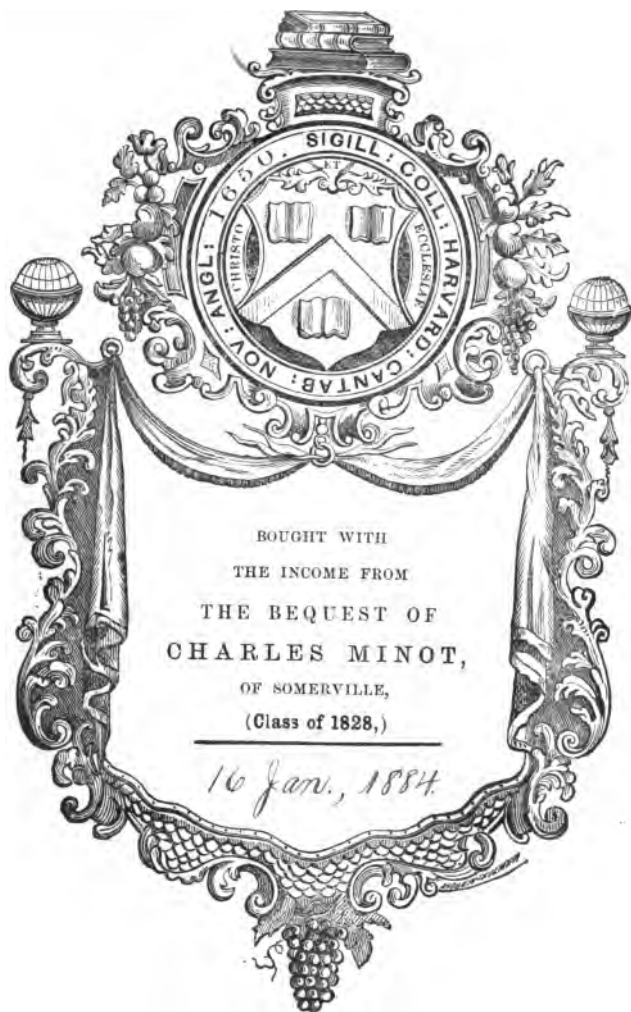

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PREFACE.

THE present volume is issued in succession to a work of which, under the title of THE OXFORD TEN YEAR BOOK, two editions have been already published ; the first in 1863, the second in 1872. That work was originally compiled with the object of relieving the University Calendar of a mass of matter in the shape of early class-lists and long catalogues of University Officers, Professors, Scholars, and Prizemen, which could no longer be retained in it without adding unduly to its bulk, and of bringing together in one view, by means of an index, all the academical distinctions of every person whose name occurred in the book. It was intended that a new edition should be published once in every ten years, and be made complete to the commencement of the decade in which it appeared.

As it is proposed that the present work shall be published annually, the former title is no longer appropriate, and THE HONOURS REGISTER OF THE UNIVERSITY OF OXFORD has been adopted in its stead.

The work has been brought down to the end of Trinity Term, 1883. The lines laid down in the Ten Year Book have been in the main followed, but a few articles, containing information for which the University Statutes or the University Calendar may be more appropriately consulted, have been omitted.

Every care has been taken to render the book accurate ; but in dealing with upwards of fourteen thousand names, spread over a period of more than six hundred and fifty years, it is hardly possible that some mistakes should not have been made. It will be deemed a favour if notes of any errors are addressed to the Editor at the Clarendon Press, Oxford.

THE HONOURS REGISTER

OF THE UNIVERSITY OF OXFORD.

THE UNIVERSITY OF OXFORD.

THE University of Oxford is a corporate body, known for ages by the style or title of The Chancellor, Masters, and Scholars of the University of Oxford; a title confirmed by the Legislature itself in the reign of Queen Elizabeth<sup>1</sup>. Its ancient privileges have been recognised and augmented by a long succession of Royal Charters from the earliest period; and these Charters themselves have been sanctioned by Parliament<sup>2</sup>; for in an Act, intituled "An Act for the Incorporation of the two Universities," it is expressly declared, that all Letters Patent of preceding Sovereigns granted to the University of Oxford "shall be good, effectual, and available in law, according to the form, words, sentences, and true meaning of every of the said Letters Patent, as amply, fully, and largely, as if the same Letters Patent were recited verbatim" in the Act itself.

With the exception of rare interventions on the part of the Crown, the University had, until about the middle of the present century, always been governed by statutes of its own making. In the course of centuries, such statutes, made from time to time, as occasions seemed to call for them, without sufficient reference to previous enactments, grew into a confused mass without order or arrangement, with which many of the usages of the University were at variance. Many attempts were made to remedy this evil, and at length in the Chancellorship of Archbishop Laud a digested code of laws, compiled by special delegates, was ratified by Convocation under the title of Corpus Statutorum Universitatis Oxoniensis, which is the basis of the present Statute-book.

From the completion of the Laudian code in 1636 to the passing of the Act for reforming the University in 1854<sup>3</sup>, and even before that period, the University effected its legislation, and transacted the whole of its business as a corporation, in two distinct assemblies, the HOUSES OF CONGREGATION and OF CONVOCATION.

<sup>1</sup> "Be it therefore enacted by the authority of this present Parliament, that the Right Honourable Robert Earl of Leicester, now Chancellor of the said University of Oxford, and his successors for ever, and the Masters and Scholars of the same University of Oxford for the time being, shall be incorporate and have a perpetual succession in fact, deed, and name, in the name of The Chancellor, Masters, and Scholars of the University of Oxford; and that the same Chancellor, Masters, and Scholars of the same University for the time being from henceforth by the name of The Chancellor, Masters, and Scholars of the University of Oxford, and by none other name or names, shall be called and named for evermore." Stat. 13 Eliz. c. 20.

The HOUSE OF CONGREGATION consists wholly of Regents, whether "necessario regentes" or "regentes ad placitum." All Doctors of every faculty, and all Masters of Arts, are necessary regents for the space of two years after their admission to regency, that is, for two years from the end of the Term in which they are admitted to their respective degrees, Easter and Act Terms being counted as one. Persons of the following descriptions, being members of Convocation, are regentes ad placitum: all Professors; all Doctors of every faculty resident in the University; all Heads of Colleges and Halls, or, in their absence, their deputies; the Public Examiners, Moderators, and Masters of the Schools; the Deans or Censors of Colleges; and the Censor of Students not belonging to any College or Hall, or his deputy. The term regent imports government or superintendence in the Public Schools of the University over the disputations and other academical exercises which in ancient times were performed there. Necessary regents were bound in rotation, regents ad placitum were at liberty when they pleased, to superintend those exercises, and to examine candidates for degrees. The House of Congregation therefore comprises all those persons who in ancient times were specially charged with the education and discipline of the University, whether in public or within the several Colleges and Halls.

The HOUSE OF CONVOCATION consists both of Regents and Non-Regents, that is, of all persons who have been admitted to regency, provided that, from the time of their admission to the degree which made them regents, their names have been constantly kept on the books of some College or Hall or on the Register of Students not belonging to any College or Hall, and that they have borne all burdens and paid all fees required of them by the Statutes. Masters of Arts and Doctors, who, having ceased to be members of the University, have had their names again placed upon the books of some College or Hall, or on the Register of Students not belonging to any College or Hall, or who have been incorporated from Cambridge or Dublin, may, after the performance of certain conditions, claim to be admitted to the House; but no such person is entitled to vote in Convocation before the expiration of one hundred and eighty days from the time of his admission. The same rule applies to those who have been admitted to the degree of Master of Arts or Doctor in any of the three faculties by Diploma or by Decree of Convocation; but a degree merely honorary, being conferred "honoris causa" only, conveys no right of voting.

The Chancellor, or the Vice-Chancellor, or one of his four deputies, and the two Proctors, or their respective deputies, preside in both Houses; and their presence in them on all occasions is indispensably requisite. The number of regents required to make a Congregation is nine at the least, besides the Vice-Chancellor and Proctors: for a Convocation no particular number of members is required. In both Houses the Chancellor or Vice-Chancellor singly, and the two Proctors jointly, have the right to stop all matters, except elections, by an absolute negative: otherwise every question is decided by the majority of votes.

For the better government of the University, a sort of Council, devised probably by Archbishop Laud, was instituted in 1631 by King Charles I. It consisted of the Heads of Houses and the Proctors, and, from being appointed to hold a weekly meeting every Monday, became known by the name of the HEBDOMADAL BOARD; but it was convened by the Vice-Chancellor on other days also, as occasion required. The business of this Board was to deliberate on all matters relating to the maintenance of the privileges and liberties of the University, or to the due observance of its statutes and customs, and generally to consider and discuss every measure tending to the improvement or benefit of the University before such measure should be submitted for the approval of the whole academical body in Convocation assembled. It thus had the initiative in all the legislation of the University, and in fact no question of any sort could be submitted to the votes of Convocation without the sanction of this Board.

In this constitution of the University the Act of Parliament of 1854 above referred to (17 and 18 Vict. c. 81) made a considerable change. It left indeed, at least it has been interpreted as having left, the two ancient assemblies of Congregation and Convocation: but it added a third, which is now called, in the terms of the Act, the CONGREGATION OF THE UNIVERSITY OF OXFORD; and it transferred all the "powers, privileges, and functions" of the old Hebdomadal Board to another body of persons, called the HEBDOMADAL COUNCIL.

A Register of the persons of whom this new CONGREGATION consists is made and published by the Vice-Chancellor every year before the 25th day of September. It comprises certain official persons, and all those members of Convocation who resided within one mile and a-half of Carfax for twenty weeks during the year which ended on the first day of September last. The Chancellor or Vice-Chancellor, with the Proctors, preside at its meetings, as in the two ancient Houses. No particular number of members is requisite to make a meeting.

THE HEBDOMADAL COUNCIL consists of some official and some elected members. The official members are the Chancellor, the Vice-Chancellor, the late Vice-Chancellor (for one year at least from the expiration of his term of office), and the two Proctors. The elected members are six Heads of Colleges or Halls, six Professors, and six other members of Convocation, who however may be Heads of Houses or Professors, and the six Professors may be Heads of Houses. These persons are elected by the Congregation of the University of Oxford for six years, in such a manner that one-half of each of the three classes vacate their seats every three years, being, however, capable of re-election. To this Council, as has been stated above, "all powers, privileges, and functions possessed or exercised by the Hebdomadal Board" have been transferred, and therefore it has the initiative in all the legislation of the University.

The ancient HOUSE OF CONGREGATION has now nothing to do with legislation in any form, and its business is confined almost exclusively to the granting of degrees, a matter upon which in ancient times the persons of whom the House is composed were necessarily the fittest judges<sup>1</sup>. When a student has passed all the Examinations, kept all the Terms, and reached the Standing required by the statutes, and has obtained the grace, or permission, of his own College or Hall, it is still necessary for him to supplicate the grace of this House in order to his admission to any degree. And, when a supplicat (as it is called) is read out, every member of the House has the power to suspend the granting of the grace three times, in three distinct Congregations, without giving any reason for his negative; but after the third refusal he is required to state privately to the Vice-Chancellor and Proctors the ground and proof of his objection, which are to be submitted to the judgment of the whole House at the next Congregation without any publication of the objector's name, and the question is then decided by a majority of votes, unless the Vice-Chancellor singly, or the two Proctors jointly, should interpose the negative which is allowed to them officially on every matter proposed in Congregation. Should the grace be thus refused the fourth time, a full year must pass before the candidate may apply for it again. The actual suspension of a grace, however, is a thing now almost unknown, but the threat of it is said to be sometimes employed in order to compel payment of debts.

The business of the new CONGREGATION OF THE UNIVERSITY OF OXFORD, on the other hand, is confined almost exclusively to matters of legislation. When the Hebdomadal Council has framed any new Statute, it must first be promulgated, after due notice, in this assembly, and the question that the principle of the Statute as stated in the Preamble be approved must then be submitted to Congregation. Any members of Congregation may propose amendments at the time of promulgation; and such amendments, provided that they have been seconded by another member of Congregation, and that they are not in the judgment of the Chancellor or his Deputy inconsistent with or irrelevant to the principle of the Statute as stated in the Preamble, must be printed and taken into consideration at a subsequent meeting of Congregation. The Council may at the same time and on the same paper print any amendments which they may think fit to propose. If any such amendments, whether proposed by the Council or by individual members of Congregation, are adopted by Congregation, it is in the power of either the Council or any twelve members of Congregation to propose further amendments. If no amendment be proposed, or when all the proposed amendments and further amendments, if any, have been considered in Congregation, the question that the Statute do pass is submitted to Congregation on a subsequent day, of which not less than three clear days' notice must be given. Whenever it may seem expedient to the Council, resolutions containing the chief points of a proposed Statute may be submitted to Congregation before the Statute itself is framed: and in the event of such Resolutions being approved, Congregation may refer them to a select Committee for the purpose of drawing up a Statute. No right of negative is allowed to the Vice-Chancellor or the Proctors in this assembly, but every question is decided by the majority of votes. A Statute approved by Congregation is to be submitted to Convocation after an interval of seven entire days for final adoption or rejection.

In the HOUSE OF CONVOCATION, consisting (as may be said) of all Masters of Arts and all Doctors of the three superior faculties who have their names upon the books of some College or Hall or on the register of Students not belonging to any College or Hall, every formal act of the University, and all its business as a corporate body, except only what relates to the granting of ordinary degrees, is done and concluded. Statutes, which have passed Congregation, do not become binding enactments until they have had the assent of this assembly. Matters of special or individual concern, and such as require immediate provision, are settled by Decree of Convocation. Honorary Degrees are given by consent of Convocation, and it is in this House also that eminent persons occasionally receive degrees conferred out of the ordinary course either by Decree or by Diploma. Petitions to Parliament, and other documents which require the common seal of the University for their validity, here receive the sanction of the academical body. No proposition, however, whether general or special, can originate in Convocation itself, either as a substantive measure, or as an amendment to such a measure: nothing is brought forward here but what has been devised and approved by the Hebdomadal Council; and Convocation has only to accept it in the very terms in which it is proposed, or to reject it altogether.

It is in Convocation also that nearly all elections to offices in the gift of the University take place. Elections of Burgesses are conducted according to the provisions of Acts of Parliament; of which one, passed in 1853, limits the time for polling to the period of five days at the most, and another, in 1861 (amended in 1868), allows members of Convocation to vote by means of voting-papers without being personally present at the poll. All other elections in Convocation, as of Officers of the University, Clerks for presentation to Benefices, or other persons, are made by means of voting-papers, but each voter must deliver his own paper at the table. At these elections the Vice-Chancellor presides, and the two Proctors are scrutators. First, the Act 31 Eliz. c. 6, and the Statute of the University concerning elections are first read; and then the voters hand in their papers. When the poll begins to slacken, three proclamations are made at short intervals; and at length, when no more voters come forward, the votes are cast up by the Proctors, and the election is pronounced.

For the better management of certain matters, chiefly matters of administration or detail, Convocation often delegates its authority, or some limited portion of it, to a committee chosen from itself; and the persons selected for such committee are called Delegates. Thus there are standing Delegacies of the Press and of Privileges; and others are appointed occasionally to carry up addresses to the Throne, or for the transaction of business away from Oxford. These Delegates are either elected or approved by Convocation, or are at least nominated by the Proctors in Convocation. But of late years Delegacies have been constituted with whose election or approval Convocation has nothing to do. There is a Delegacy of the Museum, of which two-thirds are elected by the Congregation of the University, the other third being the Vice-Chancellor and Proctors; and a Delegacy of Local Examinations, of which (besides the Vice-Chancellor and Proctors) one-third is nominated by the Hebdomadal Council from itself, one-third by the Congregation of the University, and one-third by the Vice-Chancellor and Proctors privately. And it has been provided by statute, that, of extraordinary Delegates appointed for the conduct of business within the precinct of the University, one-third is to be elected by the Hebdomadal Council from its own body, the Council itself having been elected by the Congregation of the University.

The constitution of the University as settled under the Act of 1854 has not been affected by the legislation undertaken by the Commissioners appointed under the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge Act, 1877.

OFFICERS OF THE UNIVERSITY.

THE CHANCELLOR.

The CHANCELLOR of the University of Oxford is elected by the Members of Convocation, and (unless he resigns in the meantime) holds the office until death. Anciently this office was holden for very short periods, seldom for more than four years, and for the most part by some resident member of the University, until the Chancellorship of John Russell, Bishop of Lincoln, who was elected in 1483, and retained it till his death in 1494. No stipend is assigned to it: on the contrary, the custom of many years has entailed expenses on its holder.

- 1220 Lewis de Chapirnay
Edmund
- Robert Grossthead, or Grossteste, afterwards Bishop of Lincoln
- 1231 Ralph [Cole?]
- Richard Batchden?
- 1233 Ralph Cole
- 1238 Simon de Bovill
- 1239 John de Rygater
- 1240 Richard de la Wyke, or Wich, afterwards Bishop of Chichester

- 1241 The same
- 1244 Simon de Bovill, again
- 1246 Gilbert de Biham
- 1252 Ralph de Sempyngham
- 1253 The same. This time spelt Sempringham
- 1255 William de Lodelawhe
- 1256 Richard de S. Agatha
- 1262 Thomas de Cantilupe, afterwards Bishop of Hereford
- 1264 ? Henry de Cicestre
- 1267-8 Nicholas de Ewelme
- 1269 Thomas Bek
- 1273 William de Bosco
- 1276 Eustace de Normanville
- 1280 John de Pontissara, Bishop of Winchester
- 1280-1 Henry de Stanton
- 1282 William de Montfort
- 1283 Roger de Rowell, or Rodewell
- 1284 William Pikerell
- 1285-7 Hervey de Saham
- 1288 Robert de Winchelsey, afterwards Archbishop of Canterbury
- 1289 William de Kingescote

- 1292 The same
- 1292 Henry Swayne?
- 1293 Roger de Martival, afterwards Bishop of Salisbury
- 1294 Peter de Medburn
- Roger de Wescham

<sup>1</sup> Several names here given rest upon very doubtful evidences. The lists compiled by Le Neve, Wood, and others from various sources have in the main been followed: they are useful, but must not be relied upon entirely. Grimbold, Beategravius, Robert Canutus, Robert Pulleyne, and Alard, are mentioned as having held the office of Chancellor previous to the year 1220, but there is no sufficient authority for the statement.

- 1297 Richard de Clyve, sometime of Merton
 1300-3 James de Cobeham
 1304-5 Simon de Faversham
 1306 Walter [Giffard]
 1308 William de Bosco
 1309 Henry de Maunnesfeld or Mammesfeld, sometime Fellow of Merton
 1311 Walter Giffard
 1311 Henry de Maunsfeld, again
 1313-5 Henry de Harcla, Hercley, or Hertley
 1316 Richard de Nottingham?
 1317-21 John Lutterell; he resigned in 1322
 1322-3 Henry Gower, sometime Fellow of Merton, afterwards Bishop of S. David's
 1324-5 William de Alburwyke, Merton, Principal of Broadgates Hall
 1326-7 Thomas Hotham
 1328 Ralph of Shrewsbury
 1329 Roger de Streton
 1330 Neale de Wavre, or Wavery, sometime Fellow of Merton
 1332-3 Ralph Radyn
 1334 Hugh de Willoughby
 1335 Robert de Stratford, Merton
 1336-8 The same, now Bishop of Chichester and Lord High Chancellor
 1338 Robert Paynink?
     John Leech
 1339-40 William de Skelton, sometime Fellow of Merton
 1341 Walter de Scauren, 10 June on the cession of William de Skelton
 1341-4 William de Bergeveney
 1345-8 John de Northwode
 1349 John Wylot, sometime Fellow of Merton; he intruded himself into the office of Chancellor, contrary to the Statutes of the University
 1350-1 William de Palmorna, sometime Fellow and Rector of Exeter
 1354-6 Humphrey de Cherlton
 1357 Lewis Charlton appears to have held the office in this year?
     John de Hotham, Provost of Queen's
 1358 John Renham, or Reigham
 1359 John de Hotham, Provost of Queen's, again
 1360 Richard Fitz Ralph?
     Nicholas de Aston, sometime of Queen's
 1363 John de Renham, resigned
     John de Echingham, or Hethingham, elected on the cession of John de Renham; confirmed by the Bishop of Lincoln xvi. Kalends July [May 17]
 1366 Adam de Towworth, or Toneworth 1367-9 William Courtney, afterwards Bishop of Hereford, then of London, and at length Archbishop of Canterbury and Lord High Chancellor of England
 1369 Adam de Towworth, or Toneworth, again
 1371 William de Heightbury, or Heytisbury, sometime Fellow of Merton
 1372 William de Remmyngton
 1373-5 William de Wylton, sometime Fellow of Balliol, afterwards of University and Queen's
 1376 John Turke, sometime Fellow of Merton
 1377 Adam de Toneworth, again
 1379 Robert Aylesham, Merton
     William Berton, sometime of Merton
 1381 Robert Rygge, or Rugge, Exeter, afterwards Fellow of Merton
 1382 William Berton, again
     Robert Rygge, again
     Nicholas Hereford, sometime Fellow of Queen's William Rugge?
 1383 Robert Rygge, again; he held the office until May, 1388
 1388 Thomas Brightwell, sometime Fellow of Merton
 1389 The same
 1390 Thomas Craule, Cranley, or Canleigh, Merton, Warden of New College, afterwards Archbishop of Dublin
 1391 Robert Rygge, again
 1392 Ralph Ruderyth, Rudruth, or Ruderhith, sometime of Oriel, afterwards of Exeter; held the office Oct. 4.

- 1393 Thomas Presbury
- 1394 Robert Arlyngton, held the office Oct. 11, sometime of Queen's
- 1395 Thomas Hyndman, or Hendeman, sometime Fellow of Exeter
- 1396 The same
- 1397 Philip Repyngdon, afterwards Bishop of Lincoln
Henry Beaufort, afterwards Bishop of Lincoln, Lord High Chancellor of England, Bishop of Winchester, and Cardinal; held the office Dec. 6, 1397
- 1399 Thomas Hyndeman, again
- 1400 Philip Repyngdon, again
- 1401 The same
- 1402 The same
- 1403-6 Robert Alum, or Halam
- 1407 Richard Courteney; held the office April 22
Richard Ullerston, sometime of Queen's
- 1408 William Clynt, Fellow of Merton
- 1409 Thomas Presbury, again
- 1410 William Sulburge
- 1411 Richard Courtney, again
- 1411 John Banard
- Richard Courtney, again
- 1412 William Sulburge, again
- Richard Courtney, again
- 1413 William Sulburge, again
- William Barrow, afterwards Bishop of Bangor, and at length Bishop of Carlisle
- 1414 The same?
- Richard Snetisham?
- 1415 William Barrow, again
- 1416 Thomas Clare
- William Barrow, again?
- 1417 The same
- Thomas Clare, again
- 1418 The same
- Walter Treugof, or Trengof, sometime of Exeter
- 1419 Robert Colman
- Walter Treugof, again
- 1420 Thomas Rodborne, sometime of Merton
- Walter Treugof, again
- 1421 John Castell, Master of University College
- 1422-5 The same
- 1426-30 Thomas Chase, sometime Master of Balliol; afterwards Chancellor of Ireland

HIGH STEWARD.

The Seneschallus, or HIGH STEWARD, is appointed by the Chancellor, and approved by Convocation. His special duty is to hear and determine criminal causes of the gravest kind, such as treason and felony, at the mandate of the Chancellor, and according to the laws of the land and the privileges of the University, whenever the prisoner is a scholar or privileged person resident within the precinct of the University. The office is holden for life. There is also a Deputy Steward, appointed in like manner. The ancient stipend of the High Steward is £5 a-year; the Deputy Steward has £2.

The privilege of having such criminal causes tried by an Officer of the University was first granted by Henry IV in 1406; and, although the language of his charter is quite consistent with the supposition that the office of High Steward was in existence previously, there is no record to shew that it really did exist before that time. Indeed the Registers of the University supply no name of any High Steward for nearly fifty years afterwards; and the years in which five of the persons in the following list entered upon the office are not ascertained.

High Stewards.

VICE-CHANCELLOR.

THE Chancellors from the earliest times, even when they were still resident in the University, were assisted in the administration of justice and in the discharge of other business by Deputies, whose number varied, and who perhaps were often appointed for special purposes rather than for definite periods of time. These Officers were for the most part called Commissaries; till in the middle of the sixteenth century the title Pro-Chancellor or Vice-Chancellor began to be employed, the latter of which, from the year 1574, has quite superseded the ancient name. The Commissaries appear to have been always nominated by the Chancellors, except for the few years during which the Edwardine Statutes, given by the King's Visitors in 1549, were in full force. In 1568 the Earl of Leicester set aside the right of free election, which those statutes had vested in the House of Congregation, and resumed the ancient practice. The office seems to have become annual in the earlier part of the sixteenth century.

Under the Laudian Statutes the VICE-CHANCELLOR is annually nominated by the Chancellor from the Heads of Colleges. The Letters of nomination are read in Convocation, shortly before the beginning of Michaelmas Term, by the Senior Proctor, and the new Vice-Chancellor then immediately makes the requisite declarations, and enters upon his office. The Vice-Chancellor appoints four deputies, or Pro-Vice-Chancellors, from the Heads of Colleges, who are to exercise his power in case of his illness or necessary absence from the University. The office of late has been generally holden for four years.

A small portion of the annual benefaction of £200, bequeathed to the University by Nathaniel Lord Crewe, Bishop of Durham, who died in 1721, and also a small benefaction from Sir Henry Savile, was assigned to the Vice-Chancellor; and a bequest of John Wills, D.D., Warden of Wadham College, who died in 1806, produced the sum of £6400 in £3 per cent. Consolidated Annuities for the endowment of the office. Under a Statute, which was passed in 1855, the annual income is made up to £600 from the University Chest.

PROCTORS.

The two PROCTORS of the University were elected anciently in Convocation; but, the elections having become very tumultuous, the method was changed by an ordinance of King Charles I., and from the year 1629 the choice was made within the several Colleges according to a cycle of twenty-three years, which lasted through ten revolutions. In 1859 a new cycle of thirty years began, adapted to the existing condition of the Colleges, and comprising with them the Halls jointly.<sup>1</sup> The electors now are all those members of the several Societies who, being Members of Convocation, are also, or have at any time been, Members of the Congregation of the University, and all those Fellows and Scholars of a College who are Members of Convocation. Any such elector may be elected to the office, provided he has completed four and has not completed fifteen years from his admission to Regency in Arts. The election is made on the Wednesday after the first Sunday in Lent; and on the second (or occasionally on the first) Wednesday after Easter the new Proctors are admitted to their offices in Convocation, and take their seats. They nominate each two Masters of Arts, of three years' standing at the least, to be their respective deputies or Pro-Proctors. Each Proctor receives an annual stipend of £350, each Pro-Proctor £80.

Proctors from the year 1267.

|      | William de Coleshull           |      | Edward Farney           |

<sup>1</sup> By the Hertford College Act, 1874, sect. 2, it is provided that up to and until the year 1889, at any election of Proctors by the Halls, the members of Hertford College shall be entitled to vote as if they were members of a Hall.

BURGESSES.

After several unsuccessful attempts on the part of the University to obtain from Queen Elizabeth permission to send Burgesses to Parliament, the privilege of sending two was granted by King James I. by Letters Patent in 1604. All members of Convocation are electors. Some special provisions for the mode of election are stated before on p. 5.

Burgesses.

- 1604 Sir Daniel Dunne, D.C.L., sometime Fellow of All Souls and Principal of New Inn Hall
- 1604 Sir Thomas Crompton, D.C.L., of Merton
- 1609 Sir William Byrde, D.C.L., sometime Fellow of All Souls, vice Crompton deceased

ASSESSOR OF THE CHANCELLOR'S COURT.

The Chancellor has jurisdiction in almost all causes, whether civil, spiritual, or criminal, in which scholars or privileged persons resident within the precinct of the University are parties. For the exercise of it a Court is holden every Friday during Term in the Apodyterium of the Convocation House, in which the Vice-Chancellor is the presiding Judge, and the two Proctors of the University may, if they please, sit as assessors. But for the better despatch of business the Vice-Chancellor appoints some Doctor or Bachelor of Civil Law to sit with him as Assessor and to act as Judge for him in his absence. The annual stipend of such Assessor is £40. The practice of the Court in all cases used to be nearly the same as the practice of the Court of Admiralty: but by new Rules, made in pursuance of the Act 25 and 26 Vict. c. 26. s. 12, the form of procedure in civil cases, since March 1, 1865, very much resembles the form in County Courts. Appeals from it may be made, first to the House of Congregation, then to the House of Convocation, (for which purpose Delegates to hear appeals are annually appointed in each House,) and finally, if the three judgments differ, to the Queen in Chancery.

The Registrar of the Court is appointed by the Chancellor. He must be a Master of Arts or a Bachelor of Civil Law. Besides the duty of registering the several Acts and Orders of the Court, it is part of his office to attend at and to record the admissions of Principals to the several Halls, and to perform all manner of business, whether of contentious or voluntary jurisdiction, arising from the authority of the Chancellor.

Proctors ad lites, three in number at the least, who must be Masters of Arts or Bachelors of Civil Law, or else either Barristers or Solicitors, are appointed and admitted by the Vice-Chancellor to practise in the Court.

- 1876 THOMAS ERSKINE HOLLAND, D.C.L., Fellow of All Souls; Chichele Professor of International Law and Diplomacy.

PUBLIC ORATOR.

The office of Public Orator was first permanently established in 1564, the previous custom being that the Chancellor or Vice-Chancellor selected some fit person on each occasion to perform the duties attached to it. It is his business to write letters and addresses and to make orations in the name of the University upon public occasions, to present those on whom the honorary degree of Master of Arts is to be conferred, and to deliver the annual Creweian Oration alternately with the Professor of Poetry. He is one of those appointed to adjudge several of the University Prizes. He must be a Member of Convocation, and is elected by that body. The stipend originally assigned to the office was a yearly pension of twenty nobles, £6 13s. 4d., from the University Chest; which was increased in 1811 by a grant of £70, and again in 1866 by a still further grant of £60, making a total of £130 from the same source, and by £20 from Lord Crewe's benefaction.

In 1635 King Charles I. annexed a Canonry of Christ Church to this office: but the grant, never having been confirmed by Act of Parliament, was disregarded in 1660, when Robert South was elected Orator; and, although he was made a Canon ten years afterwards, that dignity has not been conferred on any of his successors.

A Statute made by the University Commissioners in 1881 renders the Public Orator subject to the jurisdiction of the Visitatorial Board created by the same Statute.

CLERKS OF THE MARKET.

Control of the Market, in order to secure fair dealing in provisions of all kinds, was granted to the Chancellor by King Edward III. in 1355. In the days when prices were fixed by authority it was the Chancellor who fixed them in Oxford; and whatever jurisdiction in such matters can now be exercised by magistrates anywhere is exercised by the Chancellor or Vice-Chancellor here. Two Clerks of the Market are annually appointed, one by the Chancellor, the other by the Vice-Chancellor. They must be either Principals of Halls, Masters of Arts, or Bachelors of Divinity, Medicine, or Law. There is also a Deputy Clerk,

KEEPER OF THE ARCHIVES.

This office was instituted in 1634. It is the Keeper's duty to take charge of and to arrange all the muniments and papers concerning either the Estates, Possessions, Rights, and Privileges of the University, or the Endowments of Professorships, and all the Registers and Records of the University. He is a Delegate of Privileges ex officio. He is elected by Convocation. The yearly stipend of the office, originally £40, was raised in 1828 to £100.

A Statute made by the University Commissioners in 1881 renders the Keeper of the Archives subject to the jurisdiction of the Visitation Board created by the same Statute.

Keepers.

- 1634 Brian Twine, B.D., sometime Fellow of Corpus
- 1644 Gerard Langbaine, M.A., Fellow, afterwards Provost, of Queen's

- 1857 JOHN GRIFFITHS, M.A., sometime Fellow, afterwards Warden, of Wadham, D.D.

REGISTRAR.

The Registrar of the University is elected by Convocation. He must be a Master of Arts or a Bachelor of Civil Law. He attends all meetings of the Hebdomadal Council, of both Congregations, and of Convocation, and registers all acts, such as Graces, Admissions to Degrees, Elections, Decrees, Statutes, Letters, Addresses, Leases, and other documents to which the common seal of the University is affixed. The emoluments of the office formerly varied, depending on the number of persons admitted to degrees and on other circumstances: the annual stipend is now fixed at £600. A statute made by the University Commissioners in 1881 renders the Registrar subject to the jurisdiction of the Visitation Board created by the same Statute.

COLLEGES.

THE Colleges are distinct corporate bodies, founded at various times for the purpose of study, and nearly (if not quite) all of them for the purpose of education also ; within the University, but independent of it ; governed, as to their own concerns, by their respective Statutes ; each having a mansion for the residence of Members of the Foundation and for the reception of academical students ; and holding property of various kinds through the munificence of Founders and Benefactors. In common use the word "College" signifies the mansion of each Society as well as the Society itself.

Colleges are an institution peculiar to this country. There are none in foreign Universities, nor even in Scotland. In Oxford there are twenty-one now existing. The history of their relation to the University is too large a subject to be treated here. It may be sufficient to say, that for more than four hundred years previous to 1855 no person could be a Member of the University who had not his name upon the books of some College, or of one of the Academical Halls which are described further on. In the year 1855 a Statute was made, by which Members of Convocation were permitted, under certain conditions, to open Private Halls for the reception of students : but very few have hitherto availed themselves of the permission. Another Statute, made in 1868, removed the old restriction, and enabled persons to become Students and Members of the University without belonging to any College or Hall. These Students are commonly called "Unattached" (in Latin, Non ascripti).

The corporation of every College, except three, comprises a Head, Fellows and Scholars in various numbers, and a few other Members, whose numbers, offices, and titles differ in different Societies. All these are Members of the Foundation, and receive stipends from the corporate revenues. The three exceptions are All Souls, Christ Church, and Keble. At All Souls there are no Scholars : at Christ Church, which is a cathedral establishment as well as an academical institution, there is, besides the Dean, a capitular body of Canons, while those who answer in most respects to Fellows are called Students : at Keble there are no Fellows. At Merton the Scholars are called Postmasters, at Magdalen Demies (in Latin Semi-Socii).

The Heads of Colleges have not all the same title. The title is "Master" at University, Balliol, and Pembroke Colleges ; "Warden" at Merton, New College, All Souls, Wadham, and Keble ; "Rector" at Exeter and Lincoln ; "Provost" at Oriel, Queen's, and Worcester ; "President" at Magdalen, Corpus Christi, Trinity, and St. John's; "Principal" at Brasenose, Jesus, and Hertford; and "Dean" at Christ Church.

All the Colleges, except Lincoln, Keble, and Hertford, are now governed by Statutes made for each by the Commissioners appointed under the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge Act, 1877.

In Christ Church the Dean, Canons, and Students are the Governing Body; in Keble the Warden and Council, in every other College the Head and Fellows. Discipline over the Junior Members of each Society is exercised by the Head, his Vicegerent, and certain Officers of the College, who are commonly appointed from the Fellows.

In almost every College the Head is elected by the Fellows. But the Dean of Christ Church is appointed by the Crown, the Warden of Keble by the Council of that College, and the Principal of Hertford by the Chancellor of the University. Headships are tenable for life, but subject to the provisions contained in the new Statutes for the retirement on a pension of a Head who has become permanently incapable of performing the duties of his office, or for his deprivation for grave reasons.

The Fellowships created under the Statutes of 1882 may be divided into three classes, namely, Professor Fellowships, Official Fellowships, and Ordinary Fellowships, but the representation of each class is not provided for in all Colleges alike. Professor Fellowships are annexed to certain University Professorships, and constitute part of their emoluments; Official Fellowships are tenable by the holders of certain College offices, such as Tutors, Chaplains, and Bursars, so long as they continue to hold those offices; Ordinary Fellowships, which are of the value of £200 a year, and are tenable for seven years only, may be awarded after examination, or on condition of the holder undertaking definite literary or scientific work in the University or elsewhere, or may be conferred on University Professors or Readers. The Colleges are also empowered to elect persons of distinction to Honorary Fellowships, but the holders of such Fellowships have no share in the government of the College, and derive no emolument from its revenues.

Scholarships are usually of the value, inclusive of all allowances, of £80 a year. They are awarded by the Head and Fellows after examination, and are tenable in the first instance for two years only; their tenure however may be prolonged, in case the industry and good conduct of the Scholar have at the end of that period been duly certified, for another two years, at the expiration of which a further extension for one year is in special cases allowed. As a general rule no candidate is eligible for an Open Scholarship whose age on the day of election exceeds nineteen years.

In the following pages the several Colleges are placed in the reputed order of their foundation.

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE.

THE College of the Great Hall of the University, commonly called University College, was, according to popular tradition, founded and endowed by King Alfred the Great, in or about the year 872. No record however of this tradition is found earlier than the close of the fourteenth or the beginning of the fifteenth century.

The first historical endowment of the College dates from the year 1249. In that year William of Durham, said to have been Rector of Wearmouth and Archdeacon of Durham, bequeathed a sum of money to provide a permanent endowment for the maintenance of a certain number of "Masters." The first purchase with this bequest was made in 1253, and the first Statutes are dated 1280.

The endowment of William of Durham was added to at various dates by other benefactors; among others by King Henry IV, at the instance of Walter Skirlow or Skirlaw, Bishop of Durham, in 1403; by Henry Percy, Earl of Northumberland, in 1455; by Robert Dudley, Earl of Leicester, in 1587; by John Freeston, in 1592; by Robert Gunsley, in 1610; by Sir Simon Bennet, in 1631; by Dr. John Radcliffe, in 1714; and by Dr. John Browne, in 1764.

The foundation now consists (according to Statutes made in 1881) of a Master, thirteen Fellows (including one Civil Law Fellow), seventeen Scholars, and fifteen Exhibitioners.

The Fellowships are tenable for seven years, but this term may be extended under certain conditions.

The Civil Law Fellowship was founded in 1837 by Mary Anne, Viscountess Sidmouth, in honour of her father, Lord Stowell, sometime Fellow of this Society. It is open to Members of the University of Oxford who have passed all the Examinations required for the Degree of Bachelor of Arts, and have not exceeded twenty-eight Terms from their Matriculation, and is tenable for seven years.

The Scholarships are of the value of £80 per annum, and are open to all who have not exceeded the age of nineteen on the day of election. They are tenable in the first instance for two years, but this term is extended to four years in case of good conduct and industry, and may for special reasons be extended to five years.

The Heron Exhibition and the two Lodge Exhibitions (annual value not exceeding £70) are open to all persons in need of support at the University who are not more than twenty-one years old or of more than six Terms' standing.

The three Freeston Exhibitions (value £50) are confined in the first instance to the Grammar Schools of Normanton, Wakefield, Pontefract, and Swillington, and the four Gunsley Exhibitions (value not less than £45) to the Grammar Schools of Rochester and Maidstone.

All the above Exhibitions are held on the same tenure as the Scholarships.

II. BALLIOL COLLEGE.

FOUNDED by John Balliol, of Barnard Castle in the county of Durham, and Dervorgilla his wife (parents of John Balliol, King of Scotland). The foundation had been commenced during the lifetime of John Balliol, who died in 1269. The House was permanently endowed by his widow, who in the year 1282 gave to it the earliest statutes. Its revenues were augmented by the munificence of succeeding Benefactors, particularly of Sir William Felton and Sir Philip Somervyle.

There are now fourteen Fellowships and fifteen Scholarships on the old foundation at this College; the latter of about £80 a-year, open to candidates under nineteen years of age. There are five Scholarships of £60 a-year, for persons educated at Blundell's School, Tiverton, on the foundation of Mr. Peter Blundell; one of which is to be filled up annually by examination at the School. There are four Mathematical Scholarships, tenable for four years, of the value of £80 a-year. There are also eight Scholarships, of £80 a-year, tenable for four years, "for the encouragement of the study of Law and History, and of the study of Natural Science, in order to qualify Students for the professions of Law and Medicine respectively," founded by Hannah, daughter of the late Francis Brakenbury, as a grateful memorial of her deceased brothers, James B. Brakenbury and Ralph Brakenbury, and in recognition of an ancient connection between the families of Balliol and Brakenbury.

Three Exhibitions (or more, according to circumstances) of £70 a-year are annually offered by the College for open competition among all Candidates who have not completed the eighth Term from their matriculation. There are also a certain number of Minor Exhibitions of £40 a year.

The Warner Exhibition (founded in 1667 by John Warner, Bishop of Rochester) of about £90 a year, is confined to natives, or those whose fathers were natives, of Scotland.

All these Scholarships and Exhibitions, under the regulations of the Oxford University Commission of 1882, are tenable for two years; there is a power of renewal for two years longer if the College are satisfied with the Scholar or Exhibitioner; and a further power of extension to five years for special reasons. They can only be held during residence.

The Snell Exhibitions (ten in number at present) were added in 1677 by John Snell, Esquire. The nomination to them is vested in the Principal and Professors of Glasgow University, and the election in the Master and Fellows of this College. One or two of these are annually filled up by an examination held at Glasgow. They are tenable during residence for five years.

Two Exhibitions of £100 a-year, tenable during residence for four years, have been founded under the will of Richard Jenkyns, D.D., a former Master of the College; to be filled up by competition among those members of the College who have not exceeded sixteen Terms of academical standing.

III. MERTON COLLEGE.

THIS College, originally called the House of Scholars of Merton, was founded in the year 1264, at Malden in Surrey, by Walter de Merton, sometime Chancellor of England, and afterwards Bishop of Rochester. The first body of Statutes was given by the Founder in 1264, the third and last in 1274, in which year the House of the Scholars was removed to Oxford.

Subsequent benefactors were—in 1380, John Wyllyott, D.D., Chancellor of Exeter, who invested his Estates in the College for the maintenance of Portionists, since called Post-Masters; in 1604, John Chamber, Fellow of Eton, Canon of Windsor, who left moneys for the maintenance of two Post-Masters and one Fellow, to be elected from Foundationers of Eton; in 1753, Henry Jackson, sometime M.A. of this College, and afterwards Minon Canon of St. Paul's, who founded certain Exhibitions.

Under the new Statutes made by the University of Oxford Commissioners in 1881, the number of Fellowships with emolument is not to be less than nineteen and may be raised to twenty-six. Subject to certain reservations, these Fellowships are tenable for seven years. Most of them are awarded upon the results of an examination, but the College is empowered, within certain limits, to elect without examination any Professor or Public Reader in the University; any person of eminence in Literature, Science, or Art, who shall undertake literary, scientific, or educational work; and any person who has been appointed to act as Bursar, Tutor, or Lecturer of the College.

The number of Postmasterships, or Scholarships, is eighteen, but may be increased. Provision is made for their being assigned, in a definite rotation, to Classics, Mathematics, and Natural Science respectively. Their annual value is £80, inclusive of rooms and all allowances. They are tenable for two years from the day of election, but may be renewed for a further period of two years, if the Warden and Fellows, after receiving a report from the Tutors, shall declare themselves satisfied with the Postmaster's industry and good conduct. Under special circumstances, they may be again extended for one year longer. No person is eligible to a Postmastership who has exceeded the age of nineteen on the day of election.

Two of these Postmasterships, being Chambers Postmasterships, are still reserved to Candidates educated at Eton College, if any shall present themselves "of sufficient merit for election."

There are also four Exhibitions of £60 a-year, to which persons are eligible without restriction of age. These are awarded after the same examinations and under the same conditions as the Postmasterships.

There is also an Exhibition Fund, which is formed for the purpose of assisting poor students and of promoting study among the Undergraduate Members of the College.

On the resignation of the last Principal of St. Alban Hall in 1882, that institution (said to date from the early part of the fifteenth century) became, by virtue of a Statute made by the University of Oxford Commissioners in 1881, united with Merton College, in which its property, site, and buildings are now vested.

IV. EXETER COLLEGE.

THIS College was founded by Walter de Stapledon, Bishop of Exeter, in 1316; and was incorporated by charter of Queen Elizabeth in 1565, under the name of Exeter College in the University of Oxford; and enlarged by a second endowment given in that year by Sir William Petre, Knight.

There are at present twelve Fellowships, including the Chaplain Fellowship.

There are twenty-one or more Foundation Scholarships: of these, eight (called Stapledon Scholarships) are limited to persons born or educated in the Diocese of Exeter, and either one or two (called King Charles the First's Scholarships) to persons born in any of the Channel Islands, or educated at Victoria College, Jersey, or Elizabeth College, Guernsey. The rest of the Scholarships are open. Four are usually awarded for proficiency in Mathematics, and four for proficiency in Natural Science. The College exercises the power of adding to the number of Open Scholarships.

The Stapledon Scholarships are of the value of not less than £60 a year; the remainder of £80.

If no duly qualified candidates present themselves for the limited Scholarships, these also may for the time be thrown open.

The election to the Open Scholarships takes place in Hilary Term. Candidates for all the above-mentioned Scholarships must be under nineteen years of age.

There is also a Scholarship founded by Mr. George Redsull Carter of the value of £80 a year, for which persons born in the County of Kent who are already members of the College have a preference cæteris paribus over other candidates. Subject to this reservation the Carter Scholarship is open.

Two Scholarships have been founded by Miss Marianne Frances Hasker, "for the advancement of sound learning and for the encouragement of the study of Theology by persons intending to take Holy Orders." These Scholarships are open to all persons born British subjects.

There are various Exhibitions in the gift of the College. Of these, two have the same limitation as King Charles the First's Scholarships, one (How) is limited to sons of clergymen with preference for the Founder's kin, or, in default of these, for sons of clergymen resident in the County of Somerset or of Devon; one (Gifford) is limited in the first instance to Candidates educated at Ashburton School; two (Symes and Michell) are restricted to students of Divinity who are of not less than two Terms' standing in the University; one (Richards) to persons already members of the College. The other Exhibitions are open, and are awarded for proficiency in Classics and in the various subjects of the Final Schools. The College has power to add to the number of Open Exhibitions. Candidates for any Exhibition must be in need of assistance at the University.

There is no limitation of age for the Carter and Hasker Scholarships or for the Exhibitions.

V. ORIEL COLLEGE.

THIS College was founded by Edward II. in 1326, on the suggestion of Adam de Brome, his almoner, for a Provost and ten Fellows. The number of Fellowships was subsequently increased to eighteen by various benefactions. Four were founded by John Frank, Master of the Rolls, who died A.D. 1441; one by John Carpenter, Bishop of Worcester, about the year 1476; one by William Smyth, Bishop of Lincoln, 1507; and two by Richard Dudley, Chancellor of the Church of Salisbury, 1529. Queen Anne annexed to the Provostship a Canonry of Rochester, which has since been severed from it under Statutes made by the University Commissioners of 1877, and is now annexed to the Oriel Professorship of the Interpretation of Holy Scripture.

Several Exhibitions and Scholarships were founded in this College by different Benefactors: viz. six, of inconsiderable value, by Richard Dudley, above mentioned; three by Dr. Robinson, Bishop of London, 1718; four under the Will of Henry, Duke of Beaufort, 1744; two under that of Mrs. Ludwell, 1761; one (the Rutland Exhibition), by the Rev. Richard Twopeny, 1838; and two under the Will of Dr. Ireland, Dean of Westminster, 1842.

By Statutes made by the Commissioners under the Universities Act 1877 the number of Fellows (exclusive of Professor Fellows) will be gradually reduced to twelve. The Regius Professor of Modern History and the Oriel Professor of the Interpretation of Holy Scripture will be Professor Fellows.

Under the same Statutes there are at least ten Scholarships and four Exhibitions, called the Exhibitions of Adam de Brome, tenable for four years (which may be extended for special reasons to five years); the value of each of these Scholarships and Exhibitions (during residence) being £80 per annum. Candidates for these Exhibitions must be deserving persons in need of support at the University; to a Scholarship no one is eligible who has attained the age of nineteen years.

There are also nine Exhibitions besides those last above named, and two Bible Clerkships.

VI. THE QUEEN'S COLLEGE.

FOUNDED in 1340, O. S., by Robert Eglesfield, Chaplain to Philippa, Queen of Edward III, from whom it is called the Queen's College.

Under the new Statutes (1882) the College consists of a Provost, from fourteen to sixteen Fellows, about twenty-five Scholars (of whom four or five, to be called Eglesfield Scholars, are, if suitable candidates present themselves, to be natives of Cumberland or Westmoreland), and two Bible-Clerks.

An additional Scholarship was founded by the late Rev. Sir E. R. Jodrell, Bart., M.A., of the College, in memory of his father.

The Hastings Exhibitions are open to candidates from the schools of Carlisle and St. Bees in Cumberland, Appleby and Heversham in Westmoreland, Bradford, Doncaster, Giggleswick, Leeds, Richmond, Ripon, Sedbergh, Wakefield, and York, in Yorkshire.

There are also Exhibitions in the gift of the College, (Fitzgerald) for natives of Middlesex, (Thanet) for boys from Appleby School, (Fox) for natives of Cumberland and Westmoreland educated at St. Bees School, (Dixon) for natives of Whitehaven, (Wilson) for boys from Kirkby Lonsdale and Kendal schools, besides others of smaller value.

The Tylney Exhibitioner is nominated by the owner of Tylney Hall ; the Thomas Exhibitions, for sons or orphans of clergymen in the Diocese of Carlisle, and the Berry Exhibitions, for sons of clergy in the Diocese of Manchester, are in the gift of Trustees, of whom the Provost is one.

VII. NEW COLLEGE.

THIS College was founded by William of Wykeham, Bishop of Winchester, and sometime Lord High Chancellor of England, under a Charter of Richard the Second, dated 30th June, 1379, and a Deed of Foundation dated 26th November, 1379, for a Warden, seventy Fellows and Scholars, ten Chaplains, three Clerks, and sixteen Choristers.

Under Statutes made by the Oxford University Commissioners in 1881, and approved by the Queen in Council, May 3, 1882, the Fellowships hereafter are to be divided into three classes, viz. Professor Fellowships, Tutorial Fellowships, and Ordinary Fellowships.

The Professor Fellowships are to be five in number, and are to be annexed to the Savilian Professorships of Geometry and Astronomy; the Professorship of Logic; a Professorship of Ancient History; and a Professorship of Physics; and the holders of the last three Professorships are to be called Wykeham Professors.

The Tutorial Fellowships are to be so many, not exceeding ten, in number, as the Warden and Fellows may deem necessary.

The Ordinary Fellowships are to be not less than fourteen in number, nor more than will make up the whole number of Fellowships to thirty-six, including any Fellowship to which a Bursar may have been elected.

So soon as the revenues of the College will permit, two Ordinary Fellowships (called respectively Winchester and Open Fellowships) are to be filled up annually by competition. One of these is to be open to all persons who shall have been educated for at least two years in the School of Winchester College, or have been for at least twelve Terms members of New College; the other is to be open to all persons who shall have passed all the Examinations required by the University for the Degree of B.A.

The Scholarships are to be divided into two Classes, respectively called Winchester Scholarships and Open Scholarships.

The Winchester Scholarships are to be so many as will enable the Warden and Fellows to elect to six such Scholarships in each year, from the boys receiving education in the School of Winchester College; no distinction being made between members of the foundation of Winchester College and boys not members thereof.

The Open Scholarships are to be so many as will enable the Warden and Fellows to elect to four Open Scholarships in each year.

No Candidate is eligible to an Open Scholarship whose age on the day of election shall exceed nineteen years.

The emoluments of a Scholarship, inclusive of rooms and all allowances, if any, are to be £80 a-year.

Every Scholarship is tenable for two years from the day of election ; but the tenure may be prolonged for a further period of two years ; and, for special reasons, for one year more.

A fund is to be established for the purpose of maintaining Exhibitions to be held by Undergraduate Members of the College.

The Choir is to consist of such a number of Chaplains, Lay-Clerks, and Choristers, as the Warden and Fellows shall from time to time determine. At present it consists of three Chaplains, eight Lay-Clerks, and sixteen Choristers.

VIII. LINCOLN COLLEGE.

FOUNDED by Richard Fleming, Bishop of Lincoln, in 1427, for a Rector and seven Fellows; and greatly augmented by Thomas Rotherham, Bishop of Lincoln, and afterwards Archbishop of York and Lord High Chancellor of England, who added five Fellowships, and gave a new body of Statutes in 1479.

Scholarships were given by different Benefactors, the chief of whom were Lord Crewe, Bishop of Durham, Richard Hutchins, D.D., and John Radford, D.D., Rectors.

One Scholarship was founded in 1847 by Mrs. Tatham, widow of Edward Tatham, D.D., Rector; and in 1857 the Rev. Henry Usher Matthews, M.A., left by Will certain moneys for the foundation of an Open Scholarship, and also of an Exhibition from Shrewsbury School.

The existing Statutes, enacted under the authority of a Parliamentary Commission in 1855, provide for a Rector, ten Fellows, and fourteen Scholars, on the Foundation. Other Scholarships are added from time to time from the proceeds of two suspended Fellowships.

IX. ALL SOULS COLLEGE.

FOUNDED in 1437, by Henry Chichele, sometime Fellow of New College, and successively Bishop of St. David's and Archbishop of Canterbury, for a Warden, forty Fellows, two Chaplains, and Clerks.

The Statutes which came into operation on May 3, 1882, make provision for the following Fellowships:

Fourteen to be filled up after examination in subjects connected with the studies of Law and History;

Seven to be filled up after examination in such other subjects as the Warden and Fellows may from time to time determine;

Seven to be filled up by a Board consisting of the Warden and four Fellows, the Bodleian Librarian, and three persons appointed by the Hebdomadal Council, tenable on condition of undertaking some literary or scientific work in or under the direction of the College or University;

Three tenable in connection with certain College offices by persons who have been Fellows;

Two tenable in connection with certain University offices by persons who have been Fellows;

Twelve tenable by persons who have been Fellows under the provisions of these Statutes, with an annual emolument of £50;

Five tenable in connection, respectively, with the Chichele Chair of International Law, the Chichele Chair of Modern History, the Regius Chair of Civil Law, the Vinerian Chair of English Law, the Chair of Political Economy.

The College may also elect to Fellowships without emolument not more than three persons who have attained distinction in the service of the Crown, the profession of the law, in literature, science, or art: and may also elect any Public Reader of the University whose Chair is wholly or partly endowed by the College to a Fellowship without emolument tenable during his tenure of office.

Except where the contrary is stated, these Fellowships are all tenable for seven years and are of the annual value of £200.

The Reading Room of the Codrington Library is open to Graduates of the University, to Barristers on the Oxford Circuit, and to other persons properly recommended, from 11 A.M. to 4 P.M. daily—the months of August and September, all Sundays, and some few other days being excepted.

X. ST. MARY MAGDALEN COLLEGE.

THIS College was founded in 1458, by William of Waynflete, successively Head Master of Winchester and Eton Colleges, and Provost of Eton, Bishop of Winchester, and at the same time Lord High Chancellor of England, for a President, forty Fellows, thirty Scholars called Demies, a Schoolmaster, an Usher, four Chaplains, a Steward, an Organist, eight Clerks, and sixteen Choristers.

Under the existing Statutes (made in 1882) the number of Fellowships within the College is to be not less than thirty nor greater than forty.

Of these Fellowships four are to be attached to the four Waynflete Professorships in the University, one to the Professorship of Botany, and one to the Professorship of Mineralogy.

Other Fellowships, not exceeding eleven in number, may be held officially by persons holding the office of Dean of Divinity, Senior Dean of Arts, Bursar, or Tutor in the College. Of the remainder, which are tenable under certain conditions for seven years, two, as far as practicable, are to be filled up in every year; and the examination for them is to be held in subjects connected with the studies of the University, special reference being had in the examination for one Fellowship, once at least in every three years, to excellence in Theology, and in every seven years once at least to excellence in Mathematics, and once at least to excellence in Natural Science or Medicine.

In addition to Senior Demyships not exceeding eight in number, to be held by members of the University who have passed all the Examinations required for the Degree of Bachelor of Arts, the number of Junior Demyships is fixed at thirty, and the value of each is not to exceed £80 a-year.

In every year elections to one or more Demyships are to take place with special reference to proficiency in one or more of the following subjects: Mathematics, Natural Science, Modern History and Literature, or Modern Languages, if candidates sufficiently qualified in these subjects (who shall also satisfy the electors that they are otherwise fit to be members of the College) shall present themselves.

The constitution of the Choir remains unaltered.

The examination for Demyships is held in the week after the Encænna.

XI. THE KING'S HALL AND COLLEGE OF BRASENOSE.

FOUNDED in 1509, by the joint benefaction of William Smith, Bishop of Lincoln, and Sir Richard Sutton, Knight, of Prestbury, in Cheshire, for a Principal and twelve Fellows.

Eight Fellowships were afterwards added; viz. two by the Will of John Williamson, Rector of St. George's, Canterbury, in 1522; one by John Elton, alias Baker, Canon of Salisbury, in 1528; one by William Porter, Clerk, in 1541; one, in 1538, by Edward Darbie, Archdeacon of Stow; one, in 1538, by William Clyfton, Sub-Dean of York; one, in 1549, by Brian Higden, Dean of York; one, in 1586, by Joyce Frankland, of London, widow.

Scholarships and Exhibitions were added at different times by various benefactors; the chief of whom are, John Claymond, D.D., President of Corpus Christi College; John, Lord Mordaunt; Alexander Nowell, Dean of St. Paul's; Samuel Radcliffe, D.D., Principal of the College; Thomas Yate, D.D., Principal of the College; William Grimbaldson, M.D.; and Sarah, Duchess Dowager of Somerset, who founded eighteen Scholarships for persons educated at the Schools of Manchester, Marlborough, and Hereford, and also four Scholarships restricted to the first of the above-named Schools, all at present tenable for five years, unless vacated by other preferment. In failure of candidates properly qualified from the Schools, these Scholarships are now opened to general competition.

At least £900 a-year is charged on the corporate revenues of the College for the endowment of Open Scholarships of the annual value of £80, tenable in the first instance for two years and renewable for a like period. Their tenure may be extended under special circumstances to a fifth year.

William Hulme, Esq., of Kearsley, in the county of Lancaster, founded, in 1691, four Exhibitions, now increased to twenty under a scheme framed by the Charity Commissioners and approved by the Queen in Council, August 26, 1881. Twelve are called Junior Exhibitions, and are to be awarded after a competitive examination. They are to be of the annual value of £80, and to be tenable in Brasenose College for four years. They are to be open to Candidates of not more than twenty years of age.

Eight are called Senior Exhibitions, and are to be awarded in ordinary cases, after competitive examination, to Members of the College who have resided for not less than six nor more than twelve Terms, and who have been placed in the Honour List at Moderations. Their annual value is to be £130, and they are to be tenable for four years.

In 1842, three Exhibitions, to be called the Colquitt Clerical Exhibitions, were founded by the three Misses Colquitt, of Green Bank, in the county of Lancaster. These Exhibitions, which are of the value of £40 per annum, are intended to assist in the education for the Ministry in the Church of England, according to its Articles and Liturgy, of the sons of indigent or deceased Clergymen, or of such Laymen as cannot, unaided, support the expenses of a College education. Undergraduate Members of Brasenose, who have resided at least one Term, are eligible, and the Exhibitions are not tenable after four years from Matriculation.

In 1875, an Open Classical Scholarship, of the value of £100 per annum, was founded by Mrs. Jane Robinson in memory of her brother the Rev. John Watson, M.A., sometime Fellow of the College.

XII. CORPUS CHRISTI COLLEGE.

THIS College was founded in the year 1516, by Richard Fox, Bishop of Winchester and Lord Privy Seal, for a President, three Professors (whose lectures were to be open to the University at large), twenty Fellows, twenty Scholars, two Chaplains, and two Clerks.

When the provisions of the Statutes made by the University of Oxford Commissioners in 1881 have been fully carried out, it will consist of a President, five Professorial Fellows, five or six Official Fellows, three Extraordinary Fellows, fourteen Ordinary Fellows, and thirty-six Scholars. The Professorial Fellowships will be annexed respectively to the Chairs of Latin, Jurisprudence, Moral Philosophy, Comparative Philology, and the Romance Languages.

The College at present consists of a President, fifteen Fellows, three of whom are Professorial Fellows, and twenty-five Scholars. The proceeds of one Fellowship are added to the stipend of the present Professor of Chinese.

The Scholarships are of the annual value of £80, and are tenable, under certain conditions, for four or five years from Matriculation.

Exhibitions have been recently instituted by the President and Fellows, to be competed for yearly by Commoners of the College.

XIII. CHRIST CHURCH.

THIS Society, founded originally by Cardinal Wolsey, Cardinal of St. Cecilia and Archbishop of York, on the site of the Priory of St. Frideswide, was to have consisted of a Dean, Sub-Dean, one hundred Canons, ten Public Readers, thirteen Chaplains, an Organist, twelve Clerks, and thirteen Choristers.

This imperfect Foundation continued only from 1526 to 1529, when, before its completion, the Cardinal having fallen into disgrace, King Henry VIII. suspended the Foundation, which he re-established in 1532, under the name of Henry the Eighth's College, for a Dean and twelve Canons. This was again suppressed in 1545; and in the year following the Episcopal See was removed from Osney to this College, and the Church of St. Frideswide was constituted a Cathedral, by the name of the Cathedral Church of Christ in Oxford, for the maintenance of a Dean, eight Canons, eight Chaplains, a Schoolmaster, an Organist, eight Clerks, and eight Choristers; together with one hundred Students; to which number one more was added in 1664, in consequence of a Benefaction from William Thurstone, Esq.

The House is now governed by Statutes made by the University of Oxford Commissioners, which became law in 1882.

Under these Statutes, there is a body of Students (equivalent to Fellows) who are divided into two classes, Official and Non-Official.

There is also a body of Scholars. Of these, three are elected each year from Westminster School, and hold their places, in the first instance, for two years; but at the end of this period their tenure may be extended for three years more if the Governing Body shall have declared itself satisfied with their industry and good conduct.

There are also five Open Scholarships offered for competition every year, one at least for proficiency in Mathematics and one at least for proficiency in Natural Science. These Scholars hold their places for two years; but at the end of this period their tenure may be extended for a second term of two years if the Governing Body shall have declared itself satisfied with their industry and good conduct; and again for a further term of one year, under similar conditions and for special reasons.

Besides these, two Scholars are elected each year from among Undergraduate Members of the House who have been in residence for at least three Terms and have the leave of the Dean to compete. These Scholars hold their places, in the first instance, to the end of their sixteenth Term from Matriculation, but at the end of this period, under special circumstances, their tenure may be extended for one year more.

All these Scholarships are of the annual value of £80, inclusive of all allowances.

There are Open Exhibitions of £45 a-year, together with Tuition and dinner free, tenable in the first instance for two years, at the end of which time they may be extended by the Governing Body for an additional period of two years; and also Exhibitions of less amount. Candidates before being allowed to compete must satisfy the Dean that without such assistance they cannot maintain themselves at College. There is no other limitation.

Four Fell Exhibitions of £40 a-year, tenable for four years during continuous residence, are filled up by competition among Commoners of the House who have resided not less than three Terms.

The Slade Exhibition of £30 for one year is open to any not yet matriculated.

The Careswell Exhibitions are filled up by examinations holden each year at either Shrewsbury School or one of five other Schools in Salop, and are tenable under certain conditions for ten years.

XIV. TRINITY COLLEGE.

THIS College was originally founded and endowed by Edward the Third, Richard the Second, and the Priors and Bishops of Durham. As it was under the patronage of the latter, it obtained the name of Durham College, though dedicated from the beginning to the Holy Trinity, St. Mary, and St. Cuthbert.

Being merged with Religious Houses at the Reformation, it was suppressed; and Sir Thomas Pope, Knt., of Tittenhanger in Hertfordshire, having purchased the site and buildings, began and endowed a new Foundation, in 1554, for a President, twelve Fellows, and twelve Scholars. The Fellowships and Scholarships are entirely open.

There is also a Scholarship, nearly coeval with Sir Thomas Pope's foundation, founded by Richard Blount, Esq., of the city of London, who was connected by marriage with the Founder. The Henniker Scholarship was founded in the year 1867, by Aldborough Henniker, Esq., of Calcote, Somerset.

An Exhibition, called the Unton Pension, was given by Thomas Unton, Clerk, of Drayton, in Shropshire, in 1693; a second, called the Tylney Exhibition, by Frederick Tylney, Esq., of the county of Hants, in the year 1720; and a third by Edward Cobden, D.D., Archdeacon of London, in 1784. There are other Exhibitions in the gift of the College.

In 1873 the College received a legacy under the Will of Thomas Millard, Esq., who directed the income to be applied so as to advance Mathematical and General Science in the College.

XV. ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE.

THIS College was founded in 1555, by Sir Thomas White, Knt., Alderman of London. The original foundation consisted of a President, fifty Fellows and Scholars, one Chaplain, an Organist, six Singing Men, eight Choristers, and two Sextons.

Under the Statutes made by the University of Oxford Commissioners of 1877, the foundation will hereafter consist of—

1. Not less than fourteen nor more than eighteen Fellowships, of which seven may be Official Fellowships, the rest tenable for seven years. To these may, at future times, be added two ex officio Fellowships, to be held by the Laudian Professor of Arabic and the Professor of Mechanics and Civil Engineering.

2. Not less than twenty-eight Scholarships, of which six shall be open, fifteen appropriated to Merchant Taylors' School, two to Coventry School, two to Bristol School, two to Reading School, and one to Tunbridge School.

3. Four Senior Scholarships, also confined to former pupils of Merchant Taylors' School.

There is also one Open Scholarship, created from the estate of William Lambe by Statute 35 and 36 Vict. c. cliv.

In 1854, four Fellowships tenable for fourteen years were established in this College in pursuance of the Will of Dudley Fereday, Esq., of Ettingshall Park, Staffordshire. They are open, with certain limitations and under certain conditions in respect of literary proficiency, first, to the kindred of the Founder; secondly, to natives of Staffordshire; and in case of a Founder's kin or Staffordshire candidate not satisfying the conditions, then to any other person whatever.

Under the Will of the Rev. John Thomas Casberd, D.C.L., Prebendary of Llandaff, four Scholarships have been founded, each of the value of £80 per annum. Candidates to be Undergraduates not on any foundation, of at least one year's standing in the College.

XVI. JESUS COLLEGE.

FOUNDED by Queen Elizabeth, in 1571, on the petition of Hugh Price, LL.D., Treasurer of St. David's, who left lands for the maintenance of a Principal, eight Fellows, and eight Scholars: it was increased by different Benefactors, so that the Society consisted of a Principal, nineteen Fellows, and eighteen Scholars.

The College now consists of a Principal and not fewer than ten nor more than fourteen Fellows.

In the elections to Non-official Fellowships, unless one-half of the whole number of Fellows would have been eligible under the terms of the following restrictions, no person shall be eligible unless he is a native of Wales or Monmouthshire, or has been a Welsh Scholar of Jesus College, or, having been at the time of his Matriculation eligible to a Welsh Scholarship, has been for the eight Terms preceding his Degree of Bachelor of Arts a member of the College.

There are twenty-four Foundation Scholarships, of which twelve are open without restriction as to place of birth. There are also four Meyricke Scholarships, and one King Charles the First's Scholarship, and about sixteen Meyricke Exhibitions, and two King Charles the First's Exhibitions.

The King Charles the First's Scholarship and Exhibitions are restricted to Candidates born in Jersey or Guernsey or one of the islands adjacent to them, or educated for two out of the three years last preceding the election either at Victoria College, Jersey, or Elizabeth College, Guernsey.

The other Scholarships and the Meyricke Scholarships and Exhibitions are restricted to candidates who are either (1) natives of Wales or Monmouthshire; or (2) sons of parents who have been resident in Wales or Monmouthshire for a period of not less than seven years immediately preceding the day of election; or (3) have a knowledge of and are able to speak the Welsh language; or (4) have been educated for the three years last preceding the election (or last preceding their Matriculation if already Members of the University) at a school or schools in Wales or Monmouthshire; if any such person be found of sufficient merit, and fit to be a Scholar or Exhibitioner of the College in the judgment of the electors.

The Foundation Scholarships, and the Scholarships and Exhibitions on King Charles the First's foundation, are open only to Candidates under nineteen years of age. There is no restriction as to age for candidates for the Meyricke Scholarships and Exhibitions.

Exhibitions of variable amount and tenure, for the assistance of such members of the College receiving instruction under the direction of the College as the Principal and Fellows may deem to be in need of assistance at the University, are under no farther restrictions.

The value of a Scholarship is £80 a-year and of an Exhibition £50.

XVII. WADHAM COLLEGE.

ESTATES were purchased for the endowment of this College by Nicholas Wadham, of Meryfeild in Somersetshire, Esq.; and, after his death in 1609, his widow Dorothy, daughter of Sir William Petre, in pursuance of her husband's purpose, proceeded to erect the buildings for the Society, and made a considerable addition to its revenues. The College was founded for a Warden, fifteen Fellows, fifteen Scholars, two Chaplains, and two Clerks; who took possession of the buildings in 1613.

At the present time the number of Fellowships is eleven, including one held by the Professor of Experimental Philosophy, under the provisions of a Statute made by the University Commissioners in 1881.

Of the Fellowships there is to be one for the encouragement of the study of Medicine, to be maintained from the fund given by John Wills, D.D., Warden 1783-1806, who was a great Benefactor to the College.

The election of Fellows takes place on the Wednesday after Commemoration.

There are eighteen Scholarships, including five on the foundation of Humphrey Hody, D.D., Regius Professor of Greek 1698, and sometime Fellow of the College.

The election to two of Dr. Hody's Scholarships is made after an examination in the Hebrew language and literature, and in the election to the other three special regard is to be had to knowledge of Greek.

The Scholarships are of the value of £80 a-year. They are tenable in the first instance for two years, but in the case of all Scholars whose conduct and industry are satisfactory this term is prolonged to four years, to which for special reasons a fifth may be added. A Scholarship can in no case be held for longer than five years.

Candidates for Scholarships must be under nineteen years of age on the day of election, except in the case of Dr. Hody's Scholarships for Hebrew, for which the limit of age is twenty.

The election of Scholars takes place on the sixth of December.

From the income of Dr. Hody's fund prizes are to be given within the College on such conditions as the Warden and Fellows may determine, for proficiency in the Greek language and literature, or in Greek Archaeology.

There is a general Exhibition fund, formed from the funds given for Exhibitions by Mr. Goodridge, Mr. Pigot, Sir Benjamin Maddox, Bishop Lisle as Executor to Mr. Somerscales, Mr. Warner, and Dr. Gerard, with the residue of Dr. Hody's Fund.

In 1874 the sum of £2440 was given to the College by the Executors of the late Mr. Philip Wright of Manchester; and from this fund two Exhibitions, now of £50 a-year each, have been established for Scholars of the Manchester Grammar School.

By the Will of Benjamin Parsons Symons, D.D., sometime Warden, who died in 1877, the sum of £1000 Consols was given to the College to found an Exhibition for a Commoner.

XVIII. PEMBROKE COLLEGE.

THIS College, originally Broadgates Hall, was founded in the year 1624, by King James the First, at the costs and charges of Thomas Tesdale, Esquire, of Glympton in Oxfordshire, and Richard Wightwick, B.D., Rector of Ilsley, Berks, for a Master, ten Fellows, and ten Scholars, or more or fewer; and obtained its name from William Herbert, Earl of Pembroke, who was Chancellor of the University when it was founded.

Subsequent Benefactors were, King Charles I., Sir John Benet, afterwards Lord Ossulstone, Sir John Phillips, Bart., Francis Wightwick, Esq., Mrs. Sophia Sheppard, Dame Juliana Stafford, the Reverend William Oades, George Townsend, Esq., the Right Reverend George Morley, sometime Lord Bishop of Winchester, Francis Rous, Esq., sometime Provost of Eton College, Edmund Boulter, Esq., Dame Elizabeth Holford, Dr. Ratcliffe, sometime Master of the College, the Reverend William Phipps, M.A., sometime Scholar, and the Reverend Christopher Cleoburey, sometime Fellow.

A Scholarship was founded by subscription in 1861 in grateful commemoration of the Reverend Thomas Frederick Henney, M.A., for many years Vice-Gerent and Tutor of the College.

Queen Anne annexed a Canonry of Gloucester to the Mastership for ever.

The constitution of the College by Statutes of the Commissioners made in pursuance of the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge Act 1877, is now as follows:—

The College is to consist of a Master, of not less than ten Fellows, and of not less than twelve Scholars.

Two of the Fellows are styled Sheppard Fellows. Of these, one is to be called to the Bar, and the other is to proceed to the degree of D.M.

There are at present twenty-three Scholarships; all of which are tenable for four years, with the exception of the Townsend Scholarships, which are tenable for eight years; the holders, however, sharing in the emoluments during four years only.

XIX. WORCESTER COLLEGE.

THIS College, established in 1283 as a School for Benedictine monks under the name of Gloucester Hall<sup>1</sup> or College, received its charter of incorporation in 1714 as a foundation for a Provost, six Fellows, and six Scholars, under the Will of Sir Thomas Cookes, Bart. It has been further endowed by subsequent Benefactors, Mrs. Sarah Eaton, Dr. Clarke, Dr. Finney, Lady Holford, Mr. Kay, and Mr. Barnes.

Under the Statutes of 1882 the College will consist of a Provost, nine (or ten) Fellows, and nineteen Scholars: five on the Foundation of Sir Thomas Cookes, for persons educated at Bromsgrove School; four on that of Mrs. Eaton, for sons of Clergymen of the Church of England, or of some Church in communion therewith, needing assistance at the University; the remainder are open; namely, one on the Foundation of Dr. Finney; five on that of Dr. Clarke; one on that of Mr. Barnes, of the value of £120, for the encouragement of Biblical studies; and three others.

There will also be from six to ten Exhibitions, two of which are connected with the Charterhouse School, and three with Bromsgrove School.

<sup>1</sup> Gloucester Hall was founded in the year 1283, for the use of the Benedictine Monks of the Monastery of St. Peter in Gloucester. Several additional Buildings were afterwards added by the Monks of that order, in different parts of England, for the edification of those of their own Societies. After the dissolution of Monasteries, in the time of Henry VIII., on making Oxford a See, it was converted into the Episcopal Palace; but in the year 1559, it was purchased by Sir Thomas White, the Founder of St. John's College, who gave it the name of "St. John Baptist Hall," though it was more generally called "Gloucester Hall."

XX. KEBLE COLLEGE.

THE College was built by subscription as a memorial to the late Rev. John Keble, Vicar of Hursley, near Winchester, sometime Fellow and Tutor of Oriel College, and Professor of Poetry in the University of Oxford. The College was incorporated by Royal Charter bearing date June 6, 1870, and by this Charter it is declared to be "founded and constituted with the especial object and intent of providing persons desirous of academical education, and willing to live economically, with a College wherein sober living and high culture of the mind may be combined with Christian training based upon the principles of the Church of England."

The College is governed by a Warden and a Council of not less than nine, nor more than twelve, members. The whole charge and superintendence of the discipline and internal administration is lodged by the Charter in the hands of the Warden.

By a decree of Convocation, passed April 18, 1871, this College was admitted to the privileges mentioned in Statt. Tit. II. Sect. vi., On the Foundations for Academical Study and Education.

WARDEN.

XXI. HERTFORD COLLEGE.

ABOUT the year 1282 Elias de Hertford converted into a Hall for students certain premises in Oxford, which were thereafter known by the name of Hertford, Hert, or Hart Hall.

In 1740, Dr. Richard Newton, then Principal of Hart Hall, obtained a charter of incorporation for the Society, under the title of "The Principal and Fellows of Hertford College, in the University of Oxford;" but, the endowments proving insufficient, the College was in consequence dissolved in 1805. A part of the property of the dissolved College was transferred to the University, and the Hertford Scholarship was endowed therefrom. The remainder was transferred to Magdalen Hall under the following circumstances.

Magdalen Hall, originally designed by Bishop Waynflete for students previously to their admission into Magdalen College, and governed by one of the Fellows of that College, became, in 1602, an independent Hall. In 1816, the President and Fellows of Magdalen College, being desirous of recovering the site of the Hall, obtained an Act of Parliament (36 Geo. III, c. 136), enabling them to acquire for Magdalen Hall the site and buildings previously occupied by Hertford College. The Principal and other Members of the Hall were accordingly removed to these premises in 1822, and received, as stated above, the residue of the property formerly held by Hertford College.

In 1874, an Act was passed (37 and 38 Vict. c. 55), by which Magdalen Hall was dissolved, and the Principal and Scholars thereof were, together with certain Fellows mentioned in the Act, incorporated as a College of the University of Oxford under the name of "The Principal, Fellows, and Scholars of Hertford College, in the University of Oxford," and invested with "all such rights and privileges as are possessed or enjoyed or can be exercised by other Colleges in the University of Oxford."

This Society consists at present of a Principal appointed by the Chancellor of the University, nineteen Fellows, and forty Scholars.

The new Foundation consists of an endowment for fifteen Fellowships, thirty Scholarships, and sundry Lectureships. There are also (besides two unendowed Fellowships) two Fellowships tenable only by married men for a limited number of years. The thirty Scholarships are of the annual value of £100, and tenable for five years. Most of them are open.

Of the ten Scholarships formerly belonging to the dissolved Magdalen Hall, and tenable for at least three years, four founded by the Rev. John Meeke and two by the Rev. William Lucy are now of the annual value of £40, and are limited in the first instance to persons educated at the Free Grammar School of Worcester and Hampton Lucy School respectively, but in the absence of qualified candidates from these Schools are thrown open to general competition. The other four, three founded by Mr. Henry Lusby and one as a memorial of Dr. Macbride, late Principal of Magdalen Hall, are open, and worth at least £50 a year.

There are also two Exhibitions, founded respectively by Dr. Thomas White and Dr. Henry Brunsell, in the gift of the Principal.

THE Academical Halls now existing in Oxford are mansions for the reception of students, who live in them under discipline and instruction, and pass through the course of study to their several degrees, precisely in the same way as other students who reside in Colleges. But the term "Hall" implies also the society of students belonging to each; and in this sense there is a very important difference between Halls and Colleges, inasmuch as Halls are not corporate bodies, and have no endowments for Fellows, and all the property which they own is held in trust for them by the University. In two Halls some provision for the Principals has been made by Benefactors; and there are three in which a few Exhibitions or Scholarships have been founded.

In early times students resorting to Oxford took up their abode in lodging-houses, generally called Halls, under the charge of a Master or Principal chosen by themselves; and they removed from one Hall to another at their pleasure. The number of such Halls on record is so great, that we must suppose that very many of them were very small. Brian Twyne, at the end of his Apologia, has given the names of more than 180; and Sir John Peshall, from Wood's MSS., enumerates as many as 200. But Colleges gradually took the place of all the smallest, partly by the actual occupation of their sites, principally by offering better instruction and other advantages to students; so that when the Earl of Leicester was Chancellor, in the reign of Queen Elizabeth, there were but eight remaining open; and three of these were subsequently converted into Colleges.

Among the many steps taken by Lord Leicester for the restoration of good order and discipline in the University there are two which have tended to assimilate Halls to Colleges in most things concerning the residence of students within them. He secured for himself and his successors the right of appointing Principals to all Halls, except one in the gift of Queen's College; and he caused an ancient Statute to be put in force, which required that every student should belong to, and should reside within the walls of, some College or Hall. The modification of that Statute in 1855 by the institution of Private Halls, and the removal of its restrictions in 1868, have been already mentioned at page 34, and will be further spoken of at page 81.

<sup>1</sup> Although, under Statutes made by the University Commissioners of 1877, the remaining Halls are, with a partial exception in the case of St. Edmund Hall, destined to be ultimately absorbed into various Colleges, this article is retained as being generally applicable to the condition of the Halls at the time of publication.

The Heads of Halls are styled "Principals." In two of the three which still remain the Principal is appointed by the Chancellor of the University; in the third, St. Edmund Hall, the appointment is made by the Provost and Fellows of Queen's College. The Chancellor is the Visitor of all. Halls are governed by the Statuta Aularia, a code of regulations printed in the Statute Book, which were made originally by the University, and have been amended from time to time by Convocation. The Principal of each Hall is assisted in the exercise of discipline and in his other duties by a Vice-Principal and other Officers (when necessary), who are appointed by himself.

Under Statutes made by the University Commissioners of 1877, St. Mary Hall will ultimately become united to Oriel College, and New Inn Hall to Balliol College, while St. Edmund Hall will be partially united to Queen's College.

ST. MARY HALL.

THIS Hall was originally a tenement on the present site, given by Henry Kelpie, a citizen of Oxford, in 1239, to the Rector of St. Mary's Church, and his successors. It continued to be the Parsonage-house of the Rectors till Edward II., in 1325, gave the Church with all its appurtenances to Oriel College. It was converted by that Society, in 1333, into a separate place of education, and subsequently became an independent Academical Hall, receiving successive enlargement and improvements in its buildings, principally at the expense of former Principals, King, Nowell, Dean, and Hampden.

Thomas Nowell, D.D., formerly Principal of the Hall, left, by Will, certain shares in the Oxford Canal Navigation, for founding an Exhibition at the Hall, and for other purposes therein mentioned. The Exhibition is now of the value of £30 per annum, and tenable for four years from Matriculation; preference being given first to kin of the Founder or of his Wife, then to the lawful descendants of the Rev. John Rawbone (sometime Vice-Principal of St. Mary Hall) by Jane Mary his wife.

NEW INN HALL.

THIS Hall, situate on the west side of the North Bailey, was formerly known by the name of Trilleck's Inn, from the circumstance of its belonging to John Trilleck, Bishop of Hereford. Trilleck dying intestate in 1360, it became, together with two other tenements adjoining, the property of his brother Thomas, who six years after (he being then Bishop of Rochester) conveyed them to Mr. Hugh Pembroke, Mr. Roger Otterey, and Walter Brown, Rector of the Church of St. Magnus, in London; and they to William of Wykeham, Bishop of Winchester. William of Wykeham gave them, with three gardens, adjoining on the west side, also a messuage called Rose Hall, and a garden adjoining, to the Warden and Fellows of New College, in 1392. The first Principal on record occurs in 1438.

In the time of the civil war, from 1642 to 1646, this Hall was used as a mint for Charles I., to which the different Colleges and Halls sent their plate to be melted down for His Majesty's use.

It was restored to the purposes of Academical instruction by Dr. Cramer, Principal, afterwards Dean of Carlisle, who erected, at his own expense, a handsome building, with suitable offices, for the reception of students. A Chapel was added in 1868 by the present Principal.

ST. ALBAN HALL.

THIS Hall took its name from Robert de St. Alban, a citizen of Oxford, who conveyed the tenement to the nuns at Littlemore, near Oxford, in 1230. On the dissolution of Littlemore nunnery, it was given by Henry VIII. to George Owen, D.M., Physician to the King, and Fellow of Merton College, who conveyed it to Sir John Williams (afterwards Lord Williams of Thame) and Sir John Gresham. By permission of Edward VI. they assigned it over to John Pollard, and Robert Perrot, Esqrs., in 1547, by whom it was finally transferred to the Warden and Fellows of Merton College, and was some time after established as an Academical Hall.

ST. EDMUND HALL.

ST. EDMUND HALL is sometimes said to derive its name from St. Edmund, Archbishop of Canterbury in the reign of Henry III.

It appears to have been purchased in the year 1269 by the Canons of Osney, and soon afterwards devoted by them to the purposes of Academic instruction. The earliest Principals on record are William Boys and John de Cornubia, the latter of whom was Principal in the year 1317. After the dissolution of religious houses, it was granted by Henry VIII. to two citizens of Oxford, through whom it came, by purchase, into the possession of William Denyse (sometimes written Devenysh, or Dennyson), Provost of Queen's College. It was by him devised, in 1557, to Queen's College, which Society procured, A.D. 1559, an Act of Congregation, confirmed by the Chancellor, which vested in them the perpetual right of nominating the Principal.

In 1763, George Holme, D.D., sometime Fellow of Queen's College, and Rector of Hedleigh, Hants, bequeathed the sum of £1000 to the University, in trust to apply it, with accumulated interest, to the purchase of the Advowson of a Living, to which the Principal of St. Edmund Hall should be presented. In 1821 the Advowson of Gatcombe was purchased, to which the University first presented in 1844.

Members of this Hall are admitted to any of the Lectures given in Queen's College.

PRIVATE HALLS.

A Statute passed in 1882 (in substitution for an earlier one dating from 1855) enacts that any Member of Convocation above the age of twenty-eight may, under certain conditions, obtain from the Vice-Chancellor, with the consent of the Hebdomadal Council, a licence to open a suitable building as a Private Hall for the reception of Academical students with the title of "Licensed Master," and make provision for the proper government of the students under his charge. They are subject to all other Statutes of the University, and they partake in its privileges, and are admissible to its degrees, in the same way as other students.

The Private Halls now existing are—

CHARSLEY'S HALL.

WILLIAM HENRY CHARSLEY, M.A., Licensed Master.

TURRELL'S HALL.

HENRY JOSEPH TURRELL, M.A., Licensed Master.

STUDENTS WHO DO NOT BELONG TO ANY COLLEGE OR HALL.

IN the year 1868 the restrictions of an ancient Statute, which has been already mentioned, were removed ; and persons are now permitted, under certain conditions prescribed in Statt. Tit. III. Sect. I. and IV., to become Students and Members of the University without being members of any College or Hall. Such persons keep their statutable residence in houses or licensed lodgings within the limit of a circle the centre of which is Carfax, and the radius a line one mile and a half in length ; they enjoy the same rights of profiting by Professors' lectures, of competing for University Prizes, of attaining distinction in the Public Examinations, and of being admitted to degrees and to all the consequent privileges, as are enjoyed by other students.

The reception of students into the University under the prescribed conditions, and the exercise of discipline over them during their residence in Oxford, are committed to a Delegacy consisting of the Vice-Chancellor, the Proctors, a Censor, the Controller of Lodging Houses, and three Members of Convocation nominated by the Vice-Chancellor and Proctors, to hold office for six years. The Censor, who is similarly nominated, holds office for five years.

The Students are under the supervision of the Censor, who is charged with the care of their conduct and studies.

There are also Tutors appointed by the Delegates to give instruction to the Students.

AFFILIATED COLLEGES.

By a Statute of the University passed in 1880, any College or Institution within the United Kingdom or in any part of the British Dominions, being a place of education in which the majority of the students are of the age of 17 at least, may on certain conditions be admitted to the privileges of an Affiliated College. The conditions are in effect as follows :—

The College or Institution must be incorporated by Royal Charter or otherwise established on a permanent and efficient footing ; it must allow the University to be represented on its Governing Body and to take part in its examinations ; it must have been admitted to the privileges of an Affiliated College by a vote of Convocation ; and the connexion between it and the University must be terminable at the will of either body.

Any person who has completed a course of three years at such a College, and obtained honours at its second or final examination, may, without being previously matriculated, be admitted to the First Public Examination in this University ; and if he passes that Examination, and is matriculated in the next following Term, he is absolved from Responsions, and may, as regards all provisions affecting academical standing, reckon the Term in which he was matriculated as the fifth Term from his matriculation.

If further he obtains honours at the First or Second Public Examination, he may be admitted B.A. after eight Terms of academical residence, provided he has then passed his Final Examination.

The effect of this Statute is to reduce the period of necessary academical residence for a person coming from an Affiliated College from three to two years.

The institutions at present admitted to these privileges are—

1880 June 1. St. David's College, Lampeter.

1882 June 15. University College, Nottingham.

PROFESSORSHIPS.

THE pages immediately following contain an account of the foundation of each of the Professorships now existing within the University, and of the manner in which the appointments to them are now made.

It may here be mentioned that one of the chief features in the legislation carried out by the University Commissioners under the Act of 1877 has been the augmentation of the value of many of the Professorships, by attaching to them Fellowships and other emoluments drawn from the revenues of Colleges, while the endowment of many new Chairs has been provided for from the same sources.

As a general rule Professorships are now tenable for life. Except in the case of those Chairs the appointment to which belongs to the Crown, and of a few others, the election to every Professorship is vested in an Electoral Board consisting of not fewer than five or more than seven members, and provision is made for the representation on each Board of the College (if any) from whose revenues the Professorship is endowed or augmented.

The general duties of Professors are regulated under a Statute made by the Commissioners defining the amount of residence, number of lectures, and course of instruction required of each. The particular duties assigned to each Professor are partly regulated by the same Statute, and partly by Statutes made by the same Commissioners for the several Professorships. Under another Statute of the Commissioners, a Visitation Board has been constituted, consisting of the Vice-Chancellor and six other members of the University of the degree of M.A. at the least, to which is committed the duty of enforcing the performance of the obligations attaching to the Professorships.

REGIUS PROFESSORSHIPS OF DIVINITY, CIVIL LAW, MEDICINE, HEBREW, AND GREEK.

THESE five Professorships, founded by King Henry VIII, were settled and confirmed by him in 1546. To each of them he assigned a yearly stipend of £40, to be paid by the Dean and Chapter of Westminster, then newly founded; but they relieved themselves of the charge by making over to the King certain estates with which he had partly endowed them; and the Dean and Chapter of Christ Church were then charged by the King with the payment of the stipends of the Professors of Divinity, Hebrew, and Greek; the Professors of Civil Law and Medicine receiving theirs from the Royal Exchequer. The appointment to each Professorship is made by the Crown.

REGIUS PROFESSORSHIP OF DIVINITY.

King James I augmented the endowment of this Professorship by annexing to the Chair, in 1605, a Canonry of Christ Church and the Rectory of Ewelme in Oxfordshire. The Rectory has since been severed from the Professorship by an Act of Parliament passed in 1871.

REGIUS PROFESSORSHIP OF CIVIL LAW.

KING James I augmented the endowment of this Professorship by annexing to the Chair, in 1617, a Lay Prebend in the Church of Salisbury, since commuted for an annual payment of £100 by the Ecclesiastical Commissioners. The existing Professor at present receives an additional stipend of £300 a-year from the University Chest.

Under Statutes made for All Souls College by the University Commissioners of 1877 the endowment of the Professorship is to be augmented to £700 a-year from the College revenues, and a Fellowship in the College, with an emolument of £200 a-year, is also to be attached to the Chair.

In connexion with this Professorship a temporary Readership of Roman Law has been established, for particulars of which see post, page 116.

REGIUS PROFESSORSHIP OF MEDICINE.

KING James I augmented the endowment of this Professorship by annexing to the Chair, in 1617, the Mastership of the Hospital at Ewelme in Oxfordshire. The endowment was further augmented by the addition of the Tomlins Prælectorship of Anatomy, in 1624, and of the Aldrichian Professorship of Anatomy, in 1803. These however were separated from the Regius Professorship by a Statute approved by the Queen in Council in 1858, and the Aldrichian Professorship of the Practice of Medicine, with an emolument of about £130 a-year, was then annexed to the Chair. The Professor acts as an Examiner in all examinations for Degrees in Medicine granted by the University.

REGIUS PROFESSORSHIP OF GREEK.

The endowment of this Professorship received no augmentation until the year 1865, when the Dean and Chapter of Christ Church increased the Professor's stipend to £500 a year.

Under Statutes made for Christ Church by the University Commissioners in 1877 this augmentation is maintained, and on the next vacancy in the Professorship it is to be increased to £900 a-year, but such augmentation is not to take effect unless the Professor shall be or become a Student of Christ Church.

MARGARET PROFESSORSHIP OF DIVINITY.

This Professorship, the oldest existing in the University, was founded in 1502 by Margaret, Countess of Richmond, mother of Henry VII, and endowed with an annual pension of twenty marks. In 1627 King Charles I annexed to it a Prebend in Worcester Cathedral, which was commuted by Act of Parliament in 1840 for a Canonry of Christ Church. Originally the election was vested in the Graduates in Divinity, and the office became vacant every two years, but was continued by re-election for life. Now, from 1858, not only all Graduates in Divinity, but all those Members of the Congregation of the University who are at least in Deacon's Orders, are electors, and the election is for life. The Professor must be either a Graduate in Divinity or a Master of Arts of seven years' standing and in Priest's Orders.

SAVILIAN PROFESSORSHIPS OF GEOMETRY AND ASTRONOMY.

In the year 1619 Sir Henry Savile, Knight, Warden of Merton College, founded and endowed two Professorships, one in Geometry, and the other in Astronomy. The Professors may be chosen from any part of Christendom, provided they are persons of good character and repute, well skilled in mathematics, and twenty-six years of age: if Englishmen, they must be M.A. at the least. The endowment of each Chair was augmented from the revenues of New College under an ordinance of the University Commissioners of 1854.

Under Statutes made for New College by the Commissioners of 1877 a Fellowship in the College, with an emolument of £200 a-year, will ultimately be attached to each Chair, and in addition to the income of such Fellowship and to that arising from the Savilian endowment, each Professor is to receive from the College an annual payment of £400, which, however, in years when the income from the Savilian endowment exceeds £300, is to be reduced by the amount of the excess. The effect of these provisions is that the emoluments of each Professorship will ultimately be not less than £900 a year.

SAVILIAN PROFESSOR OF GEOMETRY.

The Professor is elected by a Board consisting of the Chancellor of the University, the President of the Royal Society, the Warden of New College, a person nominated on each occasion by the Warden and Fellows of New College to act as an Elector on that occasion, the Sadlerian Professor of Pure Mathematics in the University of Cambridge, the Sedleian Professor of Natural Philosophy, and a person nominated on each occasion by the Hebdomadal Council to act as an Elector on that occasion. If the Warden of New College is unable to act as an Elector, the College may appoint a person to act in his stead.

Professors.

- 1827 Baden Powell, M.A., Oriel
- 1861 Henry John Stephen Smith, M.A., F.R.S., Fellow of Balliol, Fellow of Corpus
- 1883 Vacant.

SAVILIAN PROFESSOR OF ASTRONOMY.

The Professor will hereafter be elected by a Board consisting of the Chancellor of the University, the President of the Royal Society, the Astronomer Royal, the Radcliffe Observer, the Warden of New College, a person nominated on each occasion by the Warden and Fellows of New College to act as an Elector on that occasion, and a person similarly nominated by the Hebdomadal Council. If the Warden of New College is unable to act as an Elector, the College may appoint a person to act in his stead.

The Professor has the charge of the University Observatory, (see post, p. 127).

Professors.

 1870 CHARLES PRITCHARD, M.A., F.R.S., F.R.A.S., (M.A., and sometime Fellow of St. John's, Cambridge,) D.D., Fellow of New College.

SEDLEYIAN PROFESSORSHIP OF NATURAL PHILOSOPHY.

This Professorship was founded by Sir William Sedley, of Aylesford in Kent, Bart., who by his Will, dated October 20, 1618, bequeathed the sum of £2000 to the University, to be laid out in the purchase of lands, for its endowment; and his bequest took effect in 1621. The stipend arising from this endowment now amounts to about £320 a year, and is further augmented by an annual payment of £270 from the revenues of Queen's College under an ordinance of the University Commissioners of 1854.

Under Statutes made for Queen's College by the Commissioners of 1877 this augmentation is hereafter to be increased from the College revenues by such an amount as shall raise the income of the Professorship to £900 a year.

Under another Statute of the same Commissioners the Professor is hereafter to be elected by a Board consisting of the Vice-Chancellor, the President of the Royal Society, the Provost of Queen's College, a person nominated on each occasion by Queen's College to act as an Elector on that occasion, the Professor of Experimental Philosophy, the Savilian Professor of Geometry, and a person nominated on each occasion by the Hebdomadal Council to act as an Elector on that occasion. If the Provost of Queen's College is unable to act as an Elector, the College may appoint a person to act in his stead.

 1853 BARTHOLOMEW PRICE, M.A., Fellow of Pembroke, F.R.S.

WHYTE'S PROFESSORSHIP OF MORAL PHILOSOPHY.

This Professorship was founded in the year 1621 by Thomas Whyte, D.D., Canon of Christ Church, who charged an estate in Essex, which he then conveyed to the University, with an annual stipend of £100 for the Professor and with other payments. He made the Chair tenable for five years only, or at the most for ten, and appointed the Vice-Chancellor, the Dean of Christ Church, the Presidents of Magdalen and St. John's, and the two Proctors, to be the electors.

In 1673 a practice began of electing one of the Proctors, usually the Senior, to the office; in course of time the Lectures were entirely dropped; and at length the Professorship was so forgotten, that it was never mentioned in the Oxford Calendar before the year 1831, the abuse having continued, with one exception only, till February 1829.

The Professorship was established on a new footing by a Statute which was approved by the Queen in Council in 1858.

It is now regulated by Statutes made by the Commissioners of 1877, under which the stipend of the Professor will be ultimately raised to £900 a-year, namely, £100 from the original endowment, and the residue, including the emoluments of a Fellowship in Corpus Christi College attached to the Professorship, from the revenues of that College.

The Professor is elected by a Board consisting of the Vice-Chancellor, the Margaret Professor of Divinity, the Regius Professor of Modern History, the Vinerian Professor of English Law, the Waynflete Professors of Moral and Metaphysical Philosophy, a member of Corpus Christi College nominated on each occasion by the College to act as an Elector on that occasion, and a person nominated as a permanent Elector by that College, subject to the approval of Convocation (at present, Henry G. Liddell, D.D., Dean of Christ Church).

CAMDEN PROFESSORSHIP OF ANCIENT HISTORY.

The Professorship of Ancient History was founded in the year 1622 by William Camden, Esq., Clarencieux King at Arms, who endowed it with an annual stipend of £140, charged upon the manor of Bexley in Kent, which he gave to the University. The stipend is at present augmented to £600 out of the University Chest.

Under Statutes made by the Commissioners of 1877 for the University and Brasenose College respectively, the original endowment will ultimately be augmented from the revenues of the College to £900 a-year, and the Professor will be ex officio a Professorial Fellow of that Society.

The Professor, who has hitherto been elected by Convocation, is hereafter to be elected by a Board consisting of the Vice-Chancellor, the Regius Professor of Greek, the Corpus Christi Professor of the Latin Language and Literature, the Regius Professor of Modern History, and a person nominated on each occasion by the Principal and Fellows of Brasenose College to act as an Elector on that occasion.

TOMLINS PROFESSORSHIP OF ANATOMY.

A Lecture in Anatomy was founded in 1624 by Richard Tomlins, Esq., of Westminster, who assigned it to the Regius Professor of Medicine for the time being; and to this was annexed in 1803 the Professorship of Anatomy founded by Dr. Aldrich. By a Statute, approved by the Queen in Council in 1858, both were annexed to the Linacre Professorship of Physiology.

Under a Statute made by the Commissioners of 1877, the emoluments arising from the joint foundations are to be applied, in such manner as the University shall from time to time determine, to the payment of a Demonstrator or Demonstrators in Anatomy appointed by the Linacre Professor of Human and Comparative Anatomy. See post, p. 110.

PROFESSORSHIP OF MUSIC, WITH OFFICES OF CHORAGUS AND PRÆCENTOR.

William Heather, Doctor in Music, founded this Professorship in the year 1626, making the office annual, and vesting the appointment in the Proctors. He also made provision for a Choragus, or Master of Musical Praxis, to be elected by the Vice-Chancellor, the Dean of Christ Church, the Warden of New College, and the Presidents of Magdalen and St. John's. He assigned to his Professor a stipend of £3, to which the University at once added £2 5s. (a sum previously received by the ancient Reader in Moral Philosophy), and to which Nathaniel, Lord Crewe, Bishop of Durham, afterwards added £30. The stipend of the Choragus was £13 6s. 8d.

By a new Statute, approved by the Queen in Council in 1857, the Professor is elected for life by the Vice-Chancellor, the Warden of New College, the President of Magdalen, the Dean of Christ Church, the President of St. John's, the two Proctors, the two Savilian Professors, and the Professor of Poetry; and the Choragus is elected by the Vice-Chancellor, the two Proctors, the Professor of Music, and the Public Orator; each election being subject to the approval of Convocation. And it has been enacted that there shall be a Præcentor or Coryphæus, nominated by the Professor of Music, subject to the approval of Convocation, who is to assist the Choragus. The stipend of the Professor is augmented to £100 out of the University Chest, besides the benefaction of Lord Crewe. The stipend of the Choragus is the same as Dr. Heather left it, but he shares with the Præcentor in the fees paid by Students.

LAUDIAN PROFESSORSHIP OF ARABIC.

Founded in 1636 by William Laud, Archbishop of Canterbury, and Chancellor of the University, who endowed it with lands in the parish of Bray, in Berkshire, which gave but a small stipend. The income has subsequently been augmented to £300 out of the University Chest.

Under Statutes made by the Commissioners of 1877, for the University and St. John's College respectively, future Professors will receive, in addition to the emoluments arising from Archbishop Laud's benefaction, an annual payment of £450 from the revenues of the College. From the time when such sum shall become payable the holder of the Professorship is to be ex officio a Fellow of the College.

The Professor is hereafter to be elected by a Board consisting of the Secretary of State for India, the President of St. John's College, the Regius Professor of Hebrew, the Boden Professor of Sanskrit, and Bodley's Librarian. If the President of St. John's College is unable to act as an Elector, the College may appoint a person to act in his stead.

Professors.

 1840 Stephen Reay, M.A., St. Alban Hall; B.D.; Sub-Librarian of the Bodleian
 1861 ROBERT GANDELL, M.A., Magdalen Hall; Fellow of Hertford.

PROFESSORSHIP OF BOTANY.

In compliance with the Will of Henry Danvers, Earl of Danby, by whose munificence during the period 1622—1633 the Botanic Garden was founded, the inappropriate Rectory of Kirkdale in Yorkshire was conveyed to the University for the purpose, 1. of paying £40 a-year to a Gardener; 2. of building a house for the Gardener; 3. of defraying the necessary expenses of the Garden; and then (if possible) establishing a Professor. This bequest took effect in 1659; and in 1669, although the revenue was very small, the University elected a Professor, assigning to him a stipend of £40 a-year. But that Professor, Dr. Morison, stands alone; no immediate successor was elected by Convocation.

In 1728, William Sherard, D.C.L., sometime Fellow of St. John's College, bequeathed to the University his Library and very valuable Herbarium, and £3000 for the endowment of a Professorship, vesting the nomination in the College of Physicians. Dr. Sherard's bequest took effect in 1734, and, in compliance with a condition in his Will, the University then charged its rents and revenues with an annual payment of £150 for the maintenance of the Garden.

In 1793 King George III granted the sum of £200 yearly, which was reduced by fees of office to £182, half to augment the stipend of the Professor, and half towards the maintenance of the Garden; which sum, since the remission of certain stamp duties in 1855, has been paid from the University Chest.

To this foundation Dr. Sibthorp (who was Professor of Botany 1784—96) attached a Professorship of Rural Economy<sup>1</sup>, but the two Professorships are now separated, a Statute made for Magdalen College by the University Commissioners of 1877 having provided that in the event of the two Professorships ceasing to be combined, but not otherwise, a Fellowship in the College should be attached to the Professorship of Botany, and further that the emoluments of that Professorship should be augmented from the College revenues to £300 a-year.

The Professor of Botany is hereafter to be elected by a Board consisting of the Visitor and President of Magdalen College, the Presidents of the Linnæan Society and of the College of Physicians, a person nominated by the Hebdomadal Council as a permanent Elector, subject to approval by Convocation, the Linacre Professor of Human and Comparative Anatomy, and the Professor of Botany in the University of Cambridge.

The charge and supervision of the Botanic Garden are committed to the Professor of Botany, to be exercised by him subject to such authority as may for the time being be vested in the Curators of the Garden.

PROFESSORSHIP OF POETRY.

Founded by Henry Birkhead, sometime of Trinity, afterwards Fellow of All Souls, a Barrister of the Inner Temple, and D.C.L., who bequeathed for the endowment an estate which he held by lease from the Dean and Chapter of Durham. His bequest took effect in 1708. The fee-simple of the estate has since been purchased by the University. The yearly stipend of the Professorship consists of £80 from the rent of the estate, and is increased by £20 from the Benefaction of Nathaniel,

THE LORD ALMONER'S PROFESSORSHIP OF ARABIC.

The origin of this Professorship cannot be ascertained, for the records of the Almonry Office anterior to the year 1724 perished in a fire which took place many years ago in St. James's Palace. But it is probable that the first appointment was made in the reign of George I, and that no person held it before the eminent Orientalist John Gagnier, whose name is now the first on record, and who, in 1717, was appointed by the Vice-Chancellor to give public Lectures in Arabic in the absence of the Laudian Professor.

The Professor is appointed by the Lord High Almoner. The yearly stipend, which at first was only £25, was raised to £50 in 1770; but this sum is considerably reduced by fees of office in the Exchequer.

Professors.

- 1724 John Gagnier, M.A., of Cambridge
- 1741 Thomas Hunt, M.A., Fellow of Hertford, and Laudian Professor of Arabic; D.D.; afterwards Regius Professor of Hebrew.

- 1748 Richard Browne, B.D., Fellow of Trinity; D.D.; afterwards Regius Professor of Hebrew
 1780 Henry Ford, B.A., Ch. Ch.; afterwards Principal of Magdalen Hall, D.C.L.
 1813 John David Macbride, D.C.L., Principal of Magdalen Hall
 1868 Thomas Chenery (M.A., of Caius College, Cambridge), M.A., Ch. Ch.
 1878 GEORGE FREDERICK NICHOLL, M.A., Balliol.

REGIUS PROFESSORSHIP OF MODERN HISTORY.

This Professorship was founded by King George I in 1724, with an annual stipend of £400, reduced by fees of office to £371, to be paid from the Exchequer. This stipend, since the remission of certain stamp duties in 1855, has been paid from the University Chest. Under an ordinance of the University Commissioners the endowment has been augmented by the annual sum of £250 from the revenues of Oriel College.

Regulations concerning the duties of the Professor were made by Letters Patent under the Great Seal in 1859. The original regulations comprised a scheme for instruction in modern languages, which is now provided by Sir Robert Taylor's bequest.

Under Statutes made by the Commissioners of 1877 for the University and Oriel College respectively, the stipend of the Professor will ultimately be £900 a-year, namely, £300 from the University Chest, and the residue, including the emoluments of a Professor-Fellowship in Oriel College annexed to the Chair, from the revenues of that College.

Professors.

- 1724 David Gregory, M.A., Student, afterwards Dean, of Ch. Ch.
 1736 William Holmes, D.D., President of St. John's
 1742 Joseph Spence, M.A., Fellow of New College, sometime Professor of Poetry
 1768 John Vivian, M.A., Fellow of Balliol
 1771 Thomas Nowell, D.D., Principal of St. Mary Hall
 1801 Henry Beeke, D.D., sometime Fellow of Oriel
 1813 Edward Nares, M.A., sometime Fellow of Merton; D.D.
 1841 Thomas Arnold, D.D., sometime Fellow of Oriel
 1842 John Antony Cramer, D.D., Principal of New Inn Hall, and Public Orator
 1848 Henry Halford Vaughan, M.A., sometime Fellow of Oriel
 1858 Goldwin Smith, M.A., Fellow of University
 1866 WILLIAM STUBBS, M.A., sometime Fellow of Trinity, Fellow of Oriel; Hon. Student of Ch. Ch.; Hon. Fellow of Balliol; D.D.

PROFESSORSHIP OF EXPERIMENTAL PHILOSOPHY.

This Professorship is due to the bounty of Nathaniel, Lord Crewe, Bishop of Durham 1674—1722, who desired that £30 out of the annual Benefaction of £200 which he bequeathed to the University should be paid to "a Reader of Experimental Philosophy." It began in 1749, when his bequest was first received; but Public Lectures on the subject were previously given. To this small stipend King George IV, while Prince Regent, added a grant of £100 a-year from the revenues of the Crown; which sum, since the remission of certain stamp duties in 1855, has been paid from the University Chest. The University has further augmented the stipend to £300 a-year; and, under an ordinance of the University Commissioners of 1855, the present Professor also receives the annual sum of £200 from the revenues of Wadham College. The Professor was appointed by the Vice-Chancellor alone until the year 1863, then by a Board of Electors.

Under Statutes made by the Commissioners of 1877 for the University and Wadham College respectively, the total emoluments of the Professorship, exclusive of fees, are ultimately to be not less than £700 or more than £900 a-year. A non-stipendiary Fellowship in Wadham College is also annexed to the Chair.

The Professor is hereafter to be elected by a Board consisting of the Vice-Chancellor, the Warden of Wadham College, the Sedleian Professor of Natural Philosophy, the Waynflete Professor of Chemistry, and the President of the Royal Society. If the Warden of Wadham College is unable to act as an Elector, the College may appoint a person to act in his stead.

The Professor has the charge of the Clarendon Laboratory.

VINERIAN PROFESSORSHIP OF COMMON LAW.

Charles Viner, Esq., by his Will, dated December 20, 1755, left about £12,000 to the University, to establish a Professorship, and to endow such Fellowships and Scholarships of the Common Law, as the produce of his legacy might be thought capable of supporting. His bequest took effect in 1758, and the stipend of the Professorship was then fixed at £200 a-year, and the Professor was to be elected by Convocation.

Under a Statute approved by the Queen in Council in 1867, the Professor was to be elected by a Board thereby constituted, and until there should be a vacancy in the Professorship a Reader was to be appointed from time to time for three years, to give instruction in Civil Law as well as English Law. The first Reader was appointed February 25, 1868, and the Readership was continued until December, 1881.

Under Statutes made by the Commissioners of 1877 for the University and All Souls College respectively, the Professor is to receive the annual proceeds of the trust estate of Mr. Viner's Foundation, after payment of the statutory emoluments of the Scholars of that Foundation, and also the emoluments appropriated to the Professorship out of the revenues of All Souls College. These latter are £200 a-year as the emolument of a Fellowship in the College attached to the Professorship, and, in addition, such a sum as, together with what the Professor shall receive from the Vinerian Foundation, shall amount to £700 a-year.

The Professor is henceforth to be elected by a Board consisting of the Chancellor of the University, the Lord Chief Justice of England, the Regius Professor of Civil Law, the Corpus Professor of Jurisprudence, and a person to be nominated on each occasion by All Souls College to act as an Elector on that occasion.

LICHFIELD TRUST FOR CLINICAL INSTRUCTION.

A Professorship was founded for the reading of Clinical Lectures in the Radcliffe Infirmary to the Students in Medicine of the University, by the bounty of George Henry Lee, third Earl of Lichfield of that name, Chancellor of the University; who bequeathed for its endowment some property in London, which in 1780, when his bequest took effect, produced a capital sum exceeding £7000 in £3 per cent. Consolidated Annuities. This Fund is invested in the names of the Chancellor of the University, the Bishop of Oxford, and the President of St. John's College as ex officio Trustees. The Professor was chosen by Convocation, and was to be a Doctor of Medicine of five years' standing.

A Statute made for the University by the Commissioners of 1877 directed that the income of the Trust Fund should be applied in or towards providing Clinical instruction in Oxford for Members of the University, such instruction to be given by a Clinical Professor, or by one or more Clinical Lecturer or Lecturers, and empowered the University to make Statutes regulating the office of any such Professor or Lecturer.

In exercise of this authority the University in 1883 enacted that the annual income of the endowment should be applied in and towards providing Clinical instruction in Medicine and Surgery for Members of the University at the Radcliffe Infirmary, subject to the approval by the Hebdomadal Council of the rules made from time to time by the Governors of the Infirmary for the admission of Students. If and so long as the Hebdomadal Council is allowed to nominate four of its members to be associated with the Electoral Board appointed by the Governors for the appointment of Physicians and Surgeons of the Infirmary, one of the Physicians is to be appointed Lichfield Clinical Lecturer in Medicine, and one of the Surgeons Lichfield Clinical Lecturer in Surgery, each receiving an equal moiety of the annual income of the endowment. Each is to be appointed for a term of two years, but is to be capable of re-appointment. The appointment is to be made by the Hebdomadal Council after consultation with the Medical Staff of the Infirmary.

The provisions of the University Statute are to remain in force only until the end of the next Term after any vacancy may occur in the Regius Professorship of Medicine.

Professors.

- 1780 John Parsons, D.M., Student of Ch. Ch.
 1785 Martin Wall, D.M., Fellow of New College
 1824 Robert Bourne, D.M., sometime Fellow of Worcester
 1830 James Adey Ogle, D.M., Trinity; Regius Professor of Medicine
 1857 Henry Wentworth Acland, D.M., Ch. Ch., sometime Fellow of All Souls, Regius Professor of Medicine; resigned in 1880.

The following appointments have been made under the new Statute:—

Lecturer in Medicine.

- 1883 EDWARD BENJAMIN GRAY, D.M., Exeter.

Lecturer in Surgery.

- 1883 ALFRED WINKFIELD, F.R.C.S.

RAWLINSONIAN PROFESSORSHIP OF ANGLO-SAXON.

Founded by Richard Rawlinson, D.C.L., of St. John's College, who endowed it with some annual or fee-farm rents, payable out of certain lands in Lancashire. He directed that the Professorship should be tenable for five years only, that the several Colleges in the University should enjoy it one after another, but that St. John's College should have every fifth turn. The endowment took effect in 1795, forty years after his death, according to his desire.

By a Statute, sanctioned by the Queen in Council in 1858, the Professorship was made tenable for life, any Member of Convocation became eligible, and the range of the Professor's lectures was no longer confined to the language of the Anglo-Saxons, but was made to take in also the history of that people, the old Low-German dialects, and the antiquities of Northern Europe. The election was vested in the Congregation of the University, and the stipend was augmented to £300 a-year from the University Chest.

Under a Statute made by the Commissioners of 1877 the Professor's stipend remains as before; the Professor is hereafter to be elected by a Board consisting of the Vice-Chancellor, the Merton Professor of English Language and Literature, the Corpus Christi Professor of Comparative Philology, the Principal Librarian of the British Museum, and a person appointed on each occasion by the Hebdomadal Council to act as an Elector on that occasion.

The University may at any time by Statute determine that this Professorship shall be united with a Professorship, the foundation of which is not yet completed, called the Merton Professorship of English Language and Literature, or shall be capable of being held with it.

ALDRICHIAN PROFESSORSHIPS OF ANATOMY, THE PRACTICE OF MEDICINE, AND CHEMISTRY.

These three Professorships were founded by George Aldrich, D.M., sometime of Merton College, who by his Will, proved Jan. 26, 1798, bequeathed the residue of his property for their endowment in equal portions. This fund in 1803, when his bequest took effect, amounted to £12,950 in £3 per cent. Government Annuities.

The revenues of the Professorship of Anatomy, (which was annexed by the founder himself to the Tomlins Prælectorship, and so to the Regius Professorship of Medicine,) have by various enactments, and ultimately by a Statute made by the Commissioners of 1877 concerning the Linacre Professor of Human and Comparative Anatomy, been made applicable to the payment of a Demonstrator or Demonstrators in Anatomy appointed by that Professor.

The Professorship of the Practice of Medicine, which at first was in the gift of Convocation, and was held from 1803 to 1824 by Dr. Bourne, afterwards Clinical Professor, and from 1824 to 1857 by Dr. Ogle, Clinical Professor, was annexed under a Statute, sanctioned by the Queen in Council in 1858, and still operative, to the Regius Professorship of Medicine.

The Professorship of Chemistry was in the gift of Convocation. The stipend was augmented by King George IV, while Prince Regent, by a grant of £100 from the revenues of the Crown; which sum, since the remission of certain stamp duties in 1855, has been paid from the University Chest: and the whole is now, since the suppression of the Professorship in 1866, applied to the payment of the salary of a Demonstrator, and to the purchase of chemical apparatus or other means towards the promotion of the study of chemistry in the University.

1822 Charles Giles Bridle Daubeny, D.M., Fellow of Magdalen

1855 Benjamin Collins Brodie, B.A., Balliol; afterwards Sir B. C. Brodie, Bart., M.A.

Demonstrators.

1873 Thomas Heathcote Gerald Wyndham, M.A., Fellow of Merton

1873 WALTER WILLIAM FISHER, M.A., sometime Fellow of Corpus.

PROFESSORSHIP OF RURAL ECONOMY.

This Professorship was founded under the will of John Sibthorp, D.M., University College, Professor of Botany 1784-96, and attached by him to the Sherardian Professorship of Botany.

By a Statute made by the University Commissioners of 1877 the two Professorships have been separated, and under a scheme sanctioned by the Chancery Division of the High Court of Justice in 1883 the Professor of Rural Economy is henceforth to be elected by a Board consisting of the Vice-Chancellor, the Sherardian Professor of Botany, the Professor of Geology, the Waynflete Professors of Physiology and of Chemistry, and the Presidents of the Royal and the Linnæan Societies.

The Professor is to hold office for three years from election, at the end of which period he may be re-elected for a second term of three years, but no Professor is to hold the Professorship for more than six years consecutively. He is to lecture and give instruction on the scientific principles of Agriculture and Forestry, and to receive the emolument of £200 a-year assigned by the Founder to the Professorship.

PROFESSORSHIPS OF MINERALOGY AND GEOLOGY.

Lectures in Mineralogy and Geology having been delivered before the University by permission of the Vice-Chancellor, King George IV, while Prince Regent, was pleased to endow two Chairs for those subjects by a grant of £100 a-year for each from the revenues of the Crown, the former in 1813, the latter in 1818. The stipends, after the remission of certain stamp duties in 1855, were paid from the University Chest, and the University augmented them by the further annual payment of £150 to the Professor of Mineralogy and of £300 to the Professor of Geology, subject to certain conditions, whereof residence was one. The Professors were appointed by the Vice-Chancellor.

WAYNFLETE PROFESSORSHIP OF MINERALOGY.

Under Statutes made by the Commissioners of 1877 for the University and Magdalen College respectively, the Professor of Mineralogy is hereafter to be styled the Waynflete Professor of Mineralogy, and is to receive a stipend of £500 a-year, namely, £100 from the University Chest, and the residue, including the emoluments of a Fellowship in the College attached to the Professorship, from the revenues of Magdalen College.

He is to be elected by a Board consisting of the Visitor and the President of Magdalen College, the Professor of Experimental Philosophy, the Waynflete Professor of Chemistry, the Professor of Mineralogy in the University of Cambridge, the President of the Royal Society, and a person appointed on each occasion by the Hebdomadal Council to act as an Elector on that occasion. If the President of Magdalen College is unable to act as an Elector, the College may appoint a person to act in his stead.

The Professor has charge of the Mineralogical Collection belonging to the University.

Professors.

1813 William Buckland, B.D., Fellow of Corpus; afterwards Canon of Ch. Ch., D.D., and Dean of Westminster

1856 MERVIN HERBERT NEVIL STORY-MASKELYNE, M.A., Hon. Fellow of Wadham.

PROFESSORSHIP OF GEOLOGY.

Under a Statute made by the Commissioners of 1877 the present stipend of £400 a-year from the University Chest is, as circumstances permit, to be augmented from that in default of any other source, to not less than £700 or more than £900 a-year; the requirements as to residence by the Professor varying according to the stipend received by him for the time being.

The Professor is hereafter to be elected by a Board consisting of the Vice-Chancellor, the Waynflete Professor of Chemistry, the Linacre Professor of Human and Comparative Anatomy, the Professor of Geology in the University of Cambridge, and the President of the Royal Society.

Professors.

1818 William Buckland, B.D., Fellow of Corpus; afterwards Canon of Ch. Ch., D.D., and Dean of Westminster

1856 John Phillips, M.A., Magdalen; afterwards Hon. Fellow of Magdalen, and Hon. D.C.L.

1874 JOSEPH PRESTWICH, M.A., Ch. Ch.

PROFESSORSHIP OF POLITICAL ECONOMY.

Founded in the year 1825 by Henry Drummond, Esq., of Albury Park, in the county of Surrey, and formerly of Christ Church, who charged his estate with a yearly rent of £100 for the endowment. The Professor was to be elected by Convocation. The Professorship was not tenable for more than five years, and at first no one could be re-elected to it until after an interval of two years, but this latter restriction was abolished by a Statute made in December, 1867.

Under Statutes made by the Commissioners of 1877 for the University and All Souls College respectively, the emoluments derived from Mr. Drummond's Benefaction are to be augmented from the revenues of the College to £300 a-year, and the Professor is to receive from the same source the additional yearly sum of £200 as the emolument of a Fellowship to be held by him in the College.

The Professor is elected by a Board consisting of the Chancellor of the University, the Chancellor of the Exchequer for the time being, the Regius Professor of Modern History, Whyte's Professor of Moral Philosophy, and a person nominated on each occasion by the Warden and Fellows of All Souls College to act as an Elector on that occasion. The Professor is to hold office for five years, but may be re-elected.

- 1868 BONAMY PRICE, M.A., sometime Fellow of Worcester; re-elected in 1873, 1878, and 1883.

BODEN PROFESSOR OF SANSKRIT.

The late Joseph Boden, Esq., Colonel in the East India Company's service, bequeathed the whole of his property to the University, for the purpose of promoting the study of Sanskrit literature, "being of opinion that a more general and critical knowledge of the Sanskrit language will be a means of enabling his Countrymen to proceed in the conversion of the Natives of India to the Christian Religion, by disseminating a knowledge of the Sacred Scriptures amongst them, more effectually than all other means whatsoever." Regulations for carrying his purpose into effect by establishing a Professorship and Scholarships have been made by Decrees of the Court of Chancery in 1830 and 1860.

The yearly stipend of the Professor, which now is more than £900, may be increased by accumulations of the fund to £1000, which sum it is never to exceed.

Under Statutes made by the Commissioners of 1877 for the University and Balliol College respectively, a non-stipendiary Fellowship in that College is attached to the Professorship, and the Professor is hereafter to be elected by a Board consisting of the Secretary of State for India, the Corpus Christi Professor of Comparative Philology, the Professor of Sanskrit in the University of Cambridge, a person nominated on each occasion by the Hebdomadal Council, subject to the approval of Convocation, to act as an Elector on that occasion, and a person nominated on each occasion by Balliol College to act as an Elector on that occasion.

WYKEHAM PROFESSORSHIP OF LOGIC.

Anciently it was the duty of every Regent M.A. to give instruction in the Arts in which he had graduated; afterwards the University provided that in four of them, for which no Chair had been endowed, namely, Grammar, Rhetoric, Logic, and Metaphysics, Lectures should be regularly given by Readers appointed for the purpose, who received stipends from a small tax levied upon the Inceptors of each year and upon the Students who were bound to attend the Lectures. After the introduction of the Procuratorial Cycle in 1629, these Readers were chosen according to that Cycle, and held office for two years. At length these Lectures, like the Lectures on Moral Philosophy, fell into disuse, and even the form of electing Readers was dropped, although the tax for their maintenance was still collected. This continued till the year 1839, when a Statute was passed, which, omitting the subjects of Grammar, Rhetoric, and Metaphysics, directed that there should be a regular Prælector of Logic, elected by Convocation for a period of ten years, but capable of re-election, who should receive as his stipend the produce of a small tax levied upon all Members of the University below the degree of Master of Arts. By subsequent Statutes the stipend was raised to £400 a-year, and the Professorship made tenable for life.

Under Statutes made by the Commissioners of 1877 for the University and New College respectively, the Professorship is henceforth to be styled the Wykeham Professorship of Logic; a Professor-Fellowship in New College is attached to the Chair; and the stipend is fixed at £900 a-year, namely, £400 from the University Chest, and £300 with the emoluments, amounting to £200, of an Ordinary Fellowship, from the revenues of New College. The Professor is to be elected by a Board consisting of the Vice-Chancellor, the Sedleian Professor of Natural Philosophy, Whyte's Professor of Moral Philosophy, a person nominated on each occasion by the Warden and Fellows of New College to act as an Elector on that occasion, and a person nominated as a permanent Elector by the Hebdomadal Council, subject to the approval of Convocation.

REGIUS PROFESSORSHIPS OF PASTORAL THEOLOGY AND ECCLESIASTICAL HISTORY.

An Act of Parliament of the year 1840, Stat. 3 & 4 Vict. c. 113, directed that two Canonries of Christ Church when next vacant should be annexed to two new Professorships, which Her Majesty was intending to found in this University; and in 1842 these two Chairs were established by Letters Patent under the Great Seal, the University having undertaken to pay a yearly stipend of £300 to each Professor until he should succeed to his Canonry. The first Canonry fell vacant in 1849, the second in 1858.

Regius Professors of Pastoral Theology.

 1868 WILLIAM BRIGHT, M.A., Fellow of University; D.D., Canon of Ch. Ch.

PROFESSORSHIP OF THE EXEGESIS OF HOLY SCRIPTURE.

This Professorship was founded by John Ireland, D.D., of Oriel College, Dean of Westminster, the Founder of the Scholarships which bear his name, who bequeathed to the University the sum of £10,000 in £3 per cent. Consolidated Annuities for its endowment. He died in 1842, and his bequest took effect in 1847. The Professor is appointed by the Heads of Colleges and Halls.

The Professorship is tenable by the Oriel Professorship of the Interpretation of Holy Scripture (see post, p. 114).

 1882 WILLIAM SANDAY, M.A., sometime Fellow of Trinity; Fellow of Exeter.

PROFESSORSHIP OF MODERN EUROPEAN LANGUAGES.

Founded in fulfilment of the intention of Sir Robert Taylor, (for which see the article on the "Taylor Institution,") and endowed with a stipend of £500 a-year from the Taylor fund, but suppressed in 1869. The Professor was elected by the Curators of the Institution, subject to the approval of Convocation, for five years at a time, after which he might be elected again. He was obliged to be matriculated before his admission to the office.

Professors.

 1854 Friedrich Max Müller, M.A., Ch. Ch.; Fellow of All Souls.

CORPUS CHRISTI PROFESSORSHIP OF THE LATIN LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.

Founded in 1854, as the Corpus Professorship of Latin Literature, by the President and Fellows of Corpus Christi College in accordance with the intention of their Founder, Bishop Fox, and endowed with a stipend of £600 a-year from the revenues of the College, the Professor occupying the position of an Honorary Fellow in that Society.

Under Statutes made by the Commissioners of 1877 for the University and Corpus Christi College respectively, an Official Fellowship in that College is attached to the Professorship, and the Professor is to receive from the College a stipend of £700 a-year, in addition to the emoluments, amounting to £200 a-year, of an Ordinary Fellowship. On the falling in of a bequest made by the late John Conington, M.A., the first holder of the Professorship, for the endowment of his Chair, the above mentioned payment of £700 a-year will be reduced by the amount of such bequest.

The Professor is henceforth to be elected by a Board consisting of the Vice-Chancellor, the Regius Professor of Greek, the Camden Professor of Ancient History, the Professor of Latin in the University of Cambridge, a member of Corpus Christi College nominated on each occasion by the College to act on that occasion, a person nominated as a permanent Elector by the College subject to the approval of Convocation, and a person similarly nominated by the Hebdomadal Council, subject to the same approval.

Professors.

- 1854 John Conington, M.A., Fellow of University 1870 Edwin Palmer, M.A., sometime Fellow (afterwards Hon. Fellow) of Balliol; since Archdeacon of Oxford, and Canon of Ch. Ch., D.D.
 1878 HENRY NETTLESHIP, M.A., sometime Fellow of Lincoln; Fellow of Corpus.

CHICHELE PROFESSORSHIP OF INTERNATIONAL LAW.

This Professorship was founded by the Ordinance of the University Commissioners of 1854 relating to All Souls College, the Professor being designated "Chichele's Professor of International Law and Diplomacy," and was endowed with the emoluments of five suppressed Fellowships in the College, or with a stipend of £750 a-year from its revenues.

The first Professor was elected in 1859.

Under Statutes made by the Commissioners of 1877 for the University and for All Souls College respectively, the stipend of the Professor, who is now designated the "Chichele Professor of International Law," will hereafter be £900 a-year, of which £200 is the emolument of a Fellowship to be held by him in All Souls College, and £700 a payment from the revenues of the College. The Professor is to be elected by a Board consisting of the Visitor of All Souls College, the Lord Chancellor of Great Britain, the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, the President of the Probate, Divorce, and Admiralty Division of the High Court of Justice, and a person nominated on each occasion by the Warden and Fellows of All Souls College to act as an Elector on that occasion.

Professors.

- 1859 Mountague Bernard, B.C.L., sometime Scholar of Trinity; afterwards Fellow of All Souls, and a Member of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, D.C.L.
 1874 THOMAS ERSKINE HOLLAND, M.A., B.C.L., sometime Fellow of Exeter; Fellow of All Souls, D.C.L.

CHICHELE PROFESSORSHIP OF MODERN HISTORY.

This Professorship was founded by the same Ordinance and with the same endowment as the Professorship of International Law and Diplomacy. The first Professor was elected in 1862.

The future endowment of the Professorship is provided for to the same extent and in the same manner as that of the Professorship of International Law.

The Professor is to be elected by a Board consisting of the Visitor of All Souls College, the Chancellor of the University, the Regius Professor of Modern History, the Camden Professor of Ancient History, and a person nominated on each occasion by the Warden and Fellows of All Souls College to act as an Elector on that occasion.

Professor.

1862 MONTAGU BURROWS, M.A., Magdalen Hall, afterwards Fellow of All Souls.

WAYNFLETE PROFESSORSHIP OF MORAL AND METAPHYSICAL PHILOSOPHY.

This was one of four Professorships directed by the Ordinance of the University Commissioners of 1854 relating to Magdalen College to be founded within that College, in lieu of three Prælectorships mentioned in its ancient Statutes, and to be maintained by a stipend of £600 a-year for each.

Under Statutes made by the Commissioners of 1877 for the University and for Magdalen College respectively, the Professor's stipend will ultimately consist of the emoluments (amounting to £200 a-year) of a Fellowship in the College attached to the Professorship, and of a payment of £600 a year from the corporate revenues of the College.

The Professor is to be elected by a Board consisting of the Chancellor of the University, the Visitor and the President of Magdalen College, the Regius Professors of Divinity and of Civil Law, the Wykeham Professor of Logic, and a person nominated on each occasion by the Hebdomadal Council to act as an Elector on that occasion. If the President of Magdalen College is unable to act as an Elector, the College may appoint a person to act in his stead.

Professors.

1859 Henry Longueville Mansel, B.D., sometime Fellow of St. John's, D.D., afterwards Regius Professor of Ecclesiastical History, and Dean of St. Paul's 1867 HENRY WILLIAM CHANDLER, M.A., Fellow of Pembroke.

WAYNFLETE PROFESSORSHIP OF CHEMISTRY.

This was another of the four Professorships directed by the Ordinance of the University Commissioners of 1854 relating to Magdalen College to be founded within the College.

Under Statutes made by the Commissioners of 1877 for the University and for Magdalen College respectively, the Professor's stipend will ultimately consist of the emoluments (amounting to £200 a-year) of a Fellowship in the College attached to the Professorship, and of a payment of £600 a-year from the revenues of the College.

The Professor is to be elected by a Board, consisting of the Visitor and President of Magdalen College, the Professor of Experimental Philosophy, the Professor of Chemistry in the University of Cambridge, the President of the College of Physicians, the President of the Royal Society, and a person nominated on each occasion by the Hebdomadal Council to act as an Elector on that occasion.

The Professor has the charge of the Chemical Laboratories at the University Museum.

1872 WILLIAM ODLING, M.A., Fellow of Worcester.

LINACRE PROFESSORSHIP OF HUMAN AND COMPARATIVE ANATOMY.

Under Ordinances of the University Commissioners of 1854 relating to Merton College, a Professorship called the "Linacre Professorship of Physiology" was founded, and endowed with the emoluments of four Fellowships in that College to an amount not exceeding £800 a-year.

Under a Statute made for the University by the Commissioners of 1877 the designation of the Professorship was changed to that of the "Linacre Professorship of Human and Comparative Anatomy," and under Statutes made by the same Commissioners for Merton College a Fellowship in that College, with an emolument of £200 a-year, was attached to the Professorship, and a further stipend of £700 a-year directed to be paid by the College to the Professor.

The Professor is to be elected by a Board consisting of the Visitor of Merton College, the Presidents of the College of Physicians and the College of Surgeons, the Waynflete Professor of Physiology, a member of Merton College appointed by the College on the occasion of each election to act as an Elector on that occasion, the Regius Professor of Medicine, and a person appointed on each occasion by the Hebdomadal Council to act as an Elector on that occasion.

The Professor has the charge of the Anatomical and Ethnological Collections and the Anatomical Laboratories in the University Museum.

HOPE PROFESSORSHIP OF ZOOLOGY.

Founded in 1861 by the Rev. Frederick William Hope, M.A. and Hon. D.C.L., formerly of Ch. Ch., to whose munificence the University is also indebted for a large Entomological Collection, a library of Natural History, and a vast Collection of Engraved Portraits, and endowed by him with a capital sum of £10,000 New £3 per cent. Annuities. Mr. Hope died in the early part of 1862; and shortly afterwards his widow, in fulfilment of his intentions, transferred to the University a second sum of £10,000 in the same stock, and assigned one-third of the dividends to the Professor in augmentation of his stipend<sup>1</sup>. The Founder himself nominated the first Professor; but the election is now vested in the Curators of the Hope Collections and the Linacre Professor. At the time of his admission he must be at least a Master of Arts or a Bachelor of Civil Law or Medicine. He is required to superintend and arrange the Hope Collection of Annulose Animals, and to take charge of the Natural History portion of the Hope Library.

The Hope Curators are the Vice-Chancellor, the two Proctors, the Regius Professorship of Medicine, the Keeper of the Ashmolean Museum, and the Hope Professor by virtue of their respective offices, with two non-official Curators, nominated as occasion may require by the Curators for the time being, subject to the approval of Convocation. The present non-official Curators are Henry W. Acland, D.M., late Fellow of All Souls, and Edward Chapman, M.A., Fellow of Magdalen.

Professor.

1861 JOHN OBADIAH WESTWOOD, M.A., Hon. Fellow of Magdalen.

CORPUS CHRISTI PROFESSORSHIP OF COMPARATIVE PHILOLOGY.

This Professorship was founded by the University in 1868, and endowed with a stipend of £600 a-year. The Statute of Foundation named the first Professor.

Provision having been made under Statutes made by the Commissioners of 1877 for Corpus Christi College for the endowment of the Professorship out of the revenues of that College, the Professorship is henceforth to be styled the "Corpus Christi Professorship of Comparative Philology."

The Professor is to receive from the College a stipend of £700 a-year, in addition to the emoluments (£200 a-year) of a Fellowship in the College attached to the Professorship.

He is to be elected by a Board consisting of the Regius Professor of Hebrew and Greek, the Corpus Christi Professor of the Latin Language and Literature, the Boden Professor of Sanskrit, the Rawlinsonian Professor of Anglo-Saxon, a member of Corpus Christi College nominated on each occasion by the College to act as an Elector on that occasion, and a person nominated as a permanent Elector by the College subject to the approval of Convocation.

<sup>1</sup> Mrs. Hope assigned another third part of the dividends as a stipend for the Keeper of the Hope Collection of Engravings mentioned at the end of the article on the Bodleian Library, and directed the remainder to be applied in equal portions to keeping up and increasing the two Hope Collections. In December, 1864, Mrs. Hope gave a further sum of £1666 13s. 4d. in the same Stock, to augment the stipend of the Keeper of the Engravings, for the purpose of enabling him to employ an assistant and to meet expenses incidental to his duties.

Professor.

1868 FRIEDRICH MAX MÜLLER, M.A., Fellow of All Souls, sometime Taylorian Professor of Modern European Languages

1876 Archibald Henry Sayce, M.A., Fellow of Queen's.

CORPUS CHRISTI PROFESSORSHIP OF JURISPRUDENCE.

This Professorship was founded in 1869 by the President and Fellows of Corpus Christi College, and endowed with a stipend of £600 a-year from the revenues of the College.

Under Statutes made by the Commissioners of 1877 for the University and Corpus Christi College respectively, a Fellowship in that College, with an emolument of £200 a-year, is annexed to the Professorship, and the Professor also receives from the College a stipend, if he is resident, of £700 a-year, and if not, of £300 a year.

The Professor holds office for five years from election, but is re-eligible. The Board of Electors consists of the Regius Professor of Civil Law, the Chichele Professor of International Law and Diplomacy, a member of Corpus Christi College nominated on each occasion by the College to act as an Elector on that occasion, a person (at present Sir Henry J. S. Maine, D.C.L., Honorary Fellow of Corpus,) nominated as a permanent Elector by Corpus Christi College subject to the approval of Convocation, and a person (at present William Markby, D.C.L., Fellow of All Souls,) nominated as a permanent Elector by the Hebdomadal Council subject to the like approval.

The Professor is required to reside within the University for twenty-eight days at least in each academical year, during full University Term; and in order to complete such residence he must have passed twenty-eight nights in Oxford. One clear week-day at least must intervene between the delivery by him of any two of his statutable lectures.

Professors.

1869 Henry James Sumner Maine, (LL.D., Trinity Hall, Cambridge), Hon. D.C.L., M.A., Corpus, afterwards Sir H. J. S. Maine, K.C.S.L., Master of Trinity Hall, Cambridge. Resigned in 1879

1883 FREDERICK POLLOCK (M.A., sometime Fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge), M.A., Fellow of Corpus.

SLADE PROFESSORSHIP OF FINE ART.

Founded in 1869 in pursuance of the Will of Felix Slade, Esq., and endowed by his Executors with a capital sum of £12,000 Reduced £3 per cent. Annuities (now £12,063 19s. like stock). The Professor is elected for three years only, but may be re-elected. The election is made by a board of seven persons, namely, three Curators of the University Galleries, Bodley's Librarian, the President of the Royal Academy of London, the President of University College, London, and one other appointed for the present by Mr. Slade's Executors.

Professors.

1869 John Ruskin, M.A., Hon. Student of Ch. Ch.

1879 William Blake Richmond, M.A., Ch. Ch.

1883 JOHN RUSKIN, M.A., re-elected.

PROFESSOR OF CHINESE.

James Legge (LL.D. Aberdeen), M.A. Corpus, was appointed in 1876 for life or for so long as he shall think fit to retain the office. The stipend consists of an annuity arising from a capital sum of about £3000 raised by promoters of the study of Chinese, to which are added the emoluments of one of the Fellowships of Corpus Christi College and £100 a-year paid out of the University Chest.

PROFESSORSHIP OF CELTIC.

Founded in 1876 by the Principal and Fellows of Jesus College, and now by them endowed with £400 a-year; the stipend is made up to £600 a-year out of the University Chest.

The Professor is elected by the Vice-Chancellor, the Principal of Jesus College, the Corpus Christi Professor of Comparative Philology, a person nominated on each occasion by Jesus College to act as an Elector on that occasion, and a person nominated as a permanent Elector by the Hebdomadal Council subject to the approval of Convocation.

Professor.

1877 JOHN RHYS, M.A., sometime Fellow of Merton; Fellow of Jesus.

WAYNFLETE PROFESSORSHIP OF PHYSIOLOGY.

This Professorship was founded by a Statute made for the University by the Commissioners of 1877. The Professor is elected by a board consisting of the Visitor and the President of Magdalen College, the Regius Professor of Medicine, the Linacre Professor of Human and Comparative Anatomy, the Presidents of the College of Surgeons and the College of Physicians, and a person appointed on each occasion by the Hebdomadal Council to act as an Elector on that occasion. If the President of Magdalen College is unable to act as an Elector, the College may appoint a person to act in his stead.

Under Statutes made by the same Commissioners for Magdalen College, a Fellowship in the College, with an emolument of £200 a-year, is attached to the Professorship, and the Professor receives in addition, out of the corporate revenues of the College, the annual sum of £600.

Professor.

1883 JOHN SCOTT BURDON SANDERSON, M.A., F.R.S., Fellow of Magdalen.

Oriel Professorship of the Interpretation of Holy Scripture.

Under Statutes made by the Commissioners of 1877, for the University and for Oriel College respectively, it was provided that a Canonry in Rochester Cathedral, formerly annexed to the Provostship of Oriel College, should on a vacancy be severed therefrom, and be henceforth permanently annexed to a Professorship in the University, to be called the "Oriel Professorship of the Interpretation of Holy Scripture." These provisions took effect on the death, in 1882, of Dr. Hawkins, formerly Provost of Oriel College.

No person is eligible to the Professorship who is not in Priest's Orders of the Church of England.

The Professor is elected by a board consisting of the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Bishop of Rochester, the Vice-Chancellor, the Provost of Oriel College, and the Regius Professor of Divinity.

The Professorship is tenable with Dean Ireland's Professorship of the Exegesis of Holy Scripture (see ante, p. 106).

Professor.

1883 JOHN WORDSWORTH, M.A., Fellow of Brasenose.

Ford's Professorship of English History.

In 1870 the University accepted a bequest of £2000 in £3 per cent. Reduced Annuities, which was contained in the Will of the Rev. James Ford, B.D., formerly Fellow of Trinity College and Vicar of Navestock, Essex. The amount of the bequest is to be allowed to accumulate until it produces the clear annual sum of £100, which annual sum is to be applied for the founding and endowing of a Professor, to be called Ford's Professor of English History.

But as some years must elapse before the annual interest of the bequest is raised by accumulation to £100, no Statute has yet been framed to regulate the mode of appointment to, or the duties of, the Chair.

READERSHIPS.

READERSHIP OF ANCIENT HISTORY.

By a Statute passed in 1868 a Readership of Ancient History was instituted for ten years from the beginning of Easter Term 1868, and endowed with a stipend of £200 a-year payable from the revenues of Brasenose College under an Ordinance of the University Commissioners of 1854. It has been prolonged by subsequent Decrees of Convocation until the end of Michaelmas Term 1883. The Reader must be a Member of Convocation. He is elected by a board consisting of the Vice-Chancellor, the Principal and one of the Fellows of Brasenose, the Camden Professor of Ancient History, Whyte's Professor of Moral Philosophy, the Chichele Professor of International Law, and the Senior Examiner in the Classical School.

READERSHIP IN INDIAN LAW.

The Reader is nominated by the Vice-Chancellor and Proctors, the Professor of Comparative Philology, and the Corpus Professor of Jurisprudence, to hold office for seven years. He is required to give lectures on Indian Law, and on the Indian Systems of Land-Tenure and Land-Revenue. He receives an annual stipend of £300 from the University Chest, and certain fees from students.

Reader.

1878 WILLIAM MARKBY, M.A., Merton; D.C.L.; Fellow of All Souls.

<sup>1</sup> Mr. Owen had previously held the appointment of Teacher of Indian Law and History, having been originally appointed Teacher of Indian Law in 1861.

READERSHIP IN ROMAN LAW.

Founded in 1881 under a Statute made by the University of Oxford Commissioners, by which it is provided that until the Regius Professorship of Civil Law shall fall vacant, or until the then existing Regius Professor shall, by his own consent, become subject to any Statutes for the future regulation of that Professorship and the duties of the Professor which may be made by the Commissioners, a Reader in Roman Law shall be appointed from time to time for successive periods of three years.

The Reader is elected by the Regius Professor of Civil Law, the Chichele Professor of International Law and Diplomacy, the Corpus Professor of Jurisprudence, the Chairman for the time being of the Council of Legal Education appointed by the Inns of Court in London, and a person nominated by the Warden and Fellows of All Souls College, with a view to each election.

The Reader is required to lecture, and to give private instruction, on Roman Law and the sources and history thereof. He receives an annual stipend of £400 from the revenues of All Souls College.

Reader.

1881 ERWIN GRUEBER, Jur.Doct., University of Munich; M.A.

GRINFIELD LECTURE

ON THE LXX VERSION OF THE HEBREW SCRIPTURES.

Founded in 1859 by the Rev. Edward Grinfield, M.A., formerly of Lincoln College, who then gave £1000 in £3 per cent. Consolidated Annuities for the endowment. The endowment has since been augmented by a further gift of £500 in 1864, and by one of £400 in 1873. The Lecturer, who must be in Holy Orders and at least a Master of Arts, is elected by the Hebdomadal Council for two years. He is not to be considered as a Public University Professor or Reader.

TEACHERSHIPS OF HINDUSTANI AND PERSIAN AND OF TELUGU.

In order to provide necessary instruction for Undergraduates who have been selected, after competitive examination in London, for the Civil Service of the Crown in India, the University in 1859 appointed a Teacher of the Hindustani Language, assigning him an annual stipend of £150 from the University Chest, and allowing him to receive certain fees from students. This Teachership was, in 1878, made a Teachership of Hindustani and Persian. The Teachership of Hindustani and Persian has since been abolished, and two new Teacherships, one of each language, formed, which may, however, be held by the same person. A Teachership of Telugu has also been instituted. The Teachers are nominated by the Vice-Chancellor and Proctors and the Professors of Sanskrit and Comparative Philology, to hold office for three years. Each Teacher receives an annual stipend of £200 from the University Chest and certain fees from students. In the event of the Teacherships of Hindustani and of Persian being held by the same person, the Teacher receives an annual stipend of £300. The Teacher of Telugu is to give instruction, if needful, in Tamil.

INSTITUTIONS.

BODLEIAN LIBRARY.

IN the year 1480 the room over the Divinity School, which is now the central limb of the public portion of the Bodleian Library, and which was then just finished, became the repository of the books which the University had acquired by gift from various benefactors, especially from Humphrey, Duke of Gloucester, who also contributed liberally to the building. But before the end of the reign of Edward VI, partly through careless management, and partly through extravagant zeal, it had been so entirely rifled of its contents that not one volume remained; and in 1556 the University, hopeless of its restoration, sold the benches and fittings, and left the walls bare. In this state it remained above forty years, till in 1598 Thomas Bodley, Esq., sometime Fellow of Merton College, resolved to restore the room to the purpose for which it was built, and to secure it by an endowment in land; and he not only contributed largely in money and books himself, but procured also similar contributions from so many of his friends and other persons, that in November, 1602, the Library was again opened for use with upwards of 2000 volumes.

Books were given during the next few years beyond what the room could hold, and in 1610 the Founder, who had now been knighted by King James I, proceeded to build an addition to it towards the East with a Proscholium to the Divinity School below, but he died in January, 1613, before this enlargement was quite finished. By his will he made provision for adding a third floor round the intended Quadrangle of the Schools, which at first was to have had two floors only, and for connecting this (now the Picture Gallery) with his Library, and showed that he contemplated that other extension towards the West, the want of which was felt in less than twenty years after his death, and which, with the Convocation House below, was begun in 1634 and finished in about four years.

The collection has been continually increasing, by donations, some of which have been of great extent and value, by the right to a copy of every work published in this country, a right to which Sir Thomas Bodley himself gave the origin in a grant which he obtained in 1610 from the Stationers' Company, and by purchases made with moneys arising partly from the estates given by the Founder, partly from other benefactions, and partly from dues paid annually by members of the University; so that now the Library comprises more than 400,000 volumes, and occupies every room in the Quadrangle of the building, except those appropriated to the University Archives and the Savilian Library.

The Library is under the control of a Board of Curators, consisting of the Vice-Chancellor, the two Proctors, the five Regius Professors of Divinity, Civil Law, Medicine, Hebrew, and Greek, and five members of the Congregation of the University elected for ten years by that House.

The administration of the Library is committed to the care of a Librarian, elected by Convocation, with an annual stipend of £1000. He is assisted by two Under-Librarians, whom he nominates himself, subject to the approval of the Curators and of Convocation, and who receive a yearly stipend of not less than £300 or more than £400 each. There are also Assistants, whom the Librarian appoints, subject to the approval of the Curators.

The Library is open between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. from April to July, between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. in February, March, August, September, and October, and between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. in November, December, and January. But it is closed entirely for a period at Christmas beginning with Christmas Eve and ending with the Feast of Circumcision, on the Feast of the Epiphany, on Good Friday, Easter Eve, and the whole of Easter Week, on Ascension Day, on Monday and Tuesday in Whitsun Week, on the Commemoration Day, on the first seven days in October, on the day preceding the Visitation of the Library, and on the Visitation day itself, which is the 8th of November, or the 7th when the 8th falls on a Sunday. And on other Festivals, when there is a Sermon before the University, it is not opened until the Sermon is over.

All Graduate members of the University have the right to use the Library. Other persons are admitted to study in it on presenting a satisfactory recommendation.

The Picture Gallery, which has been already mentioned as appurtenant to the Library, contains portraits of many eminent persons, who have been Benefactors or Members of the University, models of many edifices both ancient and modern, and many other objects of interest. Each portrait has its name attached.

The building formerly known as "the Radcliffe Library" is now used as a Reading Room in connexion with the Bodleian Library, under the name of "Camera Bodleiana," and is open from 10 a.m. till 10 p.m. on every day on which the Library itself is open, and on some other days when the latter is closed. It contains on its own shelves and tables a selection of the newest works, and is available for the use of other books, whether printed or manuscript. In the Gallery is deposited the Hope Collection of engraved portraits.

CLARENDON PRESS.

Although the first book printed in Oxford bears the date 1468, it was not till January 1586 that Delegates "de impressione librorum" were first appointed by Convocation. About that time Joseph Barnes, having set up a press in Oxford, under the patronage of the Chancellor, the Earl of Leicester, and with the help of a loan of £100 from the University Chest, is styled "Printer to the University" on the title-pages of his books. Others after him were likewise so styled; but nothing seems to have been done for establishing a University Press on a firm footing, until Archbishop Laud, in 1633, procured letters patent from King Charles I, granting a very large licence of printing to the University, his chief object being the publication of MSS. from the Bodleian Library, to which he himself gave more than thirteen hundred.

The work was carried on at first in hired premises; then from 1669 in the Sheldonian Theatre, the Founder of that building having appointed it for this use as well as for great assemblies of the University, and having directed that the surplus of the fund which he gave for the maintenance of the fabric should be "employed for the best advantage and encouragement of the Learned Press there designed and already set at work<sup>1</sup>;" next from 1713 in the Clarendon Building, erected expressly for this purpose, and so called in memory of Lord Clarendon, sometime Chancellor of the University, and author of the History of the Great Rebellion. Finally, in 1830, when the Press had quite outgrown its earlier limits, it was removed to its present buildings, which were begun in 1825 from a design made by Mr. Daniel Robertson, and were finished under the superintendence of Mr. Blore.

The management of the Printing Office is committed to a Delegacy consisting of the Vice-Chancellor and ten other members of Convocation, who are nominated, as vacancies occur, by the Vice-Chancellor and Proctors. Five of the ten are Perpetual Delegates: each new nomination is made for the term of seven years.

The South side of the Press is appropriated, as was the East side of the Clarendon Building, to the printing of Bibles and Prayer-books, and the North, or "Learned" side, to that of classical or scientific works, University documents, &c.

<sup>1</sup> Francis, second and last Lord Godolphin of Helstone, who died in 1785, bequeathed 5000*l.* to the University, and directed "the interest thereof to be applied for the benefit of printing and encouragement of learning."

THEATRE.

The Theatre was erected by Gilbert Sheldon, Archbishop of Canterbury and Chancellor of the University, to provide a room for large and solemn assemblies of the University, and a place for the operations of the University Press, which were carried on in it until their removal to the Clarendon edifice in 1713. The Architect was Sir Christopher Wren. The first stone was laid July 26, 1664, and the building was opened with a solemn ceremony on July 9, 1669. The cost, it is said, was £15,000; and the munificent Founder gave £2000 more for the purchase of land, the rent of which might maintain the fabric in repair and give a surplus for the advantage "of the Learned Press." John Wills, D.D., Warden of Wadham College, who died in 1806, left £1000 to keep it in repair. The care of the Theatre and of its funds is committed to the Vice-Chancellor and Proctors and three members of Convocation nominated by them (subject to the approval of Convocation), holding office for six years.

ASHMOLEAN MUSEUM.

The building known by this name was erected at the charge of the University, partly for the reception of the collection of natural and artificial curiosities which Elias Ashmole, Esq., gave on that condition, and to which additions have since been made by many donors, and partly for the promotion of the study of Chemistry and all Natural Science. Over the north door (now closed) is an inscription, now almost illegible, Museum Ashmoleanum, Scholia Naturalis Historiæ, Officina Chymica. It was begun in 1679, and finished in 1683, and was built by Mr. Wood, a "stonecutter" or mason, of Oxford<sup>1</sup>. Dr. Plot, the first Keeper, was immediately appointed Professor of Chemistry by the Vice-Chancellor.

The Keeper of the Museum used to be nominated by the Visitors appointed by Ashmole's will, namely, the Vice-Chancellor, the Dean of Christ Church, the Principal of Brasenose, the Regius Professor of Medicine, and the two Proctors; and Dr. Rawlinson endowed the office with a stipend of about £75 a-year on certain stringent conditions. These original regulations were superseded by others made in 1858: and these again were abrogated by a Statute which received the sanction of the Queen in Council, 1870. By this Statute the Vice-Chancellor, the Camden Professor of Ancient History, the Regius Professor of Modern History, and two other Members of Convocation to be elected for five years by the Congregation of the University, were constituted Visitors of the Museum. By the same Statute Mr. John Henry Parker, Hon. M.A., who had made a munificent benefaction in augmentation of the Keeper's salary, was nominated to succeed to the Keepership on the first vacancy: afterwards the Keeper is to be nominated by the Visitors, subject to the approval of Convocation.

The second object for which the building was provided is now attained by the University Museum, and the zoological part of the collection has been removed to that Institution. The MSS. of Anthony Wood and others, which were deposited here, have been transferred to the Bodleian Library. The first floor is now a Museum of Antiquities; the basement story is the repository of the Arundel Marbles and of other similar remains; the upper floor, which for many years was used as an examination room, was, on the removal of the examinations to the new Schools in 1882, placed by decree of Convocation at the disposal of the Visitors of the Museum. The Museum is open daily from 2 till 4.

CLARENDON BUILDING.

It has been stated already that the Clarendon Building was erected for a Printing House, and was so used from 1713 until the removal of the University Press to the present Office in 1830. It was begun February 22, 1712. The architect and builder was Mr. Nicholas Hawksmoor<sup>1</sup>, who built also the south quadrangle of Queen's College and the north quadrangle of All Souls College. The name of the building is derived from the Lord Chancellor Clarendon, and the cost of it was defrayed partly from the profits of the sale of his History of the Rebellion, the copyright of which was given to the University.

It is now used for various public purposes of the University, containing the "Delegates' Room," in which the meetings of Delegacies usually take place, the Registrar's Office, the offices of the Curators of the University Chest, and of the Delegates of Students not belonging to any College or Hall and of Lodging Houses; and, on the basement story, a Police Room with other apartments connected with it.

<sup>1</sup> On the 3rd of October, 1715, the Delegates of the Press voted a gratuity of 100*l.* to Hawksmoor "for his care in drawing and supervising the whole works of the new Printing House."

RADCLIFFE LIBRARY.

The munificent founder of this Library was the celebrated physician John Radcliffe, M.D., first of University College, afterwards Fellow of Lincoln, who died in 1714. He bequeathed the bulk of his large property to Trustees to be applied at their discretion to charitable purposes; but he directed them in the first instance to accumulate £40,000, and to lay out that sum on the purchase of the site for his Library and on the building, and he appropriated £100 a-year for the maintenance of the fabric, £100 a-year for the purchase of books, and £150 a-year as a stipend for the Librarian. James Gibbs, Esq., a native of Aberdeen, was the architect. The foundation-stone was laid June 16, 1737, and the building was completed in 1747. The Library was opened April 13, 1749, in a public ceremony, by the Trustees.

Many years ago the Trustees resolved to confine their purchases to works on Medicine and Natural History; and upon the completion of the University Museum they permitted the books concerning Natural Science to be removed to the Library of that Institution, which may now be regarded as "Radcliffe's Library," and they allowed the remaining volumes and the building itself to be used in connection with the Bodleian Library. It has been opened as a Reading Room. (See ante, p. 119.)

The present Trustees are, H.R.H. Prince Leopold, Duke of Albany, the Earl of Carnarvon, the Earl of Selborne, the Right Hon. W. E. Gladstone, and Arthur W. Peel, Esq.

Radcliffe's Librarian, who must be at least a Master of Arts, is elected by the following personages: the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain, the Chancellor of the University, the Bishops of London and Winchester, the two principal Secretaries of State, the Lord Chief Justice of England, and the Master of the Rolls. He has charge of the Library at the Museum.

Librarians.

RADCLIFFE OBSERVATORY.

This building was erected out of the funds of Dr. Radcliffe by the Trustees to his will. It comprises a dwelling-house for the Observer, and apartments for observation, for lectures, for a Library, and for an assistant Observer: and it is amply supplied with astronomical instruments. The foundation-stone was laid June 27, 1772. The original architect was Mr. A. Keene. The building was altered and completed by Mr. James Wyatt. The Observer is appointed by the Radcliffe Trustees: he appoints his own Assistants.

Astronomical Observations are made daily when the weather permits, and are regularly recorded. A fair copy of these Registers used to be deposited in the Library of the Royal Society in London, in the Radcliffe Library, and in the Observatory itself; but from the year 1840 they have been printed, by order of the Trustees, under the superintendence of the Observer, in a handsome octavo volume, which is continued annually.

Observers.

 1839 Manuel John Johnson, M.A., Magdalen Hall
 1860 Robert Main, M.A., Pembroke, incorporated from Queens' College, Cambridge, F.R.S., F.R.A.S.
 1878 EDWARD JAMES STONE, M.A., Ch. Ch.; Hon. Fellow (sometime Fellow) of Queens' College, Cambridge, F.R.S.

TAYLOR INSTITUTION.

Sir Robert Taylor, an Architect of eminence in the last century, bequeathed the residue of his property, a very considerable sum, to "the Chancellor and Scholars of the University of Oxford and their successors, for the purpose of applying the interest and produce thereof in purchase of freehold land within, or if possible to be made within, the jurisdiction of the said University, for the erecting a proper edifice therein, and for establishing a foundation, for the teaching and improving the European languages in such manner as should from time to time be approved by the said Chancellor and Scholars in Convocation assembled." He died in 1788, but his bequest, being subject to certain contingencies, did not take effect till 1835, and it was not until 1848 that the "proper edifice" which was to be erected could be made fully ready for use. This handsome building, of which C. R. Cockerell, Esq., D.C.L., was the architect, comprises a spacious Library, several Lecture Rooms, and apartments for the residence of a Librarian.

The Institution is under the direction of nine Curators, of whom the Vice-Chancellor, the Regius Professor of Modern History, and the Professor of Comparative Philology, are ex officio three; of the other six, who must all be Members of Convocation, four are appointed for a period of five years, and two for ten, after which they may be nominated again.

There are four Teacherships of Modern European Languages, a Scholarship, and an Exhibition, which are described in separate articles. The Curators are also charged with the application of the proceeds of a fund arising from the bequest of William Thomas Horner, Earl of Becheater, for the encouragement of the study of the Polish and other Slavonic Languages, Literature, and History. By a Statute passed in 1876, they are authorised to apply the interest of the fund to one or both of the following purposes, at their discretion and in such manner and at such times as they may judge most expedient: (1) The delivery of Lectures on subjects connected with the Slavonic Languages or Literature, or the History of the Slavonic Nations: (2) The bestowal of Prizes or Exhibitions for encouraging the study of those subjects: (3) The publishing, or assisting in the publication of, works in one or other of those subjects.

The Curators are also charged with the custody of a collection of books and works of art bequeathed to the University in 1834 by the Rev. Robert Finch, M.A., of Balliol College, and with the administration of a fund of £1300 left by him for the maintenance and extension of the collection.

The Library is open between the hours of eleven and five, except during one month from Aug. 16 to Sept. 14; and from Christmas-Eve to Jan. 2, when it is closed entirely. All Members of the University have free admission to it, and resident Members are allowed to take books out of the Library, subject to its regulations. Literary persons not members of the University are also admissible by special permission. The leading Newspapers and Periodicals of France, Germany and Italy, are taken in and lie upon the table. The Librarian is appointed by the Curators, with a statutable stipend of £150 a-year. The present Librarian is HENRICH KREBS, Ph. D. of the University of Freiburg in Baden, Hon. M.A.

UNIVERSITY GALLERIES.

The University Galleries form the Central and Western portions of the building, of which the Taylor Institution is the Eastern, and were designed by the same Architect. Francis Randolph, D.D., Principal of St. Alban Hall, who died in 1796, bequeathed £1000 towards the erection of a suitable building for the reception of the Pomfret Statues and other works of art; and that sum together with accumulated interest was laid out upon the building, the remainder of the cost being defrayed from moneys belonging to the University. The Galleries were opened in 1845. They contain specimens of ancient and modern Sculpture, including the original models for the principal works of the late eminent English artist, Sir Francis Chantrey, presented by his widow: a large number of original drawings of M. Angelo and Raffaele, purchased by a subscription, towards which the second Earl of Eldon contributed the munificent sum of £4000; and there is one large and lofty Gallery for Paintings. Many works of art of various kinds have been given to the University since the Galleries were erected.

The Galleries are under the superintendence of three Curators, who must be at least Masters of Arts or Bachelors of Civil Law or Medicine, and who are nominated by the Vice-Chancellor, the four Pro-Vice-Chancellors, and the two Proctors, subject to the approval of Convocation.

To these are added Bodley's Librarian, who continues to be a Curator so long as a collection of drawings and engravings belonging to the Bodleian Library and at present deposited in the Galleries, remains there. The Galleries are in the charge of a resident Keeper, appointed by the Curators, with a stipend of £100 a-year, and are open without fee from 12 to 4 daily, except during a few weeks in the Long Vacation for cleaning. One room has been assigned for the use of the Oxford School of Art in connexion with the South Kensington Department of Science and Art. The present Keeper is Mr. JOSEPH FISHER.

UNIVERSITY MUSEUM.

This edifice, intended for the promotion of the study of Natural Science, was erected at the charge of the University, from the designs and under the directions of Messrs. Deane and Woodward of Dublin. The first stone was solemnly laid June 20, 1855, by the Earl of Derby, Chancellor of the University, and the building was so nearly finished when the British Association for the Advancement of Science met in Oxford at the end of June, 1860, that every part of it was then used. The iron-work was supplied by Mr. Skidmore of Coventry. The decorative Sculpture both without and within is due to the liberality of individual donors: in particular Her Majesty the Queen was pleased to present five of the statues of eminent philosophers which adorn the Area; and Woolner's statue of the late Prince Consort, which faces the entrance, was placed here by gentlemen of the City of Oxford, who subscribed to have it erected in memorial of the Prince.

The Museum contains Lecture-rooms, with Work-rooms and Laboratories where these are required, for the Regius Professor of Medicine, and the Professors of Geometry, Astronomy, Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, Mineralogy, Geology, Anatomy, Physiology, and Zoology; a Dissecting-room at the North-eastern angle, and along the front upstairs a spacious Library and Reading Room. The Chemical Department, at the south-western angle of the building, was greatly enlarged by the addition in 1878-9 of a new block of buildings, including, besides several smaller laboratories for the use of more advanced workers, one large laboratory fitted for the accommodation of sixty-four students of qualitative and quantitative analysis. Various Collections illustrative of subjects studied in the Museum have been brought together within its walls, and a large part of them is open to the view of Students in the Area and Corridors; a Pathological Series in the Medical department; Models and Instruments for Experimental Physics; Minerals, including some of singular rarity given by the late Richard Simmonds, M.D., of Christ Church; Fossils, comprising the large collection given by the late Professor Buckland, and Mr. Pengelly's Devonian Series presented in 1860 by Miss Burdett-Coutts; the Physiological Series moved from the Anatomy School at Christ Church by permission of the Dean and Chapter, who, however, as Trustees under the Will of the Founder, Mathew Lee, M.D., physician to King George II, reserve the right to recall the loan; Zoological specimens transferred from the Ashmolean Museum; a large collection of Shells presented by Lady and Miss Harvey; two large collections of British Shells, one given by Sir Walter C. Trevelyan, Bart., M.A., of University College, the other bequeathed by George Barlee, Esq., of Exmouth, who died in 1861; and a large collection of Invertebrate Animals given by the Rev. F. W. Hope, the Founder of the Professorship of Zoology. And, to make these Collections more useful to Students, the Trustees under Dr. Radcliffe's Will have allowed the large scientific portion of his Library to be brought here, and intend to maintain it themselves in the Museum under the charge of Radcliffe's Librarian, reserving however the right to reclaim it if they think fit.

By the liberality of the Clarendon Trustees an additional wing was added to the Museum in 1872, containing the lecture-rooms and laboratories of the department of Experimental Philosophy. This new wing contains a large lecture-theatre, a large room for the Physical Cabinet, laboratories for each of the branches of weighing and measuring heat, light, electricity, magnetism, and acoustics, together with smaller rooms for the preparation of special experiments. It is placed under the care of the Professor of Experimental Philosophy.

The Museum is under the superintendence of a Delegacy consisting of the Vice-Chancellor, the two Proctors, and six other persons chosen by the Congregation of the University. None of the Professors who teach in the Museum can be Delegates, but all of them are summoned to the meetings of the Delegacy and consulted on the questions that arise. It is in the charge of a Keeper, who is appointed by the Delegates subject to the approval of Convocation, and who has an official residence adjoining on the South-east, and receives a stipend of £80 a-year.

The Museum is open to Members of the University from 10 a.m. till 4 p.m. Visitors are admitted, without fee, after 2 p.m. The Library is open from 10 a.m. till 4 p.m. daily, and on Mondays and Thursdays during Term from 7 p.m. till 9 p.m.

UNIVERSITY OBSERVATORY.

In March, 1873, the University resolved to have a large Refracting Telescope of the highest order of completeness and excellence constructed for the purpose of providing more ample instruction for University students in practical astronomy, and for original research. In the autumn of the same year, the University also accepted from Warren De La Rue, Hon. D.C.L. (afterwards M.A., New College), a large Reflecting Telescope, together with other astronomical apparatus, specially adapted for celestial photography, and other branches of astronomical physics. The Observatory now contains these instruments, together with others of smaller dimensions. The large lecture-room on the north side of the Observatory was added in 1877-8.

The Savilian Professor of Astronomy has charge of the Observatory, subject to the superintendence of a Board of Visitors, which consists of the Vice-Chancellor, the Proctors, the Astronomer Royal, the Director of the Cambridge University Observatory, the Radcliffe Observer, together with four other persons elected by the Congregation of the University for ten years. Mr. W. E. Plummer and Mr. C. A. Jenkins, both formerly of the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, are Assistant Observers.

THE NEW SCHOOLS.

The building in the High Street commonly called by this name was erected in 1876—1882, from the designs of the architect, Thomas Graham Jackson, M.A., sometime Fellow, and afterwards Honorary Fellow, of Wadham, at a cost exceeding £100,000. The builder was Mr. Albert Estcourt, of Gloucester; most of the carving in wood and stone was executed by Messrs. Farmer and Brindley, of London. The building was first used for the public University Examinations in Easter Term, 1882.

In addition to the lofty and spacious entrance-hall, forming the principal feature of the front towards High Street, the building contains two large writing-rooms, each capable of accommodating two hundred candidates, and a third affording space for one hundred and twenty candidates; eleven smaller rooms suitable for viva voce examinations; private rooms for the use of Examiners; offices for the Clerk of the Schools; lavatories and store-rooms; a porter's residence; and an extensive range of rooms in the basement.

All the University Examinations, except those involving laboratory practice, are held here, and the building is also available at times for Professors' lectures.

UNIVERSITY SERMONS AND PREACHERS.

SERMONS are preached before the University, two on each Sunday, in full Term; one on Christmas Day, Good Friday, Ascension Day, Lady Day, and the Festivals of St. Mark, of St. John Baptist, of St. Philip and St. James. There is also a Sermon at the several Assizes, and one in Latin, with the Litany and Holy Communion, at the beginning of Michaelmas, Hilary, and Easter Terms.

With certain exceptions specified below, the order of preaching is as follows.

1. The morning Sermons on Sundays in Term fall to the Dean and Canons of Christ Church, the Heads of Colleges, the five Divinity Professors, and the Professor of Hebrew, in the following order, which however the preachers are at liberty to vary by exchanging turns among themselves:—

|---------------|---------------------|-----------------------------|
| Christ Church | Trinity             | University                  |
| Magdalen      | Christ Church       | Exeter                      |
| New College   | Brasenose           | Christ Church               |
| Christ Church | Oriel               | Balliol                     |
| All Souls     | Regius Prof. Div.   | Jesus                       |
| Merton        | Margaret Prof. Div. | Christ Church               |
| Christ Church | Regius Prof. Hebr.  | Pembroke                    |
| Corpus        | Christ Church       | Worcester                   |
| Queen's       | Wadham              | Regius Prof. Past. Theology |
| Christ Church | Lincoln             | Regius Prof. Eccl. Hist.    |
| St. John's    | Christ Church       | Prof. Exeg. Script.         |

2. The other Sermons fall to Graduates in the order in which they were admitted to Regency as Masters of Arts or to the degree of Bachelor of Civil Law.

To these two rules the exceptions are as follow:—

1. The morning Sermons on Sundays in Lent belong to the second order above stated, not to the first; the Bampton Lecture Sermons, mentioned below, are delivered in the morning; the preachers on the mornings of Quinquagesima Sunday and the last Sunday after Trinity (on each of which days by a special benefaction a Sermon is preached from a limited number of texts upon Humility or upon Pride), of Whitsun Day, and of the Sunday before the Encænien, are appointed by the Vice-Chancellor; the morning Sermon on Trinity Sunday is preached by a preacher appointed by New College; and, if any of the festivals mentioned in the next sentence or an Assize Sermon fall on a Sunday, the exception in that case applies to the morning Sermon.

2. The Vice-Chancellor appoints the preacher for the afternoon of every Sunday in Lent<sup>1</sup> in full Term, of Whitsun Day, of Trinity Sunday (when by a special benefaction a Sermon is preached "upon Church Extension over the Colonies and Dependencies of the British Empire"), and of the Sunday before the Encænïa, and for the Assizes; the Sermons on Christmas Day, Good Friday, and Ascension Day fall to the Dean of Christ Church; the Sermon on Lady Day is preached by a preacher nominated by New College, the Sermons on the festivals of St. Mark and of St. John Baptist by Fellows of Magdalen, and the Sermon on the festival of St. Philip and St. James by a Fellow of Merton.

Each person receives two months' notice of his turn; if he decline to preach, no one but a Select Preacher can be his substitute. No person may preach before the University without the approval of the Vice-Chancellor, nor unless he is at least a Master of Arts or a Bachelor of Civil Law in the University of Oxford, or of Cambridge, or of Dublin.

All University Sermons are preached at St. Mary's Church, except those of the Dean of Christ Church, and of preachers of New College, Magdalen, and Merton, mentioned above, which are, or may be, delivered in the Cathedral and in the Chapels of those Colleges respectively.

In the form of Bidding Prayer before the Latin Sermons, before the Morning Sermon on the Sunday before the Encænïa, and before the Sermon at Assizes, are introduced the names of the

SELECT PREACHERS.

There are ten persons, called "Select Preachers," appointed to supply the place of those who decline to preach in their own turns. They are to be chosen out of the Doctors and Bachelors of Divinity and of Civil Law and the Masters of Arts of the University of Oxford, or of Cambridge, or of Dublin. Five are nominated yearly in November by the Vice-Chancellor, the Regius and the Margaret Professors of Divinity, and the two Proctors. Three members of this Board, of whom the Vice-Chancellor is to be one, must concur in each nomination; and the names are then submitted to Convocation for approval. The office is tenable for two years, which run from Michaelmas Term; and no one can be appointed again until after an interval of a year. The institution of Select Preachers was effected in 1804.

BAMPTON LECTURES.

In pursuance of the Will of the Rev. John Bampton, M.A., sometime of Trinity College, Canon of Salisbury, "Eight Divinity Lecture Sermons" are preached on as many Sunday mornings in Term, "between the commencement of the last month in Lent Term and the end of the third week in Act Term, upon either of the following subjects: to confirm and establish the Christian Faith, and to confute all heretics and schismatics—upon the divine authority of the Holy Scriptures—upon the authority of the writings of the primitive Fathers, as to the Faith and Practice of the primitive Church—upon the Divinity of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ—upon the Divinity of the Holy Ghost—upon the Articles of the Christian Faith, as comprehended in the Apostles' and Nicene Creeds."

The Lecturer, who must be at least a Master of Arts of Oxford or Cambridge, is chosen yearly by the Heads of Colleges on the fourth Tuesday in Easter Term. No one can be chosen a second time.

Thirty copies of the Sermons are to be always printed within two months after they are preached, and one copy is to be given to the Chancellor of the University, one to the Head of every College, and one to the Mayor of Oxford, and one is to be put into the Bodleian Library; and the Preacher is not entitled to the revenue of the endowment before they are printed.

The Founder died in 1751, but his bequest did not take effect until 1779, in which year the first Lecturer was chosen. The estate provided for the endowment now produces £200 to each Lecturer.

UNIVERSITY SCHOLARSHIPS.

CRAVEN SCHOLARSHIPS.

John Lord Craven of Ryton, by his Will dated May 28, 1647, directed that "out of the yearly rents and profits" of an estate purchased by him in Sussex £100 per annum should "be raised towards the maintenance of four poor Scholars," two at Oxford, and two at Cambridge, and that the surplus revenue of the estate should "be employed and bestowed for and towards the redemption of English Christian captives, prisoners in Algiers or in any other places under the dominion of the Turk." He died a few months afterwards, his Executor declined to act, and in December, 1648, his elder brother William Lord Craven of Hampsted-Marshall, (afterwards created Earl of Craven,) having been appointed Administrator, drew up certain regulations for the election of the Scholars, which were approved by Convocation in October, 1649. Those regulations, agreeably to the Founder's desire, allowed a preference in all cases to persons of his "kindred or name," but otherwise the Scholarships were awarded after an examination in classical learning, in which no Graduate could be a Candidate, nor any Fellow or Scholar of a College. Each Scholarship was tenable for fourteen years from matriculation, or until the Scholar attained to some "preferment of a double value." The electors were the Vice-Chancellor, the Regius Professors, and the Public Orator.

In 1661, William Lord Craven, with the consent of both Universities, transferred the estate, subject to the trusts created by his brother's will, to a body of Trustees, whose successors now hold it.

In March, 1819, it was determined by the Court of Chancery that the second part of the trust had come to an end from want of objects, and a Decree was made increasing the number of Scholars from four to ten, five for each University, and assigning to each Scholar an annual stipend of £50 for seven years from his election. Subsequently, the rents of the estate having improved, the stipends were increased to £75. And by a Decree of the Court of Chancery, together with a Statute of the University approved by the Queen in Council in 1858, the Foundation for Oxford, and the regulations concerning it, are now as follow.

The Scholarships are six in number, tenable for three years, with stipends of £80 a-year each. Two Scholars are elected every year in Act Term. Candidates must have passed the Second Public Examination in one School at least, and must not have exceeded the twenty-fourth Term from their matriculation. The election is made, after an examination in Greek and Latin scholarship, by three Examiners, whom the Vice-Chancellor, the Regius Professors, the Professors of Ancient History and of Latin, and the Public Orator are to appoint, either from among themselves, or from others who are at least Masters of Arts or Bachelors of Civil Law or Medicine.

RADCLIFFE'S TRAVELLING FELLOWSHIPS.

Dr. Radcliffe, the Founder of the Library which bears his name, bequeathed to University College an estate in Yorkshire charged with the payment of £600 per annum to "two persons, to be chosen out of the University of Oxford, when they are Masters of Arts and entered "on the Physic line, for the maintenance of the said two persons for "the space of ten years, and no longer, the half of which time at least "they are to travel in parts beyond sea for their better improvement;" and he provided them with chambers in that College. The first two Fellows were elected in July, 1715, less than nine months after the death of the Founder.

By an Ordinance of the University Commissioners under the Act of 1854, instead of two Fellowships with stipends of £300 a-year each for ten years, there are now three Fellowships, each of the annual value of £200, and tenable for three years only. Candidates need not be Masters of Arts or entered on the Physic line, but they must have passed all the Examinations required for the degree of Bachelor of Arts, and must either have been placed in the First Class in one at least of the Public Examinations of the University, or have obtained some University Prize or Scholarship open to general competition. Each Candidate must declare that he intends to graduate in Medicine in the University of Oxford with the view of engaging in the practice of Medicine, and to travel abroad with a view to his improvement in that study; and no one is to be elected who is legally authorised to practise as a Physician. But in case no person willing to make such a declaration shall offer himself as a Candidate, or no person of sufficient merit for election, the Fellowship then vacant is to be thrown open to all persons who have been placed in the First Class in the School of Natural Science, whether authorised to practise or not, and the person then elected is not to be required to make such declaration.

Candidates are to be examined in such subjects connected with Medical Science, and by such official persons in Oxford, as the Electors shall appoint.

The Electors are the same as for Radcliffe's Librarian, (see ante, page 123).

A Fellow forfeits his Fellowship by spending more than eighteen months within the United Kingdom.

VINERIAN SCHOLARSHIPS.

These have their endowment from the same Founder as the Professorship of English Law. Their number, and the amount of the stipends assigned to them, have been changed from time to time by Convocation according to the state of the Vinerian fund, which now amounts by accumulations to upwards of £18,500 in £3 per cent. Consolidated Annuities. For many years before 1854 there were two Fellows and five Scholars, each elected for ten years, and receiving stipends, the former of £50, the latter of £30, a-year. By a Statute made in 1853 it was enacted that in future there should be only one Fellow, elected at first for five years, but capable of being continued for five more, with an annual stipend of £100, and five Scholars, each elected for five years, with an annual stipend of £35.

A new Statute, approved by the Queen in Council in 1867, suppressed the Fellowship, and ordained that henceforth there shall be three Scholars, each elected for three years, with an annual stipend of £80. One Scholar, and one only, is to be elected every year in Lent Term. Candidates must be members of the University who have completed two years and have not exceeded six years from their matriculation.

The election is vested in a board consisting of the Vice-Chancellor, all the Professors of Law, and the Public Examiners in the School of Jurisprudence; who are to appoint for each election three examiners, including one at least of themselves. The subjects of examination are the Civil Law, International Law, General Jurisprudence, and especially the Law of England both public and private.

Each Scholar is to satisfy the Vice-Chancellor every year that he belongs to one of the Inns of Court, or at least that he is bona fide studying English Law.

DEAN IRELAND'S SCHOLARSHIPS.

Four Scholarships "for the promotion of Classical learning and taste" were founded in the year 1825 by John Ireland, D.D., of Oriel College, Dean of Westminster, the same munificent person who became afterwards by his Will the Founder of the Professorship of Exegesis. He gave £4000 in £3 per cent. Consolidated Annuities for their endowment.

One Scholar, and one only, is elected every year in Lent Term. Candidates must be Undergraduate Members of the University who have not exceeded the sixteenth Term from their matriculation.

Each Scholarship is tenable for four years, provided the Scholar keeps by residence two Terms in each year.

The Examiners, three in number, who must be at least Masters of Arts or Bachelors of Civil Law, are appointed for each election by the Trustees of the Foundation, namely, the Vice-Chancellor, the two Proctors, the Provost of Oriel, and the Dean of Christ Church.

ELDON LAW SCHOLARSHIP.

In the year 1830 the Subscribers to a Testimonial in honour of John, first Earl of Eldon, Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain for twenty-five years (1801—1806 and 1807—1827), resolved to establish a Law Scholarship with the moneys contributed, for the purpose of "recording Lord Eldon's connection with the Profession of the Law, and with the University of which he was so distinguished an ornament, and, at the same time, of conferring a real benefit, as well as a distinction, upon meritorious individuals, who may have to struggle with difficulties in the early part of their professional career."

The management of the fund, including the election of the Scholar, is vested in fifteen Trustees, who must be Subscribers, or descendants of Subscribers, and Protestants.

Candidates must be "Protestants of the Church of England, and Members of the University of Oxford, who, having passed their Examination for the degree of Bachelor of Arts, have been rated in the First Class in one branch at least at examination, or have gained one of the Chancellor's Prizes, and who intend to follow the Profession of the Law." In Bye-Laws passed in 1830, it is ordered that all applications be addressed to the Secretary (George Lewis Parkin, Esq., 5 New Square, Lincoln's Inn, London, W. C.), and that no application made by or on behalf of a Candidate to any individual Trustee be entertained.

The Scholarship is tenable for three years, running from June 4, Lord Eldon's birthday, provided the Scholar keep his Terms regularly at one of the Inns of Court. By a Bye-Law passed in 1854, it is provided that if the Scholar be called to the Bar, or commence practice under the Bar, he shall vacate his Scholarship.

Should the fund increase sufficiently by accumulations or otherwise, a second Scholarship is to be established on similar conditions.

BODEN SCHOLARSHIPS.

Four Scholarships "for proficiency in the Sanskrit Language and Literature" were established by Decrees of the Court of Chancery in 1830 and 1860, in order to carry into effect the purpose of the late Colonel Boden, stated in the article on the Boden Professorship of Sanskrit.

One Scholar is elected every year in Lent Term. Candidates must be Members of some College or Hall, who have not exceeded the twenty-fifth year of their age.

Each Scholarship is tenable for four years with an annual stipend of £50, payable half-yearly, provided the Scholar retains his name on the books of some College or Hall, keeps by statutable residence three Terms in each year, attends Lectures of the Professor, and makes sufficient proficiency in Sanskrit. Default in these conditions entails forfeiture of the Scholarship, or at least of some portion of the stipend.

The Electors are the Boden Professor of Sanskrit, the Regius Professors of Divinity, Hebrew, and Greek, the Laudian and Lord Almoner's Professors of Arabic, and the Professor of Latin, or any three of them; but they may appoint a deputy or deputies to act in their stead.

At first, until the expiration of an annuity of £100 given by the Founder's Will, there were but two Scholars.

MATHEMATICAL SCHOLARSHIPS.

Scholarships "for the promotion of Mathematical studies" were founded in the year 1831, a fund for their endowment having been raised by contributions from many of the Colleges and many individual Members of the University.

At first there were three, each tenable for three years, with an annual stipend of £50, and the Candidates were Members of the University who had passed the Examination for the degree of Bachelor of Arts and had not exceeded the twenty-sixth Term from their matriculation inclusively, one such Scholar being elected every year.

In 1844 a change was made, and a further change in 1864; and there are now four Scholarships, two Senior, and two Junior, with stipends of £30 a-year each.

One Scholar, and one only, in each of the two classes, is elected every year in Lent Term. Candidates for the Senior Scholarship must be such persons as were required at first: Candidates for the Junior Scholarship must be Members of the University who have not exceeded eight Terms from their matriculation inclusively.

The standing of Candidates who have matriculated at Cambridge or Dublin before matriculating at Oxford is computed from the date of such first matriculation, Easter Term at Cambridge or Dublin being reckoned as equivalent to Easter and Trinity Terms at Oxford.

Each Scholarship is tenable for two years, provided the Scholar has his name on the books of some College or Hall, and, in the case of a Junior Scholar, that he continues to attend to Mathematical studies. The Senior Scholar elected each year is to receive, for one year only, over and above his proper stipend, the dividends of that moiety of Dr. Johnson's fund which was formerly assigned to his Mathematical Scholar, and is to be called the "Johnson University Scholar." These dividends amount to about £20 a-year.

The Examiners, three in number, who must be at least Masters of Arts or Bachelors of Medicine or Civil Law, are appointed by the Trustees of the Foundation, namely, the Vice-Chancellor, the two Proctors, and the Professors of Geometry, Astronomy, Natural Philosophy, and Experimental Philosophy.

KENNICOTT SCHOLARSHIP.

Two Scholarships for the promotion of the study of Hebrew were founded by the Will of Anne Kennicott, widow of the celebrated Hebraist, Benjamin Kennicott, D.D., Canon of Christ Church. The Foundress died in 1830, and the property which she bequeathed for the endowment produced in 1831 the sum of £4800 in £3 per cent. Consolidated Annuities. Regulations were made by Convocation in 1831, according to which only one Scholar was to be elected in a year; candidates were to be Bachelors of Arts of some College or Hall in the University, who, at the time when a vacancy occurred, had not exceeded one year from the taking of that degree; and each Scholarship was tenable for four years under certain conditions of residence and exercises.

But, by a Statute which the University was specially empowered to make in 1863, there is now but one Scholarship; and this is tenable for one year only, during which the Scholar is to reside for seven weeks in Michaelmas Term, seven in Lent Term, and seven in Easter and Act Terms jointly. The election takes place in Act Term. Candidates must have passed the Examinations for the degree of Bachelor of Arts, and must not, on the day of election, have exceeded twenty-eight terms from their matriculation.

The Scholar is elected by the Regius Professor of Hebrew and two other Members of the University not under the degree of Masters of Arts, who are nominated by the Vice-Chancellor, subject to the approval of Convocation.

PUSEY AND ELLERTON SCHOLARSHIPS.

Three Scholarships for "the promotion of sound Theology through a solid and critical knowledge of Hebrew" were founded in the year 1832 by Philip Pusey, Esq., of Pusey in Berkshire; Edward Bouverie Pusey, D.D., Regius Professor of Hebrew; and Edward Ellerton, D.D., Fellow of Magdalen College. The endowment now produces a stipend of £55 a-year for each Scholar.

One Scholar, and one only, is elected every year in Act Term. Candidates must be Members of the University under the degree of Master of Arts or Bachelor of Civil Law, or, if of either of those degrees, not above twenty-five years of age.

Each Scholarship is tenable for three years, provided that in the first two years the Scholar resides seven weeks in each Michaelmas and Lent Term, and seven weeks in the Easter and Act Terms of one of the two years, and that during such residence he pursues his studies under direction of the Professor of Hebrew. In certain cases the Trustees of the Foundation may dispense with part of this residence.

The Electors are the Regius Professors of Divinity and Hebrew and the Lord Almoner's Professor of Arabic; or, in default of these, the Trustees appoint Electors.

The Trustees are the Vice-Chancellor, the President of Magdalen College, the Dean of Christ Church, the Warden of Wadham College, the Regius Professors of Divinity and Hebrew, and the Lord Almoner's Professor of Arabic.

JOHNSON'S SCHOLARSHIPS.

Two Scholarships, "one for the greatest attainment in Theology, and the other in Mathematics," were founded by John Johnson, D.D., sometime Fellow of Magdalen College, who bequeathed to the University the sum of £1200 for their endowment, directing that the money should be invested in £3 per cent. Consolidated Annuities, and that the dividends thereof should be applied "in the purchase of books on Theology and Classical Literature," and no part given in money. The bequest was accepted by Convocation in February 1833. Each Scholarship was made tenable for two years. Candidates were required to have passed the Examinations for the degree of Bachelor of Arts, and not to have completed the fifth year from their matriculation. But, by Statutes which the University was specially empowered to make in 1863, one moiety of the endowment was united with Mrs. Denyer's fund to maintain the Theological Scholarships described in the next article, and the proceeds of the other moiety are given annually in money to the Senior Mathematical Scholar of the year, who is called the "Johnson University Scholar."

The Examination took place in Easter Term. The Examiners, three in number, who were obliged to be at least Masters of Arts or Bachelors of Civil Law, were appointed by the Presidents of Magdalen and Trinity Colleges, the Dean of Christ Church, the Warden of New College, and the Provost of Queen's College.

DENYER AND JOHNSON SCHOLARSHIPS.

In the year 1863, by a Statute which the University was specially empowered to make, three Scholarships for the promotion of the study of Theology were established in lieu of Dr. Johnson's Theological Scholarship described in the last article and of Mrs. Denyer's Prizes for two Theological Essays described at page 177, and the joint revenue of those two foundations, amounting now to about £120, was appointed for their endowment. By a Statute passed in 1878, amending the before-mentioned Statute, the Scholarships were reduced to two, of the yearly value of £50 each. The Scholars are elected in the following way.

Any Bachelor of Arts, who has not exceeded twenty-seven Terms from his matriculation, may present himself for this Examination, which is holden every year in Hilary Term. The standing of Candidates who have matriculated at Cambridge or Dublin before matriculating at Oxford is computed from the date of matriculation at Cambridge or Dublin as the case may be, Easter Term in either of those Universities being reckoned as equivalent to Easter and Trinity Terms at Oxford. The Examiners, three in number, are nominated by the Electors of the Examiners in the Honour School of Theology, and must be Members of Convocation in Priest's Orders.

The subjects of the Examination are the Holy Scriptures, Dogmatic and Symbolic Theology, Ecclesiastical History, the Evidences of Religion, and Pastoral Theology, comprising the history of Liturgies, or at least the history of the Book of Common Prayer. Creditable knowledge of the Hebrew Text, of the Septuagint Version, of the writings of the Fathers, or of Ecclesiastical History has great weight.

The Scholarships are tenable for one year only.

HERTFORD SCHOLARSHIP.

On the dissolution of Hertford College, consequent upon the death of its last Principal in 1805, part of its property fell to the Crown; and in 1818 Letters Patent passed the Great Seal, granting some of this to the use of Magdalen Hall, but giving one portion, now represented by a sum of £1256 8s. 10d. Reduced £3 per cent. Annuities, to the University upon trust to pay the dividends, after the death of the Rev. Richard Hewitt, M.A., the only remaining Fellow of the College, to an Undergraduate chosen "by free competition and public examination" according to such Statutes as should be made by Convocation. Accordingly a Scholarship for the promotion of the study of Latin was established by Statute in 1834.

The Scholarship is tenable for one year only. The election takes place in Lent Term. Candidates must not have completed two years from their matriculation.

The Examiners, three in number, who must be at least Masters of Arts or Bachelors of Civil Law, are nominated by the Vice-Chancellor and Proctors, subject to the approval of Convocation.

TAYLOR SCHOLARSHIPS.

In furtherance of the object of Sir Robert Taylor, as stated in the Article on the "Taylor Institution," four Scholarships for proficiency in Modern Languages were established in the year 1857. They were tenable for two years. Two Scholars were elected every year, one for proficiency in German and in some other language taught in the Institution, the other for proficiency in French and in some other language taught there. Each received £25 a-year from the Taylor Fund. Candidates were not to have exceeded the age of twenty-four years at the time of the election. Under a new Statute made in 1869, one Scholarship worth £50 and one Exhibition worth £25, each tenable for one year, are awarded annually for proficiency in one or more of the languages taught in the Institution (a year's notice thereof having been given), in Comparative Philology as applied to the same, and in the literature of the selected language or languages.

Candidates must not have exceeded the twenty-third Term from their matriculation.

BURDETT-COUTTS SCHOLARSHIPS.

In the year 1860, Miss Angela Burdett-Coutts, afterwards Baroness Burdett-Coutts, daughter and heiress of the late Sir Francis Burdett, Baronet, having presented to the University "the Pengelly Collection" of Devonshire Fossils, proceeded to found two Scholarships for the promotion of "the study of Geology and of Natural Science as bearing on Geology," and gave £5000 in £3 per cent. Consolidated Annuities for their endowment.

Each Scholarship is tenable for two years. One Scholar, and one only, is elected every year in Lent Term. Candidates must have passed all necessary Examinations for the degree of B.A., and not have exceeded the twenty-seventh Term from their matriculation.

The Examiners are the Professor of Geology and two other Members of the University, of whom one must be a Professor; the two latter being nominated, subject to the approval of Convocation, by the Trustees of the Foundation, who are the Vice-Chancellor, the President of Magdalen College, and the Regius Professor of Medicine.

ABBOTT SCHOLARSHIPS.

Founded in 1871 from a bequest by John Abbott, Esq., of £6000 invested in £3 per cent. Consols.

The Trustees are the Vice-Chancellor, the Regius Professors of Divinity and of Greek, the Corpus Professor of Latin, the Savilian Professor of Geometry, the Sedleian Professor of Natural Philosophy. These appoint two or more members of Convocation to investigate the claims of candidates, and three or more Examiners for each election, which is held annually in Easter Term.

There are three Scholarships, tenable for three years, open to sons of clergymen of the Church of England who need assistance to enable them to have a University education. If matriculated, they must not have exceeded three Terms of residence, nor hold a Scholarship or Exhibition worth more than £50 a-year. Ceteris paribus natives of the West Riding of Yorkshire have the preference.

 1883 J. E. JELLY.

DERBY SCHOLARSHIP.

In 1872 Convocation agreed to found a Scholarship out of the dividends upon about £4300 invested in Government Securities in the name of the University, being the sum contributed in Lancashire in honour of the late Edward, Earl of Derby, K.G., Chancellor of the University.

The Trustees are the Lord Lieutenant of Lancashire, the Earl of Derby, the Chancellor, the Vice-Chancellor, the two Burgesses of the University, and the Dean of Christ Church, for the time being, together with the Right Hon. John, Lord Winmarleigh, so long as he shall be pleased to continue in the trust. These, after defraying necessary expenses from the dividends, pay the remainder to a member of the University, chosen by themselves, who has completed his twentieth and not exceeded his twenty-fourth Term from matriculation on the day fixed for receiving the names of Candidates.

Candidates must have obtained the following Academical distinctions:—1. A First Class in Litt. Gr. et Lat. at the First Public Examination. 2. A First Class in Litt. Hum. at the Second Public Examination; or A Second Class in Litt. Hum. at the Second Public Examination, together with two of the three Chancellor's Prizes, of which one must be that for Latin Verse. 3. Two out of the three Classical University Scholarships, viz. the Hertford, Ireland, and Craven Scholarships.

DAVIS CHINESE SCHOLARSHIP.

Sir John Francis Davis, Bart., K.C.B., F.R.S., D.C.L. (sometime H. M. Plenipotentiary in China), having in the year 1876 transferred the sum of £1666 13s. 4d. Consols to the University, for the purpose of endowing a Scholarship for the encouragement of the study of Chinese in such manner and subject to such regulations as the University should from time to time determine, the University, by a Statute passed in January 1877, enacted that there should be a Scholarship, called the Davis Scholarship, for proficiency in the Chinese language and literature, with an annual stipend of £50, payable terminally, open to all members of the University who, on the day of election, should not have exceeded the twenty-eighth Term from their matriculation.

The Scholar is elected by the Vice-Chancellor, the President of Corpus Christi College (or, if the President be Vice-Chancellor, the Senior Pro-Vice-Chancellor), and the Professor of Chinese, after an examination held by such persons as they may appoint for that purpose, the Professor himself being always one of the Examiners.

The Scholarship is tenable for two calendar years from the day of election, provided the Scholar keep a statutable residence of not less than seven weeks in each Term, Easter and Trinity Terms being reckoned as one, and pursue his studies in Chinese under the advice and supervision of the Professor.

If at the time of holding an election the Electors do not think any of the candidates worthy of the Scholarship, they have power to postpone the election for any period not exceeding two years, and, in such an event, to grant the annual stipend of £50, or any less sum, under the name of an Exhibition, to any person who shall be certified to them as desirous of pursuing the study of Chinese. The Exhibition is tenable during the period for which the election to the Scholarship shall have been postponed, and under the same conditions of residence and study as are applicable to the Scholarship.

Scholars.

1879 William Henry Wilkinson, Exhibitioner of Balliol
1881 William Coward Bradley, Scholar of Queen's 1883 COLIN CAMPBELL BROWN, Unattached Student, Exhibitioner.

UNIVERSITY PRIZES.

THE Subjects for all Prize Compositions are given out by the Vice-Chancellor, generally about Midsummer in each year ; and at the same time the several days are stated by which the respective Compositions are to be sent in to the Registrar. Each writer is required to send in his Composition under a sealed cover, and to conceal his name, distinguishing his Composition by what motto he pleases, and sending at the same time his name under another sealed cover with the same motto written on the outside.

Such portions of the successful Compositions for the Chancellor's, the Newdigate, the Stanhope, and the two Gaisford Prizes, as the Public Orator and the Professor of Poetry appoint, are read each year in the Theatre at the Commemoration of Founders and Benefactors.

All unsuccessful Compositions are left with the Registrar, and may be received from him at his office within the space of one year.

THE CHANCELLOR'S PRIZES.

LATIN VERSE. ENGLISH ESSAY. LATIN ESSAY.

The Earl of Lichfield, who was Chancellor of the University during 1762—1772, began the practice, since followed by his successors, of giving two annual Prizes of £20 each for Composition in Latin Verse and in English Prose ; and Lord Grenville, after his election to the same office in 1809, added a third Prize of the same value for Composition in Latin Prose, which has likewise been continued by the munificence of succeeding Chancellors.

The Prize for Latin Verse is confined to those members of the University who have not exceeded four years from their matriculation ; the other two Prizes to those who have exceeded four years but have not completed seven.

The Judges by whom all these Prizes were awarded were originally the Vice-Chancellor, the two Proctors, the Public Orator, and the Professor of Poetry. The Judges of Latin Verse and Latin Essays are now the Public Orator, the Professor of Latin, and three members of Convocation appointed by the Vice-Chancellor and the Proctors. The Judges of English Essays are the Public Orator, the Professor of Poetry, and three Members of Convocation appointed by the Vice-Chancellor and the Proctors.

ENGLISH VERSE.

SIR ROGER NEWDIGATE'S PRIZE.

Prizes for Compositions in English Verse were occasionally given many years ago by benefactors whose names were not proclaimed at the time and are not known now. Among others, Sir Roger Newdigate, Baronet, of Arbury in Warwickshire, D.C.L., of University College, sometime Burgess for the University, who died at a very advanced age in 1806, gave in the last year of his life a Prize for "a copy of English Verse of fifty lines and no more in recommendation of the study of the ancient Greek and Roman remains of Architecture, Sculpture, and Painting;" and by his Will he bequeathed the sum of £1000, (by which, when invested with accumulations, the sum of about £1550 in £3 per cent. Consolidated Annuities was purchased,) directing that £21 out of the dividends should be paid annually as a Prize for a similar poem, and that the surplus should help to form a fund for the improvement of the Master's Lodgings at University College. After the very inconvenient restrictions imposed by the Founder had been endured for seventeen years, 1810—1826, they were removed with the consent of his heir and representative; and from that time there has been no precise limitation either of the length of the Poems or of the range of the Subjects.

The Prize, like the Chancellor's Prize for Latin Verse, is confined to those members of the University who have not exceeded four years from their matriculation.

The Judges are the Public Orator, the Professor of Poetry, and three Members of Convocation appointed by the Vice-Chancellor and the Proctors.

ELLERTON THEOLOGICAL ESSAY.

In the year 1825 Edward Ellerton, D.D., Fellow of Magdalen College, in order to encourage theological learning, founded an annual Prize of £21, (which he secured upon an estate at Horspath in Oxfordshire,) for an English Essay "on some doctrine or duty of the Christian "Religion," or "on some of the points on which we differ from the "Romish Church," or "on any other subject of Theology which shall "be deemed meet and useful."

The Prize is open to all members of the University who have passed the Examination for the degree of B.A., and who have commenced the sixteenth Term from their matriculation for the space of eight weeks previously to the day appointed for sending in the Essays, and have not exceeded the twenty-eighth Term from their matriculation on the day on which the Subject of the Essay is proposed. The subject is to be given out in Act Term before the Commemoration, and the Essays are to be sent in on or before the first day of Easter Term.

The successful Essay is read in the Divinity School on some day appointed by the Vice-Chancellor in the week before the Commemoration.

The Judges, who appoint the Subject and award the Prize, are the President of Magdalen College and the Regius and Margaret Professors of Divinity. In case the President should be a layman the Master of University is to act in his stead.

DENYER THEOLOGICAL ESSAYS.

Mrs. Elizabeth Dennis Denyer, of Chelsea, widow, who died in 1824, bequeathed to the University the sum of £2000 in £3 per cent. Consolidated Annuities in order to found two annual Prizes of £30 each, for Sermons to be preached upon certain subjects, which were stated in her Will and arranged for a cycle of five years. But, as some of the conditions were inconsistent with the Statutes, the University declined to accept the legacy; which then escheated to the Crown. Upon this a memorial was presented on the part of the University; and on Feb. 5, 1835, King William IV, by Royal Warrant under his Sign Manual, granted the bequeathed stock, together with accumulations of interest, to the University, directing that the dividends should be annually paid in equal moieties as Prizes for two Theological Essays on subjects named in Mrs. Denyer's Will.

The Prizes were confined to Members of the University, in Deacon's Orders at least, who on the day appointed for sending in the Essays, had entered on the eighth and not exceeded the tenth year from their matriculation. But, by a Statute which the University was specially empowered to make in 1863, the Essays were discontinued, and the endowment, then amounting to £3000 stock, was assigned for the maintenance of the "Denyer and Johnson's Scholarships" described at page 155. The successful Essays were read in the Divinity School on some day in full Term appointed by the Vice-Chancellor.

The Judges, who both selected the Subjects and awarded the Prizes, were the Vice-Chancellor, the two Proctors, and the Regius and Margaret Professors of Divinity.

ENGLISH POEM ON A SACRED SUBJECT.

In January 1848 the University received the sum of £1000, given by an unknown benefactor through the hands of the late John Antony Cramer, D.D., Dean of Carlisle, sometime Principal of New Inn Hall, to found a Prize, to be awarded once in every three years, for an English Poem on a Sacred Subject, consisting of not less than sixty nor more than three hundred lines.

The Prize is open to all Members of the University who, at the time the subject is announced, have passed the Examinations for the degree of B.A. The Compositions are to be sent in by the 1st of December; and on the 1st of June following the Prize is to be adjudged, and the subject for the next Poem is to be announced, and the kind of Poem prescribed. The successful Poem is not recited, but the Author is required to send printed copies to the Chancellor, the Heads of Colleges and Halls, the Proctors, the Judges of the Compositions, the Professors, and the Bodleian Library.

The Judges, who also appoint the subject for the next Poem, are the Professor of Poetry, the Public Orator, and a third person chosen by them, who must be at least either a Master of Arts or a Bachelor of Civil Law or of Medicine.

ARNOLD HISTORICAL ESSAY.

In May, 1850, the University accepted the sum of £1816 6s. 1d. in the New £3½ per cent. (now New £3 per cent.) Annuities, (being the moiety of a fund raised by voluntary subscription in memory of the late Thomas Arnold, D.D., Regius Professor of Modern History, and Master of Rugby School, of which the other moiety had been expended in the erection of a new Library at Rugby School,) in order to found an annual Prize of £42, under the name of "The Arnold Prize," for "the encouragement of the study of History, Ancient and Modern." This Prize is awarded every year in Lent Term to an Essay on some Subject of Ancient or Modern History alternately, announced in the Lent Term preceding.

The Prize is open to all Graduates of the University who, on the day appointed for sending in the Compositions, have not exceeded the eighth year from their matriculation.

The Judges, who both appoint the Subject and award the Prize, are the Regius Professor of Modern History, the Regius Professor of Ecclesiastical History, and the Camden Professor of Ancient History. The Trustees or Managers of the Foundation, who are the Vice-Chancellor, the Provost of Oriel, the Warden of New College, and the President of Corpus, may make presents of books, on the recommendation of the Judges, to meritorious though unsuccessful Candidates.

THE CONINGTON PRIZE.

The University in 1871 accepted the sum of £1275, raised by voluntary contributions, in order to found a Prize in memory of the late John Conington, M.A., Corpus Professor of Latin.

The Prize is offered once in every three years for a dissertation, either in English or in Latin, at the writer's option, on some subject appertaining to Classical learning.

The Prize is open to all Members of the University who, on the day appointed for sending in the dissertation, shall have passed all Examinations required for the degree of B.A., and shall have completed six years and not exceeded fifteen years from their matriculation.

The Trustees are the Vice-Chancellor, the Regius Professor of Greek, the Corpus Professor of Latin, the Professor of Comparative Philology, the Professor of Latin in the University of Cambridge, and two other persons to be appointed by co-optation, who are at present E. C. Wickham, M.A., New College, and D. B. Monro, M.A., Provost of Oriel.

At the beginning of each triennial period the Trustees propose by public notice a Subject, or a choice of Subjects, for the dissertation.

CLASS LISTS.

Down to the end of the eighteenth century the Examination for the degree of Bachelor of Arts was little better than a mockery, and, if a Candidate shewed any superior attainments, there was no mark of honourable distinction that could be given to him. The first remedy for this state of things was applied by a Statute made in the year 1800, and the system then introduced has since received various amendments and improvements, of which those that relate to Honours may be stated here.

1. By the Statute of 1800, which came into operation in Michaelmas Term 1801, it was left to the option of each Candidate, whether he would offer himself for the ordinary Examination which was held in every Term, or for a more strict Examination in Easter Term, at which Honours were awarded according to the merits of the Candidates. At this Examination, those who most eminently distinguished themselves were to be classed as Candidates "qui se Examinatoribus Publicis MAXIME commendaverunt." Of these there could be no more than twelve; and, if more than that number appeared to the Examiners worthy of distinction, they were to be described as Candidates "qui se Examinatoribus Publicis EGREGIE commendaverunt." The names in each division were arranged in order of merit, and were published. The Candidates were examined in Mathematics as well as in Classics, and the Honours were awarded for attainments in both conjointly.

2. In 1807 two stated times for the Examination were appointed, one in Michaelmas, the other in Easter Term; and it was enacted, that all Candidates, whether for Honours or not, should be examined in one course in one or other of those Terms; that all who passed the Examination in either Term should be arranged in three Classes, in the first two of which should be placed, alphabetically in each, the names of those who passed with more or less distinction, the third Class comprising all the rest; that this Class List should be twofold, having one side for Literæ Humaniores or Classics, the other for Disciplinæ Mathematicæ et Physicæ or Mathematics; and that the names in the first two Classes should be published.

3. In 1809 the Second Class was divided into two by a line, the names above and below that line being placed in alphabetical order severally; so that, though nominally but two, there were really three Classes of honorary distinction.

4. In 1825 the name of "Third Class" was given to that which had been the lower half of the Second Class, that which had been the Third was entitled the "Fourth Class," and the number of the names in it was printed at the foot of the Class List.

5. In 1830<sup>1</sup> the number of Classes was increased to five, that which had been the Fourth being made the Fifth, and the first four being designed for honorary distinction. It was also provided that those who were not Candidates for Honours in the Classical School should be examined separately from those who were, the former being taken first, and that Mathematical Candidates should be examined first of all in either series. At the same time permission was given to the Examiners to place in the Fourth Class in Classics any Candidate whom they might think worthy of it, even though he had not offered himself as a Candidate for Honours; and, as a choice between Logic and four Books of Euclid was now allowed to those who were not Candidates for Honours, whereas Logic was before required from every one, that permission was understood as applying to the Fourth Class in Mathematics likewise. This enactment took effect in 1831.

6. The Statutes which established the present course of examination were accepted by Convocation in the years 1849, 1850, 1869, and 1872. To the old Classical and Mathematical Schools, the Schools of Natural Science, and of Law and Modern History were added in 1853, and the School of Theology in 1870. The School of Law and Modern History was divided into two Schools, one of Jurisprudence and the other of Modern History, in 1872. There are four Classes for each School corresponding in all respects to the first four Classes of the Statute of 1830. These Schools are now designated the six Honour Schools of the Second Public Examination. The examination of Candidates who do not seek Honours is conducted on an independent footing and by other Examiners. Beginning with the year 1883 the examination in each of the Honour Schools will be held once a year only.

The following pages exhibit the Lists of Honours and Classes which have been published by Public Examiners and Moderators from the first establishment of their several Examinations. After the year 1806 the names of those who issued each List are printed with it: the names of the Public Examiners for the previous years are given at page 193.

In the Lists issued by Moderators there were at first but two divisions of Honour for each of the two Schools of Classics and Mathematics; but from Michaelmas Term, 1854, there have been three. In each division the Candidates' names are placed in alphabetical order.

The notes at the foot of the pages are intended for the purpose of identification only, and are therefore limited to changes of College or of name and matters of that kind.

CLASS LISTS ISSUED BY PUBLIC EXAMINERS.

Although the word "Class" was not used in connection with the Public Examinations before the year 1807, the names of those who gained Honours in the preceding years are included under this heading; but their Honours are expressed in the terms which the Examiners employed in awarding them.

EXAMINATION FOR THE DEGREE OF BACHELOR OF CIVIL LAW.

The regulations for the examination of Candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Civil Law were revised in the year 1871. The examination is held once a year, in Trinity Term, and the names of those Candidates (not having exceeded the twenty-fifth Term from matriculation) who satisfy the Examiners are arranged alphabetically in three classes.

according to merit. The first examination under the new system was held in 1873, and the class-list of that and subsequent years will be found immediately after the class-lists of the Second Public Examination of Trinity Term in each year.

INDEX OF NAMES.

In this Index the following particulars require to be noticed.

Cl. is never used for Class, but always for Classics or Classical.

1 Cl., 2 Cl., &c., signify First Class, Second Class, &c., in Classics at the final Examinations. Cl. Exam. signifies an Examiner in the Classical School.

Math. is used for Mathematics or Mathematical.

Nat. Sc. is used in reference to the School of Scientia Naturalis or Physics; L. & H. in reference to the old School of Law and Modern History; Jur. in reference to the School of Jurisprudence; Hist. in reference to the School of Modern History; and Theol. in reference to the School of Theology.

B.O.L. is used in reference to the Examination for the Degree of Bachelor of Civil Law instituted in the year 1873.

1 Cl. Mod., 1 Math. Mod., &c., signify the Honours awarded by Moderators in their respective Schools.

The lower portion of the Second Class within the period 1809—1824 is indicated by the figure 3, as being really equivalent to a Third Class.

The surnames in the Class Lists, and consequently in this Index, are those which were given in to the Proctors before the several Examinations.
